CHAFFEY GIVES IT UP

Pleads Guilty to Having Been Receiver of Stolen Goods.

Promptly Sentenced to Ten Years In Prison.

End of the Case In Which Burglar Barrett Figured Conspicuously.

Boston, Jan. 1 .- James S. Chaffey, the receiver of $20,000 worth of the proceeds of William Barrett's burglaries, which included property stolen from more than More was manager and Mrs. E. W. Eaton 100 houses in the suburbs, surprised everybody by pleading guilty in the superior court yesterday.

Judge Gaskill promptly sentenced him to 10 years in state prison, the maximum penalty for the crime of receiving. He took his sentence calmly, and by dusk he was inside the walls of the Charlestown prison, a fellow-convict with his friend Barrett. The unexpected turn in the case caused a great deal of discussion in police and legal circles. Not the remotest sign that Chaffey had thrown up the sponge and determined to plead guilty escaped either the district atterney's office or the defendant's counsel.

The secret was closely guarded, for what reason is not known. Even people in the courtroom, outside of the court at-taches and police officers, did not know that Chaffey had determined to throw himself upon the mercy of the court.

Quickly Done. After all the preliminaries were arranged between the district attorney, the police and the lawyers, Deputy Sheriff Tyler brought Chaffey up from the Charles street jail to the court house yesterday afternoon. He remained in the prisoners' cage until about 4 o'clock, when he was called in and placed in the dock in the courtroom. His counsel, Melvin O. Adams and Jesse Gove, were on hand to represent him, and Assistant District Attorney McLaughlin appeared for the gov-

Clerk Manning did not read the long indictment alleging 17 counts of receiving stolen goods. "What do you say to the indictment?"

asked the clerk. Chaffey hesitated, and looked toward his counsel. They had to prompt him, and then, hesitatingly, Chaffey said, "Guilty." Colonel Adams at once started in to plead for a light sentence for his client. He maintained that Chaffey had been dragged into this affair out of pure friendship for Barrett, whom he had tried to aid with money and in other ways. He asked for justice, declaring that his client had never been sentenced for an offense of any kind.

The prosecution, through Mr. McLaughlin, reviewed the case. He asked the court to impose the extreme penalty. Judge Gaskill then, without any more ceremony, pronounced a sentence of 10 years at hard labor in the state prison. Chaffey was hurried at once out of court.

Chaffey's Career, Chaffey, an Englishman, 37 years old, lived with his wife at 31 Mt. Vernon street, Vest Roxbury. He tried to sell some for ign postage stamps at Trifet's store, 21 Bromfield street. Trifet recognized the stamps as ones he had sold to a son of Banker Kidder, of Peabody, Kidder & Co., and which had been stolen by a burglar seven years before. Trifet set a trap for the man, which he fell into, and Chaffey was turned over to a policeman. He confessed to receiving the stamps, with a lot more goods from New York, on receipts given him by Barrett, who had then been in prison a year on a life sen-tence for murder in killing James Farrar at Weston. The goods were recovered by Assistant Chief Inspector Dugan on information furnished by Chaffey himself.

The property was worth $20,000. ON BEACON HILL

Solons Are Preparing to Settle Down to Steady Business.

Boston, Jan. 1 .-- The great and general court convened today. The time-honored ceremonies were enacted, and tomorrow the governor and state officials will go through the annual ceremonies.

The proceedings today begun with the caucuses. The house Republicans met in the old representatives hall at 10 o'clock. The caucus was called together by the dean of the house, Mr. St. John of Haverhill. Speaker Meyer was unanimously renominated, and so were Chaplain Waldron and Captain Jack Adams.

The Democrats nominated McLaughlin for clerk, and endorsed Captain Adams for sergeant-at-arms. James Mellen of Worcester was chosen leader of the house. The house was called together at 11 o'clock by Representative St. John of Haverhill, and Rev. John R. Thurston of Northbridge made the opening prayer. The usual committee was appointed to notify the executive, followed by the administering of the oath. The senate proceedings were carried out with the old-time ceremonies. Tomorrow comes the great ceremony of all, the inauguration of the governor, lieutenant governor and council, the delivery of the governor's annual address, which forms the basis of much of the legislation of the year, and other interesting incidents.

A Protest.

It is very much the fashion at present to lay all troubles at home and abroad to President Cleveland's message in regard to Venezuela. Therefore the influx of air after five years' service. rifles which Christmas brought the city of Quincy may safely be laid to the charge of the President and no offence be given locally. That a protest against these dangerous playthings is in order, will be understood after describing their effect upon a certain locality. Indeed, it was some days before Christmas that one of a couple of tame pigeons became the victim of the air-rifle and the young Herod who slaughtered the pretty innocent carried it off "to make a pie," while lookers on devoutly hoped a vigorous attack of stomach-ache would follow the eating. Window-glass having an attraction for the small boy it was no surprise to find certain stable-windows well riddled with shot.

Perhaps what suggested Venezuela to the writer's mind, was finding a dozen boys arrayed against each other. The fact that they aimed at one another was probably what saved any being hit. One boy did get a rap on the leg. The howl that immediately rose from him proclaimed him alive, but the force of the bullet was proved by the fact that it stung through underflannels and stockings. But matters assumed a more serious form a few days ago, when one child hit another in the corner of the eye with force enough to make quite a scratch.

In view of all this it is suggested in the kindest spirit, that as Santa Claus has been declared a myth, over indulgent parents must be suspected of inflicting this grievance upon the public and if they really wish to foster the war-like spirit in their sons, or give them "the pleasure of killing live creatures for fun," the exercises be confined strictly to private premises and under the parent's oversight. There is not reported: the least question in the writer's mind that the law should protect from dangerous weapons in the hands of children as well as in those of adults. Until this is realized would it not be well to play a game sug-Daisy and Demi institute what they term a year. "sackerryfice," having overheard in school descriptions of ancient customs. They cast into the fire their chief treasures and paper dolls and leaden soldiers were quickly consumed. May the cremation of the dangerous air rifle speedily take place and may its ashes repose in peace!

The family of Harry Lakin on Robertson street had a narrow escape from death by suffocation by coal gas Monday night. In the house at the time were Mr. and Mrs. Lakin, their infant child, and Miss Lizzie Ring. Miss Ring was awakened in the vicinity of 3 o'clock but was unable to help herself, but had presence of mind enough to cry out, which aroused Mr. Lakin, who with an effort managed to open a window, and in a few moments all had recovered but the baby, and it was some time before it was brought back to life. The trouble was caused by the high wind blowing the deadly gas down the chimney.

St. Francis Court, No. 25, M. C. O. F., held its fifteenth annual concert and ball Tuesday evening, at St. Mary's hall, and the only regret is that a larger hall could not have been obtained.

Suspended from the ceiling near the platform was a large motto reading M. C. O. F., 1880 Welcome 1895; " and streamers of colored bunting were suspended from the centre to the sides and ends of the hall. Two new electric chandeliers had been added to the lighting service of the hall which brightened the effect.

The members with their guests and ladies began to arrive early, and at 9 o'clock at the conclusion of the promenade concert, there was barely room to move

A few moments later the first notes of the grand march, which was to open the ball, sounded and Chief Ranger W. P. Hughes and Mrs. Hughes led followed by sixty or more couples. At the conclusion of the march the ball commenced in earnest and '96 was well on its way when the last notes of the ball had died away, the only interruption in the festivities being at intermission, when Caterer Wales served a tempting supper in the lower hall.

Chief Ranger W. P. Hughes was chief marshal, Vice Chief Ranger J. L. Heaney was floor director, and these were assisted by John Vogel, Thomas F. Ferguson, Adam Vogel, J. L. Fennessey and M. J. Daley, and a large corps of aids.

Dr. Joseph M. Sheahan officiated as chairman of the reception committee and he was ably assisted by many members of the court.

Among the invited guests were: John A. Avery, James McGovern of the High standing committee; J. W. McAnarney of the Knights of Columbus; Chief Engineer Peter J. Williams; P. J. Burke of St. pays Gregory court; James Cotter Stoughton court; J. Callahan, Sherwood court; T. F. Crown, St. Peter's court; J. E. Tracey, this Gen. Sherman court; R. C. Sheahan, Avon court; Edward Powers, Division 5, A. O. H; J. O'Dowd, Division 4, A. O. H; Richard Cole, St. John's C. T. A. John Galvin St. Mary's C. T. A. and effe George Berry, Granite lodge, M. Miss Nel ie Mand Thompson.

Former Principal at Wollaston Weds

The marriage of Miss Nellie Maud Thompson, daughter of Mr. John Thompson of Arlington street, Wollaston, and Mr. Howard Greenleaf Kingman, formerly master of the Wollaston school and now of the Haverbill public schools, was solemnized at the Wollaston Congregational church on Friday afternoon at a quarter before five o'clock. hose who are puzzling

The church was filled with the guests the bride leaning upon the arm of her brother, Mr. William J. Thompson, and proceeded down the left aisle where were waiting the groom and his best man, Mr. Harry W. Keith of Whitman, and the Rev. Edward A. Robinson, pastor of the church, who performed the ceremony.

The bride was gracefully gowned in white brocade silk, en train, with pearl stirring, strong and wise. So great a privitrimming and tulle veil. She carried a bouquet of La Bride roses.

Miss Mary A. Worster of Quincy, the maid of honor, was costumed in pink muslin over pink trimmed with flowers, and carried pink Catherine de Mermet roses. A pretty feature of the wedding was the little bridemaid, Marjorie Thompson, four years old, a niece of the bride, who carried flowers.

The groomsmen were Mr. Herbert A. Thompson of Wollaston, Mr. Walter Richards of East Bridgewater, Mr. Levi Nichols and Mr. Charles A. Tanner of Wollaston.

Mr. and Mrs. Kingman left immediately after the ceremony for Haverhill, where they will reside.

Senator Darling and Representatives Thompson, Newcomb and Flint.

The Massachusetts Legislature is again today at 11 o'clock. This senatorial district is represented by the Hon. Francis W. Darling of Hyde Park, and the Quincy-Weymouth Representative district by James Thompson and Thaddeus H. Newcomb of Quircy, and Hon. James H. Flint of Weymouth.

It is not new business for Senator Darling and Representative Flint. Both have served faithfully and well and have been returned by their constituents with flattering endorsment.

Mr. Thompson is one of the city's leadng granite manufacturers, being president of Quincy. He is heartily in sympathy with any legislation which will increase the prosperity of our industries and our people and his constituents would be pleased to see him chairman of the Committee on Manufactures. He is also prominent in financial circles, being a director of the National Granite bank, one of the incort Says $2,000 Would trustees of the Presidents Hill Real Estate done better. Trust, etc. For four or five years he served in the City Council of Quincy, and forty of which have been passed in Quincy where he commands the confidence and trust of his fellow citizens generally. Representative Newcomb will be among the senior members of the Great and that they may join our Union. General Court, being in his 70th year. While we hear a great deal nowadays about bringing the young men to the front the State need much of the mature judgment of such gentlemen as Mr. Newcomb. As a critic of the Council of 1891 said: "He seldom avails himself of the privilege to speak, and makes no claims to orator, but few members make statements as clearly and honestly. He impresses his hearers with belief that he has given the subject mature consideration." Mr. Newcomb is a thorough Republican but in no sense a politician. Years ago he was prominent in the old Whig party and has since served on Republican committees. His service in the City Council was a long and honorable one and was only severed at his request. He was born in Quincy, and up to his retirement recently has been engaged in the granite business. In his earlier days he was a constable and a fireman. He served in the civil war and rose to the rank of lieutenant in the 42d Mass. Vols. For nineteen months he was ions are received today and in a rebel prison. of Derby, England. Their addresses were church which was well represented. Owing to the necessary haste in securing these the convention in Boston, your President had no time to enlist other helpers, and had to make the preparations unaided.

In September we met with the society of the Memorial Congregational church, Atlantic. The Rev. Edward Kelley, of the Golden Rule office, was the speaker, and gave an earnest and refined appeal to our consciences. The Centre Congregational and Presbyterian societies were present in goodly numbers.

the Quincy Point Congregational society, the speaker being the Rev. Daniel Evans, of East Weymouth. Seldom have we listened to an adress of more sustained eloquence. The Centre Congregational society was the only one having any conin session, the new legislators assembling siderable number in attendance, beside the local society.

One special meeting was held, in December, in the Presbyterian church, the Rev. John G. May being the speaker, and the subject, "Italian Mission Work."

The societies were conspicuous for their absence, and the desired increase of knowledge of this most important work

This leads to the statement that the Union at the Atlantic meeting undertook the expenses of the car fares of the Rev. Mr. May, who comes from Boston twice a week to conduct services in of the Granite Manufacturers' Association Italian in the third ward. The Presbyterian church is furnished free of charge for these meetings. A missionary committee was appointed (one from each society, with your speaker added as chairman.) The committee acted slowly, but finally, chiefly through pledges secured by the members from the Centre Congregational society, the amount necessary to porators of the Quincy Savings bank, a date, with a small balance, was raised. The reports of the secretary and treasurer, and of the committees will give other facts of our part-of-a-year's work. I allude to the social held in this chapel in October, only that I may personally thank the Social Committee, and especially Mrs. Alfred Baxter and the chairman, Mr. Alex Clark, for that delightful evening. I acknowledge with thanks, the excellent work of our secretary, Miss Maria Drew and of our treasurer, Mr. Walter Sampson. Let

The report of the chairman of the Lookout Committee, Mr. W. P. Bailey, was very important, detailing the work of organized efforts in the No-license cause throughout the coming year.

It is thought that the members of the Union will also become largely enrolled in the membership of the Sabbath Protective League.

nation, Mr. Albert Hayden, of the Centre Congregational church, was unanimously elected to that office. The efficient secretary and treasurer were re-elected. THE BEST POSSIBLE SERVICE. Henry L. Kincaide & Co. AUCTIONEERS.

TIRRELL'S BLOCK, QUINCY, apri plo ly

A General Invitation is Extended to All Citizens to Attend.

The arrangements for the inaugural banquet complimentary to Mayor Charles Francis Adams, 2d, on Monday evening, Jan. 6, are about completed. It will be held at Faxon hall and will be served at 8 o'clock by Caterer Blunt of Boston.

After supper there will be a smoke talk and post prandial exercises at which W. G. A. Pattee, Esq., will probably preside. Among the invited guests who will be present are all of the ex-Mayors of Quincy and Col. Henry A. Thomas, private secretary of Gov. Greenhalge.

As it has been impossible to extend individual invitations to all who would desire to attend, it is announced that all who wish can procure tickets at $1.25 each at C. C. Hearn's drug store, or the committee, Mr. Joseph T. French and Mr. Walter B. Wilson.

Christmas Missionary Service.

The First Presbyterian church, Water street, was filled on Sunday evening when the Young People's and Junior societies of Christian Endeavor conducted the beautiful Christmas missionary service sent out by the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions.

Mrs. Murdock Lamont led in the responsive reading.

Masters Arthur Foster, Daniel McInnis and Arthur Phillips recited the verses of the three kings, and Misses Gracie Craig, Maggie Milne, Effie Walker, Bella Michael, Harriet Bevan, Jessie Beattie, Maggie Malcolm, Jessie and Alice Milne, Gertrude Foster and Katie McDonald responded, telling of the progress of the gospel in China, Japan, Siam, Laos, Persia, Syria, Africa, South America and other coun-

Then, instead of an address, the Y. P S. C. E. continued the services by speeches and readings on " Missions" by Mr. John McLeod, Miss Bessie McMillan, Mr. Thomas Bishop, Mrs. James Milne, Mr. John Gillis, Mrs. Angus McNeil, Mr. Alfred Bishop and Mrs. Robert Westly Peach. Christmas missionary carols were sung during the services, led by the choir. The service was one of great in-

Not Without Its Humorous Side.

St. Louis, Dec. 31.-For several weeks past, a big, burly negro has been stealing all sorts of things from the butchers and hucksters at the Union market house, but he always escaped arrest, and the tenants of the market became exasperated over their losses. Yesterday the negro was seen carrying off two horse blankets, and the cry of "Lynch him!" arose. A crowd of angry men seized him, bound his wrists, put a rope around his neck and strung him up by a block and tackle hanging up. While the negro's tongue was protrud-ing from his mouth and his eyes bulging from their sockets, he made a violent struggle, broke the cord which bound his arms, and before the mob realized what he was doing, he whipped a big knife from his pocket, cut the rope, dropped to the ground and ran off. He was chased and overtaken by the mob, but he turned with his big knife and showed such desperate fight that the crowd halted and wavered, and the negro escaped in an alley.

Both Towns Want It.

AMESBURY, Mass., Dec. 31. - Formal notice has been sent to the trustees of the late millionaire, John W. Hilton's estate, by the Amesbury selectmen, announcing their intention of claiming the bequest of $50,000 for the poor of East Salisbury. Selectman Evans of Salisbury says that the entire amount should go to that town. The old town of East Salisbury is now part of Amesbury. Salisbury's claim will be that-had Mr. Hilton cared to change his will-there was ample time after the town changes went into effect.

-Mr. S. H. Warren of Weston, Mass. has shipped to Italy two hundred potted Marshall strawberry plants. He says there is no doubt of their reaching their destination in good condition.

Report of Another Contract Has Not Yet Been Confirmed

But Rumors Are Believed to Have Foundation.

Syndicate Contract Sald to Be Awaiting the Government's Acceptance.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—There are no new developments in Washington in the matter of a new bond issue, and the opinion now prevails that it may be postponed for a number of days yet.

The cessation of large withdrawals of gold for export and the fact that one or more orders have been placed for gold shipments from abroad are important factors in the question of an early issue.

On the other hand, the almost daily an-nouncement from the sub-treasury at New York that considerable quantities are being withdrawn in redemption of legal tenders would seem to justify prompt action on the part of the president. These redemptions, it is said, are undoubtedly asked for for the purpose of accumulating a supply of gold with which to purchase bonds when they shall have been placed on the market by the syndicate, and as they now aggregate considerably more than $5,000,000 since the forthcoming issue became a settled fact, their early discontinuance has become a matter of the first importance.

This can be accomplished, however, only through the operations of the syndicate, and it is argued, therefore, that the interests of the government lie in a prompt announcement of the issue. What would be the result of these conflicting interests is not now apparent.

The report from New York to the effect that the members of the new syndicate have entered into an arrangement by which the government is to be at once furnished with $100,000,000 in gold, and later on, at its option, with $100,000,000 in addition, cannot be verified at this time.

It is the general opinion, however, that this arrangement for an additional contingent amount was made with the ap proval of the president, who is anxious that this issue shall be the last during his term of office. It is believed further that the conditions as to the procurement of a part of the gold from abroad and that no part of it shall be withdrawn from the treasury are made parts of the new con-

The forthcoming monthly treasury statement will show an excess of receipts over expenditures for the month of December of about $542,000, which is a gain over November of about $1,800,000. The heavy payments on account of interest, pensions and Pacific bond redemptions during January are expected to result in a large deficit for that month. The deficit for the present fiscal year ending June 30, 1896, is expected to be approximately $17, 000,000.

These figures, however, are based upon the assumption that the receipts from customs will materially increase during the next three months, as is usually the

Ready to Furnish Gold.

A dispatch from New York says that a contract was signed yesterday by all the members of the new bond syndicate, subject to the formal acceptance of the government.

The syndicate agree to furnish 11,500,000 ounces of gold, amounting to about $200,-000,000 gold, the government to take onehalf of this sum first and to have the option of taking the other half, and to deliver 4 per cent 30-year coin bonds at about the same price as paid for the last issue of bonds; the managers of the syndicate to receive a commission of 1 per cent.

The dispatch further says: The most interesting piece of news in financial circles (next to the report that a contract had been signed by J. P. Morgan & Co. for a new government loan) was the announcement that Lawson, Weidenfeld & Co. had offered $500,000 in gold from Lonand that it will leave on Saturday. It is understood that the gold is imported for the purpose of paying for some of the new government bonds to be issued. Every one down town when questioned about a bond issue professed absolute ignorance on the subject, but on every hand it was said that when a new loan is made. one of the stipulations with subscribers to whom bonds are allotted will be that part of the gold to be received in payment therefor must come from abroad, and another will be that none of the gold so received has been taken from the United States treasury for the purpose. A curious thing in connection with the importation of gold by Lawson, Weidenfeld & Co. is that bankers who sold them the exchange on which to import the gold will have to export gold to cover their bills.

It was reported that J. P. Morgan & Co. did not receive any subscriptions to the government bond syndicate after 3 o'clock, because the applications had amounted to $150,000,000 at that time.

It was also reported that the syndicate in the first instance was made up by J. P. Morgan & Co., the City National bank, the Hanover National bank and a German bank; that Messrs. Morgan & Co. would take $50,000,0000, the City and Hanover National banks $25,000,000 between them and the German house $25,000,000. Other banks and institutions are to be allowed to participate at a price in what is virtually to be a blind pool, the four members of the syndicate mentioned handling the bonds Further proof was received of the orders given by London bankers to claim gold for all coupons payable in gold due on Jan. 1, and remit the gold, or, as in some cases, retain it subject to order. In event of non-payment in gold, protest thereof is to be made. Many bankers also received similar instructions from interior banks with regard to coupons of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and other companies falling due on Jan. 2. These banks, some of them in Pennsylvania, instructed their agents here to remit the gold to them by express. Bullion dealers yesterday bid % cent premium for gold, but could obtain none at that price. The lowest offers made were at 11/4 cents premium, and at that rate one foreign house said it could be imported at a profit. It was announced at noon that the gold shipped from this city to London today had been purchased for American account in London and would be returned on the same steamer. The price paid was half penny an ounce higher than the Bank of England's bid. In the Senate.

The senate held a two hours' session and a resolution was passed for the investigation by the committee on naval affairs of the prices paid by the government for ship armor. The most important feature of the session, perhaps, was a resolution offered by Mr. Sherman for the restoration of the gold reserve, which thereafter, it was provided, should be held sacred for the re demption of the greenbacks and treasury notes, the former to be reissued only in exchange for gold coin and bullion. Mr. Sherman will address the senate on his resolution on Friday.

Mr. Elkins asked for the immediate consideration of a resolution declaring it to be the sense of the senate that no bonds of the United States should be sold at private sale or by private contract, but should be disposed of by advertisement to the highest bidder. Mr. Hill of New York objected. Mr. Nelson (Rep., Minn.) made his first speech in the senate advocating higher duties as a remedy for financial Revenue and Bond Bills to Be Considered Senator Morrill, the new chairman of the senate committee on finance, said yesterday that a meeting of that committee would be called tomorrow to take up the house revenue and bond bills. Mr. Morrill expressed the opinion that the bond bill would be given precedence in the committee, but declined to express an opinion as to how speedily it might be disposed of or in what shape it might be reported.

There would have been a meeting of the committee yesterday, in accordance with Senator Voorhees' original plan, but for the expressed wish of the Republican members of the committee, who requested Mr. Voorhees to allow the meeting to be postponed until after the reorganization takes effect. It is believed it will be satisfactory to the Democratic members of the committee to have the bond bill receive first consideration in committee. Senator Jones (Ark.), who is a leading Democratic member of the committee, yesterday expressed a preference for prior consideration of the bond question.

A Repentant Sinner.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 1 .- David Crockett Boggs, who was tax collector of Wyandotte county, Kan., in 1859, and who suddenly disappeared in that year with a shortage of about $5000, returned to Kansas City yesterday voluntarily to make good his shortage. Boggs' father was gov-ernor of Missouri in 1834-36. When he disappeared he entered the Confederate army. At the close of the war he went to Colorado and engaged in the stock business. He never communicated with his family, and all of them who are now living supposed that he was dead. Boggs' residence is now at Montrose, Colo. returned to Kansas City solely in order to make good his shortage, having made a fortune. He desired, he said, to die with a clear conscience, and as he was old, asked that he be not made to suffer for his youthful misdoings. His wish will doubtless be granted.

Sticks to Original Story.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1 .- Mrs. Mary Abbott Davidson, who brought the charges of improper intimacy against Rev. Dr. Brown, is still in the city prison. Her attorney says the dispatches about Mrs. Davidson's eastern record and her imprisonment in Massachusetts made it practically impossible to obtain bail for his client, although the bail had been reduced to $2000. Mrs. Davidson, in an interview yesterday, reiterated her charges against Mr. Brown. Mrs. Davidson also says she will make further sensational accusations during her trial, involving several prominent members of the First Congregational church, male and female, in scandal similar to that in which she implicated the pastor.

Uprising Threatened.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 1.—The steamer Danube reports great excitement at Sitka over the murder of a young brave of the Killisnoo tribe, and the arrest of two sailors of the U S. S. Wolcott, with two miners and 13 Indians, in connection with the crime. The Killisnoo tribe are not satisfied with the tardy operations of the law, and menace the safety of Sitka, where they are gathered in angry parties, threatening vengeance on the white inhabitants.

A Lively Shooting Match.

VICTOR, Colo., Jan. 1.—In the Union theater last night. Proprietor George Smith became involved in a quarrel with a man named Ferguson, who, he claimed, was one of a party that had threatened to clean out the place. Inside of 15 minutes fully 50 shots were fired, and when the fusilade ended Smith and a bystander named Tom Pascoe were dead and Ferguson mortally wounded.

Morton In the Field.

ALBANY, Jan. 1.-Governor Morton will announce in a very few days that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency. In the last three weeks he has had many separate conferences with prominent Republicans from all parts of the state, and the result of these meetings is his determination to become a candidate.

No Chance For Trial.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 1 .- Andrew Brown, a negro ex-convict and cattle thief in Simpson county, attempted to sell three fat cattle at Westville, and was arrested. A constable started with him to a justice of the peace, but on the way he was taken from the officer by a mob, swung to a tree and riddled with bullets.

Doyle's Shortage.

ALBANY, Jan. 1 .- The expert appointed by the fish and game commission to examine the accounts of ex-Secretary Doyle submitted a partial report yesterday, showing the ascertained shortage on completed examinations to be $13,108; less amount returned by the late secretary, $7928; balance due to state, $5180.

Facing Starvation.

St. John's, N. F., Jan. 1.-Much distress prevails at White Bay, and the people are subsisting on sea birds and seals, while others are eating the seed potatoes reserved for next spring's crop. The government is urged to take measures to relieve them, or starvation may result in many cases

Four Brothers Cremated

PITTSBURG, Kan., Jan. 1.-Near Frontanac, four brothers, Robert, John, Willlam and Arch McFadden, were burned to death in their house while asleep. They were 18, 16, 19 and 11 years old, respectively, and the two eldest were miners. There are hints of foul play.

BURGHERS WILL RESIST

All Attempts at British Invasion of Their Adopted Country.

Dr. Jameson Makes a Most Startling Move.

His Entry Into Transvaal Territory Causes Alarm In England.

LONDON, Jan. 1-The Morning Post publishes a dispatch from Vienna saying tnat a telegram from Pretoria, capital of the Transvaal, states that an armed force of the British South Africa company, numbering 800 men and armed with maxim and other guns, is reported to have entered the Transvaal.

The telegram further states that the British forces have already reached the vicinity of Rustenberg, and are advancing apon Johannesberg. On learning of the news, President Kruger of Transvaal ordered that a further advance of the invaders should be prevented by force of arms, and he issued a proclamation calling upon all burghers to defend the country. An armed conflict, as a result of the appeal, is inevitable.

A dispatch from Cape Town says: "Consequent upon a letter signed by the leading inhabitants of Johannesberg, which was sent to Dr. Jameson, at Mafeking, on Saturday, Dr. Jameson, on Sunday prossed the states. The internal policy of government has incensed not only the Uitlanders, but a large number of Boers, while its external policy has exasperated the neighboring states to the exent of endangering the peace and independence and the preservation of the re public. The people here only desire fair play and the maintenance of independence and the presence of those public liberties without which life is not worth living. The government denies these things and violates the national sense of Englishmen at every turn.
"We must consider what must be the condition of things in the event of an armed conflict. Thousands of unarmed men, women and children of our race will be at the mercy of the well-armed Boers, while property of enormous value will be in the greatest peril. We all feel that we are justified in taking any steps to prevent the shedding of blood and to insure the protection of our rights.

"It is under these circumstances that we feel constrained to invoke your aid. Should a disturbance arise here the circumstances are so extreme that we cannot but believe that you, and the men under you, will not fail to come to our rescue. We guarantee any expense you may reas onably incur in helping us, and ask you to believe that nothing but the sternest necessity has prompted this appeal."

Is Jameson Justified?

The Times thinks that the letter hardly justified Dr. Jameson's startling move. But it will be necessary, The Times continues, to wait for further news before judging his action. If he were satisfied that nothing but immediate and decisive intervention on his part could save a great British community from armed violence, his conduct will be approved here. It may have been technically incorrect but the sense and feeling of the nation will recognize that technicalities could not have been suffered to stand in the way where the lives and property of thousands of their fellow citizens were at

Mr. Chamberlain's action indicates, how ever, that no adequate justification exists for Dr. Jameson's apparent breach of the law of nations. It was known in official circles vesterday that in the course of the day Mr. Chamberlain had wired Dr. Jameson, ordering him to delay to the company's territory. It cannot be supposed that such a step would have been taken had the colonial office seen the reason to believe that the orderly British subjects of Johannesberg were in immediate danger. Until they have strong grounds for entertaining such fears, it is their obvious duty to prevent any infringe ment by the chartered (South Africa) company of the rights of friendly states.

The adoption of this course manifestly places a serious responsibility upon the shoulders of the colonial office. It is believed that the Boer forces have been mobilized under General Joubert, and that an explosion is possible at any moment.

Mr. Chamberlain is believed to have addressed himself to President Kruger as clearly and as firmly as to Dr. Jameson He called upon the Boer leader to do his utmost to prevent hostilities, and has offered Great Britain's aid to promote a peaceful settlement. A special article to The Times says:

No statement has yet been issued by the government, but it is understood that President Kruger has informed High Commissioner Robinson at Cape Town that a rumor had reached him of an invasion of the Transvaal, and asking him whether this step had been taken with his (Robinson) permission. Governor Robinson replied that he had heard a similar rumor, but that he had no knowledge of the case, and that if it was true, Dr. Jameson must have acted on his own responsibility. He had, however, dispatched messengers to the frontier to recall any force that might have been moved.

The Times understands that Dr. Jame son's force is well provisioned for a four days' march, and supposes that the wires have been cut, so that it is impossible for telegrams to reach him. It will probably take him four days to reach Johannesberg and the opposing forces. It is esmated that the Boer forces, well armed.

Newspaper Comment.

The Chronicle says: If true, Dr. James son's action indicates a degree of political recklessness which will go far to strip the organizer of the victory over Lobengula of the laurels he won in Matabeleland. Our hands must not be forced by mere land piracy, which may bring upon us, without any fault of the imperial government, all the troubles and dangers of another Boer war. The Daily News says: It may give a death blow to British interests. It is a mad act, as well as a wrong one, and if the statement is not a mere stock market rumor, Dr. Jameson will justly be regarded as one of the worst filibusters of modern times.

The Standard says: If it is true, it is most regrettable, and is a most serious aggravation of the compli

Governor Greenhalge Assumes Reins of Office For the Third Time.

BOSTON, Jan. 2.-The legislature of 1896 organized by the re-election of the last year's several officers in both branches, except that in the senate, George P. Lawrence of Berkshire succeeds William M. Butler as president, and that the house elects a Republican clerk in place of Edward A. McLaughlin (Dem.) who has held the position for 13 years, having previously had experience as an assistant to George A. Marden.

Everything went according Ito the custom of many years, the only deviation being the defeat of Mr. McLaughlin and the election of Mr. Sleeper as clerk of the house. This was in the nature of a genuine surprise, inasmuch as it was the opinion of all persons whose opinions heretofore have been considered of weight that the Sleeper movement had no backing.

But those who thought that Mr. Mc-

Laughii. would be re-elected reckoned without the A. P. A., which organization is to be credited with the new departure, although a contempt for "snivel services reform," as the leader of the Sleeper forces called it, incidentially had perhaps something to do with it. The vote in the house showed that about 50 Republicans voted for Mr. McLaughlin, notwithstanding the action of the caucus.

G. V. L. MEYER.

While the committee were out counting the ballots, the caucus proceeded to the nomination of the remaining officers. On motion of Mr. St. John of Haverhill, Captain J. G. B. Adams of Lynn was unanimously nominated by acclamation for sergeant-at-arms. Rev. D. W. Waldron of Boston was nominated by acclamation for chaplain. The committee on ballot reported as follows: Whole number of votes cast, 169; necessary to a choice, 85; James W. Kimball had 4, Edward A. Mc-Laughlin had 76, George T. Sleeper had 89. The announcement of the vote was received with great applause, and when it had subsided Representative Hayes of Lowell moved to make the nomination unanimous. The vote was then put, and every member voted yes, except Rev. John R. Thurston of Northbridge.

Senate Proceedings. The senators-elect were called to order by the senior member-elect, Joel D. Miller of Worcester. On motion of Mr. Sanger, Messrs. Sanger, Quinn and Roe were appointed a committee to inform the gov-ernor and council that a quorum of the senate had assembled and were ready to be qualified. At 10:19 the governor and council entered the chamber and the senators-elect took the required oaths, and the

G. P. LAWRENCE. Thirty-four ballots ducted Mr. Lawrence to the chair, where he made an address.

Henry D. Coolidge was unanimously re-elected clerk; J. G. B. Adams sergeantat-arms, and Rev. Edmund Dowse chaplain. Rev. J. B. Brady received one vote for the last-named office.

Messrs. Sawyer, Malone, Quinn and Galloupe were appointed a committee on rules.

Clerk Coolidge announced to the senate that he had appointed William H. Sanger of Boston as assistant clerk.

Mr. Southard of Bristol offered the following resolutions:

Whereas, the recent course of public events has brought the question of the belief of the people in the Monroe doctrine in question, whereas, the people of the commonwealth of Massachusetts have ever been loyal and steadfast to those principles; Resolved, That we believe the Monroe doc-Greenhalge Takes the Oath.

The legislature met today at 11 o'clock, and the committee to canvass the vote for governor and state officers made its report. Then a committee was appointed by the senate to inform the house that it was ready to qualify the governor. The house sent a similar committee to the senate.

There being no difference of opinion on this point, the senate and house agreed to meet in joint convention, and the senate solemnly marched into the representatives' hall, the president taking the chair. A committee of the convention were next sent to the governor to inform him of the situation, and that his pleasure was Brewer, Gilman, Coudert, White and Alvey on Venezuelan Commission.

Three Jurists and Two College Presidents.

Sketches of Men Appointed to Consider an Important Matter.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.-It is the president's intention to have the Venezuelan boundary commission meet as soon as possible, but he has not yet decided when to call the primary meeting. The president last night announced the composition of the commission, which will consist of five members, as follows:

David J. Brewer of Kansas, justice of the United States supreme court.

Richard H. Alvey of Maryland, chief justice of the court of appeals of the District of Columbia. Andrew D. White of New York. Frederick R. Coudert of New York. Daniel C. Gilman of Maryland.

The commission is regarded here among those who had an opportunity to see the list of names after they were made public as a very satisfactory one, whose opinions and conclusions will be received by the American public with that confidence which the standing of the members of the commission in the public eye inspires.

All of the above named persons will accept the places to which they have been appointed, and are expected to assemble in Washington as soon as practicable with a view to their swearing in and entering upon their work.

The appointments are made in compliance with a resolution of congress, passed at the request of President Cleveland, and the work of the commissioners will be to examine and collect evidence, with a view to determining the true divisional line between Venezuela and British Guiana.

The conclusions reached by the commission will be reported to the president for his information in connection with any the boundary line dispute between the latter country and Venezuela.

All Men of Note.

Justice Brewer is a Republican in politics, and about 58 years of age. He is a graduate of Yale, and has spent considerable time in the practice of his profession in Kansas, where he filled a number of judicial offices. In 1884 he was appointed circuit court judge of the United States for the Eighth district, and was appointed associate justice of the supreme court in December, 1889, by President Harrison.

Richard H. Alvey is a Democrat in politics and a man of marked legal ability. It was the great reputation he gained as judge in the Maryland courts which led President Cleveland, in the absence of political influence on Judge Alvey's part. to appoint him to the position of chief justice of the court of appeals of this district. He is about 60 years of age.

Andrew D. White was born in Homer,

N. Y., Nov. 17, 1837. He was graduated from Yale in 1853, and spent two years in Europe, part of the time as attache of the American legation at St. Petersburg. He returned home in 1856, and in the following year was elected professor of history and English literature in the University of Michigan. In 1862 he resigned because of poor health and returned to his former home in Syracuse, where he was elected to the state senate. He was re-elected in 1864. In 1876 he became first president of Cornell university, which post he filled until 1885, when failing health compelled him to retire. He was one of the com-missioners to Santo Domingo in 1871. He was president of the Republican state convention of New York in October of the same year, and was United States minister to Germany from 1879 to 1881. In 1893 President Harrison appointed Mr. White minister to Russia to succeed Charles E Smith. Mr. White has published many volumes, besides contributing to periodi cals. Mr. White is a Republican in poli-

Frederick R. Coudert is a Democrat in politics, and is one of the best known men of the bar in New York. Mr. Coudertwas one of the counsel for the United States on the Behring sea commission, and in that capacity he made one of the most eloquent and effective speeches delivered in behalf of the American conten-

The last named of the commission, Daniel C. Gilman, is president of Johns Hopkins university, and is well known as an authority on international law. He was at one time president of the University of California, and was later called to take up the work of the organization of the university of which he is now at the head. One of his principal acquisitions is the mastery of the science of physical geography. He is the author of a life of President Monroe. Mr. Gilman has never figured prominently in politics. At the White House it is stated that he has no politics, but his proclivities are understood to be Republican.

The two great parties, it will be seen are equally represented on the commission, with the fifth member having no outspoken politics.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

IF THERE is one thing more than opportunity pass to encourage any new enterprise as well as those already establure, pictures, banquet lamps, etc. lished. For every increase in business means employment for our citizens. The meeting called for this evening at 8 o'clock at the Street Railway building to consider the advisability of organizing a corporation to carry on the business of manufacturing bicycles should be well attended by Quincy capitalists, for anyone who has looked into the bicycle business knows that it is one that pays good returns for the investment.

is therefore no new unreliable firm that is offered to the citizens for investment. During these years with its limited capital, it has manufactured a large number of wheels, over 150 of which are riden by daughter and her husband: Quincy wheelmen, who can testify to their superiority over other makes.

The company which is now composed of W. L. Ripley and F. E. Piukham has a factory equipped with all the latest improved machinery so that everything but the drop forgings are made in their own shop. Besides the large order which they have from New York parties, they have a good business with agents all over New England and the West and South, and in order to supply the demand for the Quincy wheel more capital is needed.

The idea therefore is to form a corporation under the laws of Massachusetts with a capital of $50,000, and it is desirable that the stock should be held by citizens of that the stock should be held by citizens of Quincy. Investors will be assured a good dividend as a large business is guaranteed under contracts already made.

At present the company employes twelve men and if the corporation is formed employment will be given to 75 or 80 men, which means a great deal to Quincy, as the bicycle manufacturing business has been of great benefit to other cities where manufactories have been established. manufactories have been established.

> MR. CHARLES L. HAMMOND is again in the field for the Mayoralty. There were indications of this before the organization of the Republican City Committee, but there is no longer any doubt. It is believed by many, however, that for some years at least party nominees will not be successful in this city. There seems an effort to divorce municipal matters from politics and it is well. An independent administration by Mayor Adams is sure to give him a citizens' nomination and a reelection next fall. The failure to re-elect President Fairbanks and the alleged methods employed are not likely to unite the Republican party.

LAMB-HUTCHEON.

A Pretty New Year's Wedding at South Quincy.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor of Rodman street, the advent of the new year was fittingly celebrated by the marriage of Miss Mary Hutcheon and Mr. John Lamb, one of the energetic clerks of the Boston Branch grocery.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Westly Peach with his customary efficiency, and was witnessed by about 80 guests.

The bride looked very pretty dressed in delicate cream cashmere, with trimmings of Duchesse lace and satin ribbon. Her veil was caught with orange blossoms, and the oceau, and t she carried a handsome bouquet of tea roses.

The bridesmaid was Miss Agnes Taylor of West Quincy who wore a pretty dress of | walk of both ele bouquet was of pink carnations. The best man was Mr. William Lamb, a

SIAMESE

The announcement made by the many tongued instruments is received by the vast population that inhabits the valley watered by the beautiful Menam river with fear and trembling, for they firmly believe that this is the witching hour when the very atmosphere of the world is alive with gods, demons, genii and hobgoblins, and forthwith the anxious, superstitious people hasten to frustrate their evil designs. They bind unspun cotton thread, consecrated by the priest, round their doors and windows, as the sacred thread is supposed to prove an effectual barrier in keeping out the malicious spirits. This done they place by the doors of their houses and huts a platter containing a pig's head and a bottle of arrack, as a conciliatory repast for the wandering ghosts that may desire to regale themselves during the night, after which the whole city, like the snail, draws in its horns and no consideration will tempt a mortal soul to venture out of it until sunrise the next morning.

At sunset every family offers to its own household genii an oblation of candies, perfumed tapers and roasted rice. As for the royal palace, 7,000 balls of unspun cotton, of seven fibers, consecrated by 27 priests, are reeled round and round the walls, and from sunset until dawn a terrific and continuous cannonading is heard from all the forts of the city to rout the evil spirits that infest the departing year.

But once this dreadful night is passed, the terror sticken inhabitants, with a long drawn sigh of relief, prepare to welcome the new year. Dressed in many colored silks, they repair first to the temples to offer praise and thanksgiving for their deliverance and to make handsome gifts to the priests, and not until they have propitiated Buddha and Buddha's earthly representatives do they think of their own merrymaking .- Ex-

No English holiday was of much account that was not observed with flowing bowl. On New Year's eve the wassail bowl was filled with spiced ale and drunk in families, and poorer folk tied a bowl with ribbons and begged for money for ale to fill and refill the bowl, singing:

New Year's Wassail Bowl.

Wassail, wassail all over the town; Our toast it is white; our ale it is brown; Our bowl it is made of a maplin tage; We be good fellows all; I drink to thee.

In some parts of England the old year is "swept out" by men and boys with blackened faces, dressed to represent sweeps; in others it is "burned out" with bonfires. Sometimes it is rung out with muffled bells that are unmuffled and rung clear after 12 o'clock .- Inde-

What Happy New Year Means.

A happy New Year! What does it mean? Are not these words often thrown out as a greeting without thought gr depth of meaning? Is it a year in which to ourselves come wealth and health, prosperity and friendship; one spent in the pursuit of fleeting pleasure and filled with self centered interest? No! Rather let the wish be to each and all, as the new year dawns with all its opportunities, that the days of 1896 may be well spent-filled with thought and sympathy for those around; that in self forgetting and kindly deeds the happiness of others may be ever sought, and ness of others may be ever sought, and then most truly will each act rebound again in joy and blessing to the heart from which it springs.—Maud Booth.

New Year Means Progress.

A new year, not simply another year. Many people may be said to live the same old year over and over again. Each succeeding year is the same unit added once more to the sum of life. There is the same task performed in the same spirit with the same motive; the same imperfections of character, the same failures of conduct. The times may change and progress hasten, but if we change and progress hasten, but if we stand still, we live only the old year once again. A new year never comes to of JOHN HARKINS, 36 Main street. the contented ox; he simply grows old. It is not the lapse of time or the progress of civilization, but our progress, which makes possible to us a new year. -Josiah Strong.

For the Ensuing Year. May the new year, just opening to us, be signaled in public and in private life by the growth of noble ideas-of ideas that shall make men freer, truer, better; that shall more and more reflect the incomparable teachings of the Holy Child whose nativity we have just celebrated, and whose spirit, imitated and obeyed, can redeem the time and crown mankind with blessedness.-Christian Work.

PLEDGE FROM KRUGER.

Boers Will Not Engage In Conflict With Jameson at Present.

South Africa Company Is Blamed For Hostilities.

British Greed In the Transvaal Strongly Resented by Germany.

LONDON, Jan. 2 .- It is stated that President Kruger has telegraphed to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain pledging his government that the Boers shall temporarily adopt a passive attitude toward Dr. Jameson's force on its arrival outside of Johannesberg. An important feature of this arrangement between Mr. Chamberlain and President Kruger is that all responsibility for hostility will rest with the Chartered South African company.

The Times, in an editorial, thinks that Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's censure of Dr. Jameson for the invasion of the Transvaal in the absence of the man who has undeniably rendered great and distinguished services to his country is somewhat precipitate.

The Belfast Evening Telegraph publishes a private letter from Buluwayo, South Africa, dated Nov. 1, stating that there was talk there even at that time of the English seizing the Transvaal and that the Chartered South African company's troops had gone south for that purpose, under secret orders, with 10 guns and many wagons. A dispatch from The Hague says that the Rotterdamsche Courant regards Dr. Jameson's action in the Transvaal as a most flagrant example of British arrogance. It admits that Holland can do nothing for the Boers, and fears that England will seize the opportunity to wipe out the stain of the Majubahill incident. It also expresses the hope that Germany will come to the rescue.

Germans Are Excited.

Considerable excitement prevails in Berlin over the crisis in the Transvaal, and the attitude of Great Britain is de nounced upon all sides. The National Zeitung says: The South African company, holding the charter of the queen, has committed a grievous breach of the peace and violation of the law of nations. Germany's interests demand that the independent republic shall be maintained intact, and we expect Germany to interpose with all possible emphasis to assist President Kruger.

The Vossische Zeitung says: The proceedings of the British South African company cannot be tolerated, and Germany must immediately take energetic steps to protect the South African republic. The paper expresses hope that Dr. Leyd, the secretary of state of the South African republic, who is now in Berlin and in close communication with the foreign office, has telegraphed to Pretoria that Germany will grant the Boers protection that will not be merely diplomatic.

It is reported that Emperor William has promised his moral support to the Boers, and has indicated that he may take other measures if Great Britain persists in her present course.

The Berlin correspondent of The Times says: The crisis is clearly endangering Anglo-German relations. Public opinion is excited and angry, and with-out doubt the government will interfere, because relations have gradually arisen between the Transvaal and Germany, which have assumed, in the public mind. almost the shape of a moral protectorate by Germany over the Transvaal.

A Berlin dispatch states that Germany has addressed an official inquiry to England as to the steps the Euglish government intended to take to restore the statu quo in the Transvaal.

The Feeling at Cape Town. A dispatch from Cape Town to The Times strongly supports the letter from the British residents of Johannesberg, appealing for assistance to Dr. Jameson. "The advices to fold their hands and await the good pleasure of the kind Kruger, who is yearning to admit the Uitlanders to the franchise, if only they will refrain from demanding it, is a joke which the lapse of years has deprived of its savor. The demand for the franchise is right and just, and the danger increases every day it is withheld. In Cape Colony, and, we believe, in the Orange Free State also, sympathy is felt for the Uitlanders.

"The latter cannot now recede, and their only danger is from themselves. We can make allowances for a few German Jews, but that the Afrikanders and the British colonists, with their traditions of freedom and cohesion, can betray the reform of the army by splitting the plalanx, we cannot believe until forced to do so."

The article bitterly attacks Mining Millionaire J. B. Robinson, whose organs in the land support President Kruger, and says: "At the supreme moment, when the last chance of peacefully obtaining their just rights hangs in the balance, and when the split between capital and labor is one thing that may enable President Kruger to continue snapping his fingers at the Uitlanders' claims, Mr. Robinson loyally assists to foster the split."

Dr. C. S. Jameson is a Scotchman of middle age. He was practicing medicine in Kimberly when the pioneer force set out from that city for Mashonaland. He entered the service of the chartered company, and so distinguished himself in his dealings with the natives that he was appointed administrator of Mashonaland. It was the act of Dr. Jameson that precipitated the war with the Matabele.

A High-Priced Lawyer.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Jan. 2.-Zachariah P. Smith of Elizaville is under arrest, charged with exacting an illegal and excessive fee as attorney in securing a pension for Mrs. Eliza Meyers of that place. United States Commissioner Deyo held Smith for the next federal grand jury in the sum of $2000. The fee claimed was $340 on a $519.40 claim, the legal allowance on the agreement being $25.

Miners' Peri's.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Jan. 2.-Five men were badly burned, three of them probably fatally, by an explosion of gas in the Girard mine. The bodies of three presented a horrible appearance. The flesh was so terribly roasted that it dropped from their arms and faces. The explosion was caused by a naked lamp igniting the gas.

Train Struck Sleigh.

FORT WAYNE, Jan. 2.- A Nickle Plate passenger train crashed into a sleigh at Clay Pool last night. William Doddridge was instantly killed, and Daniel Rhoades had his skull crushed and will die.

MORTON WILL RUN. Miller, Platt and Lauterbach Are Authority For the Statement.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.-Ex-Senator Warner Miller, when asked last evening whether a statement regarding Governor Morton's candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination was to be made, said: "I know of no formal announcement other than that his friends are authorized to state that Governor Morton, yielding to the solicitations of his friends, has consented to become a candidate for the presi dency. The governor will receive the full support of the Republicans of New York state and of other states as well. I believe, and from now on s thorough canvass will be made in behalf of his candidacy." It is announced that Thomas C. Platt and Edward Lauterbach will also publicly declare that Governor Morton will make a fight for the nomination.

Rivals the Great West.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 2.-N. K. Fairbanks, the millionaire lard refiner of Chicago; E. K. Willard and T. D. Hooper, bankers, of New York; General T. M. Logan of Richmond and others have organized at Richmond the Piedmont Gold Belt Chartered company, with a capital stock of $2,000,000, for the purpose of developing on a very extensive scale large gold mining properties covering several thousand acres in Buckingham county, Va. Investigations show that the average of these ores gives a much better percentage of gold than either the South African or the Cripple Creek districts.

Sues For $10,00C.

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 2.-Chief of Police Child of this city has been raed for $10,000 damages by Thaddens Prior, who alleges malicious prosecation. Prior was arrested a few weeks ago on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. He was indicted, but was acquitted by the court. He claims that the police placed a crub in his pocket for the purpose of bringing evidence against him. He charges Chief Child with knowing of his arrest. When Prior was arraigned in court the police officers who were to testify against him were ex-

la Jury's Hands.

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 2.-The jury which will decide the fate of Martin Dalton, one of the alleged murderers of Anthony S. Haswell, went out last night. Judge Wilbur, during his charge to the jury, said that the case was one which required careful consideration, and suggested that the jury be locked up all night in order that they might have plenty of time in coming to a decision. The trial has been a remarkably short one, with an abundance of evidence, wholly circumstantial, against Dalton.

Fought the Police.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Jan. 2.-A raid was made upon halls in which Poles and Germans were celebrating the New Year, and where beer and liquor were being sold in violation of the law. Sheriff Doolan and six men attempted to selze the stuff. The Poles attacked the intruders furiously and drove them out. Word was sent to the ritorial secretary and acting governor for police station, and 13 men responded. Then a furious battle ensued, and the police finally subdued their opponents.

Early Preparations.

St. Louis, Jan. 2.-Joseph Manley, secretary of the Republican national committee, will meet in this city Jan. 19 with the sub-committee to make final arrangements for the convention. Mr. Manley is chairman of the sub-committee on con vention arrangements, the other members being Congressman Campbell of Chicago, General Clarkson of Iowa, General Clayton of Arkansas and R. C. Kerins of St. Louis.

Wanted at Saco.

SACO, Me., Jan. 2 .- Saco officers are looking for Dr. N. J. Weeks, against whom a warrant has been issued charging him with conspiracy with intent to de-fraud. This action is the result of his alleged proposal of marriage to Mrs. Seavey of this place and his palming off his wife as his mother. Dr. Weeks was recently arrested on the charge of assaulting his wife.

Nervy Thieves.

ELLISVILLE, Miss., Jan. 2.—When Sheriff B. E. Deval was leaving his office three masked men covered him with revolvers, and demanded that he open the safe. The sheriff gave them the keys, and they opened the safe and took about $8000 belonging to the county. The robbers tied the sheriff securely, and when they left locked the office door behind them. Absorbed the Whole of Kings County.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 2 .- The county government of Kings county came to an end yesterday, after an existence of 212 years. It received its death-blow by the complete consolidation of the city of Brooklyn and the county of Kings through the annexation of the old town of Flatlands. The city of Brooklyn now comprises an area almost equal to that of New York city.

Bradley Willing to Be Considered.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 2.-An important political conference was held here by prominent Republicans to discuss the advisability of putting Governor Bradley forward as a candidate for a place on the national ticket. The governor said frankly that he was in the hands of his friends, and that whatever action they took would be satisfactory to him.

Chicago's Latest Boast.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—The annual report of the city health department shows that Chicago has the lowest death rate of any city of 200,000 population or more, not excepting any city in the world. The rate based on the revised figures is 15.11 for 1000 of population, as compared with 15.24 for last year.

Bullets For Wife and Himself.

ITHACA, N. Y., Jan. 2 .- John Corbin, a negro laborer, aged 35, yesterday shot his wife, 25 years old, twice, probably fatally, and he then shot himself twice, but not seriously. He surrendered himself and was jailed. The couple have three children. The cause assigned is jealousy.

Babes Burned to Death.

Gomez's Fol le Rapid Strides

HABANA, Jan. The city has been thrown into a new state of terror by late reports of the movements of the insurgents, who have invaded the province of Habana.

This invasion was unexpected, as rumors of the last few days apparently indicated that the Spanish troops had driven back the rebels as far as Santa Clara province, and it was supposed that in the raids in Matanzas the people had experienced the worst punishment the Cubans could inflict upon them. It is certain, however, that Comez's advance columns, under Lacret and Serafin Sanchez, entered Habana province Tuesday, having united their forces early in the day just west of Palos, a little railway station between Union de Reyes and Guines. Spanish outposts at the latter point were fired upon late in the afternoon. Trains are leaving Habana at all hours with re-enforcements, and Campos himself has again gone to the front. Communication between Matanzas and Union was broken about noon, several bridges being blown up.

Strike Still Unsettled.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—The situation of affairs in the street railway trouble is very grave. The employes are in executive session with their leaders and various committees, and it is evident from the atmosphere of things that a second strike could be easily precipitated. The matter under discussion is the result of a conference held last night by a sub-committee of the employes and General Manager Beetem of the Union Traction company. The men said they came as employes of the company, but did not deny their membership in the Amalgamated Association of Railway Workers, which has been the stumbling block throughout.

A CRITICAL SITUATION

Haverhill Shoe Workers Are "Preparing For Another Grip."

Board of Conciliation Must Come to Time

Or a Fight For Restoration of Old Wages Will Be In Order.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Jan. 3.—The Haver hill shoe council, composed of the delegates of the several unions of the city, held an important secret meeting here last night, the doings of which each member was cautioned not to divulge. The meeting lasted 21/2 hours.

After the meeting, several of the delegates were seen by reporters, but each would say no more than that the meeting was the most important since the strike. It was learned, however, that a willingness was expressed to take the matter out of the hands of the board of conciliation and force the establishment of the lists in every shop in the city, if the board does not come to time at next Monday night's

In regard to the case of F. E. Hutchinson and Perley Weeks, in whose shops there have been cutdowns, the council decided that unless the board took up their cases at the next meeting the men would first demand the fight for the restoration of the old wages.

Mr. Weeks was seen by a reporter and stated that the reported cutdowns in his Secretary Crabtree, one of the union's representatives in the board, contradicted this statement, and stated that the grievance was ready for the board if they should decide to act on it.

Affairs took a strange turn yesterday, when the labor men failed to demand the acceptance of the "turned" workmen's list, as this was the date for it going into

Mr. Crabtree of the union stated last night that, although it was the only one accepted by the board of conciliation, a demand for its enforcement might arouse an opposition among the board that would deter them from turning to fair play at

Secretary Hodgkins of the lasters stated that the reductions that have been made were more likely to cause rouble than anything else.

I say it in man fell on that eventful Saturday morn-Mayor Hodgkins used these words in a long speech of denunciation and censure of the course of Alderman Downs, who instigated the charges against Horace L. Eaton, while hs was acting as city engineer of Somerville. The mayor was speaking at the time in the Somerville aldermanic chamber last night, while that body was considering two reports presented by the special investigating committee appointed in consequence of the charges preferred against Mr. Eaton by Alderman Downs. Both the majority and minority reports completely exonerated Mr. Euton of any dishonesty or malfeas-ance of office. The mayor advocated Al-

BANGOR, Me., Jan. 3. - The Bangor son extortion case, says that Mrs. Mary A. Davidson was Mary Abbott of Bucksport. As a girl she had fine presence, was stately, beautiful of face and form, brilliant and witty. Her first husband was Major Frank Pierce of Bucksport, an officer of the Sixth Maine regiment, who died in 1868. The News claims that her second husband, Mr. Davidson, from whom she was divorced, is still living.

Pastor Smith Dismissed.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 3.—Rev. Frank Hyatt Smith, pastor of the North Avenue Congregational church, who figured in the United States district court recently, was formally dismissed from the pastorate of that church yesterday by the North Suffolk Congregational conference. Twentyfive churches were represented at the meeting. The proceedings were necessary, as the rules of the church so provide. Resolutions of condolence with Mr. Smith

Ex-Governor Goodell Complainant.

MILFORD, N. H., Jan. 3 .- The victims of Wednesday's liquor raids were before Trial Justice Keyes yesterday. Moses Billanger, Gustave Doucet and Louis Dupont of Greenwich paid $83 each in fines; Joseph Silver, Jr., of New Ipswich, $22; John Boyes, M. P. Stanton, W. W. Heath and Hannah Brennan of Wilton, $18.98; Thomas Garrity and Cyrus Burke of Milford, $17.94 each. Ex-Governor Goodell was complainant in each case.

Actor Goes to Prison.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Jan. 3.-Frank Ryan, an actor, was sentenced to a year in the house of correction yesterday for robbing John W. Murphy on board the steamer Plymouth. Ryan was drunk in the barroom. Murphy entered, and after a short conversation Ryan pulled a revolver and held it under Murphy's nose while he took a stick-pin out of his tie. The pin was valued at $20, and Ryan refused to give it up.

Little Girl Badly Burned.

MILFORD, Mass., Jan. 3.—Two boys built a bonfire on Church Hill. Among the children around the fire was Maria Giovanni, 6 years old. A boy pushed her into the fire, and before she was pulled out by a man who heard her cries, she was frightfully burned from her waist to below the knees. The burns may prove fatal.

Drowned While Skating.

WORCESTER, Mass., Jan. 3.-Edward M. Stanton, 15, and Alfred P. Shepard, 12, were drowned in a small pond in Sutton Grove while skating yesterday. The Shepard boy broke through the ice and Stanton went to his assistance, and was dragged down by Shepard.

Railway Employes' Wants.

LYNN, Mass., Jan. 3.-The Lynn and Boston Street Railway Employes' union this morning considered the new agreement governing wages and hours of employes of the road, which will be submitted to the management. The shortening of hours for conductors and motormen by taking off one trip Sunday and an increase of 25 cents on a 10-hour day are asked.

Preachers Disagree. WASHINGTON, Jap. 3.-When Dr. Talmage came to the First Presbyterian church recently it was arranged that he should preach Sunday evenings, while Dr. Sunderland with whom he was made co-pastor, should alternate in the pulpit Sunday mornings with Mr. Allen, the assistant pastor. Since Dr. Talmage began to preach there has been a demand that he should hold the pulpit twice on Sundays. Offers have also come from other churches for his services on Sunday mornings. He has announced to the elders that he desires to preach twice each Sunday; that he is able to, and that the pres sure for him teems a providential call The elders have the same opinion. Mr. Allen, however, stands upon his rights which are defined by the contract and by church polity, and declines to yield the Consequently the presbytery will be called upon to decide the question.

Jameson's Forces Compelled to Surrender.

Disobedience Responsible For Needless Sacrifice of Lives.

LONDON, Jan. 3.-The colonial office has received confirmation of the reported defeat of Dr. Jameson. His followers sustained great loss of life, and eventually surrendered. The secretary of state for the colonies Joseph Chamberlain, has telegraphed to President Kruger, asking for generous treatment for the prisoners and wounded.

MAP OF SOUTH AFRICA. The colonial office publishes the following telegrams from Sir Hercules Robinson, governor of Cape Colony, to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, which are dated

Jan. 2: A messenger overtook Dr. Jameson 10 miles the other side of Elans river. He has brought back a verbal message to the effect that the dispatches have been received and will be attended to. The forces were then saddling up, and immediately proceeded eastward into the Transvaal. Dr. Jameson thus received and disregarded my message. Sir Jacobus DeWot (British agent in Transvaal) telegraphs that the fighting commenced at 4 o'clock yesterday. He was unable to obtain details from General Joubert (commander of the Transvaal forces) last evening, and had heard nothing beyond rubors. A second cablegram has been received from Sir Hercules Robinson, which says: The British agent at Pretoria telegraphs under date of Jan. 2: I have just seen General Joubert, and he says that, as far as he knows, Dr. Jameson has been driven out of several positions. The burghers have 25 of their wounded as prisoners, in cluding three officers, and five corpse have been buried by the burghers. The fighting is still proceeding. No force has yet left Johannesburg to assist Dr. Jame

A third cable from Sir Hercules Robin son forwards a dispatch from the British agent at Pretoria, stating that Dr. Jame son's forces have surrendered.

Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, in reply, has cabled to Governor Robinson his regret that Dr. Jameson's disobedience has led to this deployable loss of life, and to do his best to secure generous trans ment of the prisoners and care of the wounded, and to telegraph the names of the killed and wounded.

Press Views. The Berlin correspondent of The Standard quotes The National Zeitung as follows, in commenting upon England's action in stirring up strife in Armenia, Africa and elsewhere: This procedure requires to be put a stop to by Europe, with which the United States will not unwillingly co-operate. The other German newspapers sternly condemn Dr. Jameson's ac-

The Times, in a special article, assumes that the fighting was an accidental skirmish, and that Dr. Jameson's surrender was entirely voluntary. It is difficult to believe, says The Times, that he could not have made a better stand, had he wished to do otherwise than preserve his men in the character of a police force. The Daily News says in an editorial: It is a serious question whether the Charered South African company should not be deprived of its charter.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3 .- Mrs. Davidson was arraigned yesterday on the charge of blackmailing Rev. Dr. C. O. Brown. Neither Dr. Brown, nor Miss Overman, whose name is connected with that of the clergyman, was present during the brief proceedings. As the prosecution an nounced that one of its important witnesses, Mr. Tunnel, could not be found, the case went over. Mrs. Davidson has relinquished all her hope of obtaining bail. She says she will devote her time to religious work among the prisoners.

ANOTHER EXTENSION.

Quincy System of Electrics May be go Through Milton.

There is a movement to extend the Quincy & Boston street railway system from East Milton to Mattapan, and if the proposed extension is carried through it will be almost impossible to estimate the benefit that will be derived. Not only will East Milton be placed in touch with the other parts of the town, from which it is now almost isolated, but it would benefit Quincy and be a great feeder for the Quin-

It would form a popular line for the towns the other side of Milton to the beach. Not only would it be a pleasant ride but the time consumed in reaching the beaches would be much shortened.

It is a well known fact that the aristocratic people of Milton are strongly opposed to street railways but if those who favor the scheme only put their shoulder to the wheel they can get the line extended, as it is understood that the Quincy & Boston favor the extension, and would readily build if a location was granted. This is the age of progression! and the advent of a street railway through the town of Milton cannot be put off any longer.

An Early Morning Fire Near the Ledger Office.

Night lunch wagons do not prosper well in Quincy. Some have found they could not make both ends meet, while the one which located in the lot adjoining the LEDGER office a few weeks ago was visited by fire this morning. It was about eight clock, and the manager was a the car ploded, but it probably fell instead as it is not much damaged.

An alarm was pulled from Box 23, and a prompt response and good work by the fire department quickly extinguished the blaze. Not however without a loss of about $300. The proprietor is Mr. H. L. Sawyer

lowed by a Pow-wow.

Hodenosaunee tribe of Red Men of Wollaston held a council fire and raised up the newly elected chiefs with the assistance of Deputy Great Sachem J. Frank Gardner, Great Prophet George Flowers, Great Senior Sagamore Robert Bellows, Great Junior Sagamore W. E. Seshong, Great Mishinewa Frank N. Hall, Great Chief of Records Fred C. Gruver and Great Keeper of Wampum A. E. Sprague, all of the Massapoag tribe of Campello on Thursday. evening. The wigwam of the home tribe was crowded with braves and palefaces and their wives, the rich regalia of the tribe and the handsome costumes of the ladies making a brilliant scene.

The raising up of the chiefs by the Deputy Great Sachem and suite was a creditable piece of work. It went along as smoothly as clock work, especially when the D. G. S. and suite took up the trail and followed it through the forest at the close of the council fire.

After the ceremony a grand pow-wow was held in the banquet hall at which all of the braves and their friends sat down and ate corn and venison and smoked the pipe of peace.

Steps were taken by Chief of Records, Wr. A. Jordan, to form an Order of Pocohontas. The full lists of chiefs for the ensuing

Fall of Habana Appears to Be Only a Question

HABANA, Jan. 3 .- There is now no doubt that the insurgents are in large force in the province of Habana and are spread over a wide space, their rear guard still stretching back into Matanzas province, while their vanguard is at Aguacate, a town of some importance on the railroad line between Matanzas and Habana, and only a little over 30 miles from Habana. Apparently the full force of the insurgents are engaged in this renewed incur-sion toward Habana. But they maintain the same scattered formation, divided into columns, which proved effective in carrying them into the immediate neighbor hood of Matanzas, the different columns apparently retaining the intuitive faculty of knowing the whereabouts and needs of each other, and thus being able to co-operate with one another and avail themselves to the full extent of the feints and diversions which the different columns carry out for the assistance of the others.

The Spanish commanders are apparently utterly unable to cope with this kind of warfare, or to check the advance of the insurgents, which is now once more directed straight upon Habana. Early yesterday the authorities apparently had hopes of preventing the entrance of the in surgents into Habana province. When it became known that they were gathering in force on the borders, two battalions of troops were stationed at Las Palos to oppose their advance into the rich valley of the Guines, which is studded over with the most valuable canefields on the island The Spanish troops seem to have failed utterly to prevent the insurgents from passing them and reaching Aguacate which is, however, well to the northward of the Guines district.

It is learned that Gomez now intends to extend his incursion into the western province of Pinar del Rio, and the situation is considered exceedingly grave in view of the great activity that has been manifested by local bands of insurgents in Pinar del Rio ever since Gomez's advance into Matanzas. It is known that Gomez has directed these movements, notwithstanding the designation of their leaders as mere bandits. It is feared that his advance will be accompanied by a general uprising in the province, co-operated in by the local leaders, who are already very well equipped for doing damage.

Decided to Strike.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8. - Early this morning the motormen and conductors employed by the Union Traction com pany decided not to go to work. The official declaration was made at a mass meet ing of the men in Labor lyceum. It came amid the greatest confusion and against the strong protests of the conservative element. In fact, the excitement was so intense that numerous small riots between the elements were averted with the greatest difficulty. The meeting broke up in the greatest disorder. Throughout it was manifest that many of the men who went out on the last strike will report for duty as usual. The temper of the strik ers is such that trouble is almost bound to follow.

Is It Applicable to the Venezuela Question?

The Subject of Evening at Quincy Debating Club.

Statesmen Believe It Is.

The debate of the Quincy Debating club Doctrine is applicable to the Venezuela question."

The debate was somewhat of a disappointment as three of the principal disputants were unavoidably absent Mr. Fred Tupper therefore opened the debate in the negative.

He said this was a dispute over a boundary line and the first thing to look at was where they got this line. Great Britian acquired theirs from Holland, and the government of Venezuela from the Spanish. If we knew exactly what the rights of these two countries were there would be no dispute. The Munroe doctrine was simply a principle adopted when our country was small, and it was absurd when applied to to this question, as it did not matter to the United States whether the land belonged to Great Britain or the United States. It would be better for Mr. Cleveland to apply this doctriue to the more dangerous matters of public interest which were political corruption and intemperance.

Stephen A. Foster, for the affirmative, said it was not a question as to whether Cleveland was wise in his message, but whether the Monroe doctrine is applicable to the question. It may not be wise to enforce it, but to say it is not applicable is not wise. Long before the Monroe doctrine the question of establishing protectorates had attracted the attention of Congress. but had not taken form. After the overthrow of Napoleon it was intimated that the alliance formed would be forced into this country, and there was also a question of boundary line between Russia and the United States. He saw no difference between a case where they wish to establish a monarchy and where they seek to extend a monarchy. It seemed to him that the Monroe doctrine was applicable where they were seeking to extend or take territory distance of about three miles. where they had no right. Great Britain has always been a land grabber.

Mr. Youngman of the Harvard Forum also spoke in the affirmative. He said the question was, whether England has a right to that land, and as Gladstone or Salisbury say nothing about it, it is evidence that arisen from Teal pond. Delcevare King for the negative said there was another doctrine that had been handed down to us by President Washington, which was the doctrine of non-intervention, and this doctrine should be applied to this question rather than the three-quarters of an hour, during which Monroe doctrine. At the time of the the ladies served a collation. A little past forming of the alliance the position of the United States was weak and the Tennessee, preached an inspiring sermon Monroe doctrine was annunciated. He from the words "What does thou here," was willing to admit that Great Britain had encroached upon Venezuela, but he could not see that they had encroached upon the and the time sped so swiftly it seemed no United States. 'The Monroe doctrine was only laid down to consider what virtually concerned the United States and when the question did not virtually concern the United States the doctrine of Washington should be applied.

Other speakers on the question were Charles Sampson, S. A. Southworth and E. S. Litchfield.

A vote was then taken on the question which resulted in favor of the affirmative by a vote of 17 to 1.

Edith Sessions Tupper's Observations From the Metropolis. [Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 31 .- The up to date Gotham woman appears to be a firm advocate of the apotheosis of the hideons in the way of ornaments. I sat opposite a woman in an "L" train the other day who, irreproachably gowned and bonneted, wore among the laces at her throat a grewsome ebony coffin as a brooch. A smart young woman who spent the summer in Paris called on me one day last week. As she threw back her velvet cape I noticed a pin thrust among the jet fringes of her bodice. It was a golden gallows tree, and from it dangled the golden corpse of a hanged man. I expressed my horror at this misguided freak of fancy. "Why, that's my mascot!" exclaimed the young lady. "I picked that up in Paris. Every other woman was wearing a gallows for good luck."

Quite a recent fad in the line of ornamentation is to have diamonds set for eyes in the head of the mink or sable of your fur boa. I know a great swell who took her $400 diamond earrings and had them set in the head of her ermine boa. The boa was stolen about a week after

One of the gowns in the trousseau of Miss Emma Rockefeller, the daughter of the Standard Oil magnate, was shown me by an obliging modiste. It was an evening robe of palest turquoise satin. There was a deep bertha of cream duchess lace falling over the shoulders. This was headed by a roll of turquoise velvet, knotted here and there in butterfly bows. There was also a pointed belt of the pale blue velvet. It was a simple and exquisite robe.

There is fashion in everything, even in eggs and butter. In those quarters of the town where wealthy people dwell are the daintiest dairy shops imaginable that cater to the swell trade. Here fancy butter, with the stamp of some famous farm, sells as high as $1.75 per pound. The eggs, each in a compartment of a dainty paper box, are also stamped "strictly fresh" and retail for 50 cents per dozen. The cream and milk from these immaculate dairy shops are usually delivered at fashionable houses by a servant in livery.

Yvette Guilbert, whose advent has been the theatrical event of the week, is not a pretty woman. She is ugly, gaunt and slovenly in gait. She sings remarkably nasty songs in a Parisian accent no Yankee can understand, however much he may pretend to. I think the public will soon weary of this latest French freak. I saw her on Broadway a day or so since. She looks very like the caricatures of herself and would pass easily for a fin de siecle poster. Her eyes are wagon now and have it ready for the rush in knowing and her hair an extraordinary shade—a sort of delicate ginger.

That miserable, wretched little beast, the dachshund, that waddled its way for some time into fashion's ranks, has a rival now in the Aberdeen terrier. The fashionable young woman now parades Fifth avenue of a morning leading the spunky and hardy little Scotch dog, who scents an enemy in every other dog he meets, growling and snapping and carrying a chip on his shoulder. Fox terriers, French spaniels and pugs are not in it these days. In fashion, as else-

One sees droll things always in cable cars. I was greatly diverted a day or so since by a little episode in a Broadway car. A big, brawny fireman, in the picturesque scarlet lined blue coat of his order, stood patiently for a long time. At last he got a seat and dropped into it with a long drawn sigh of utter exhaustion, and in a moment was fast asleep, dreaming, perhaps, of last night's fire, when he battled with smoke and flame. His arm rested on the window sill, and his helplessly swaying hand dangled a pair of coarse buckskin gloves. Next him sat Miss Manhattan, gorgeous to behold. Her gown was smart, so was her hat, and, lo, the hair of her was frizzed like sixty! She sat stiff, haughty, with a well bred, ladylike expression round the mouth. Suddenly the fireman lurched a little, his hand dropped, and the buckskin gloves flapped against her exclusive back hair. That bright dream was his last. He awoke with a start, to meet a look before which a Numidian lion would have quailed and shivered. The poor fellow was so terrified that, stammering an awkward apology, he rose and went out on the front platform to cool his burning brow. Myself, I heartily wished he had knocked her bonnet off. There is a funny little Italian restaurant down town much affected by newspaper men and women. Not long since a very well known editor took, mirabile dictu! his wife and his mother-in-law there to dine. As the cheap claret flowed the fun became noisy. At last, about 11 o'clock, a young stage dancer sprang up from the table at which she was dining with three artists, and lifting her voluminous skirts gave an extemporized series of high kicks. The editor's mother-in-law, a nice old lady, was naturally very much horrified, and afterward said indignantly: "I thought the hussy was going to put her foot on my son's shoulfler. Had she done so, I should have got right up and shaken her soundly and said: 'Young woman, that is my son and he is a respectable man. How dare you?" This story is convulsing Bohemia both on account of the prominence of the editor and the desire of the dear old lady to protect her son in-law, y is by no means a spring lamb.

There is no period in woman's earthly career which she approaches with so much anxiety as the "change of life." Yet during the past twenty years women have learned much from a woman.

It is safe to say that women who pre-

Machinists' Grievances.

BUFFALO, Jan. 8 .- A number of workmen in the Western New York and Pennsylvania machine shops struck yesterday. The strike was unexpected. One alleged grievance is the refusal of the company to restore the 10 per cent reduction of wages made some time ago, and another is the discharge of men employed in the machine shop. There are in all about 300 men employed, and it is possible the strike may extend to all departments.

Will Hamper the Work of the Venezuelan Boundary Commission.

Their Work Will Be Begun Without Delay.

Transvaal Disturbance Furnishes a Direct and Opportune Parallel.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 .- It is authoritatively stated on behalf of the administration that the Venezuelan commission will be absolute master of its own procedure, fixing the time and place of its meetings, and determining for itself whether or not it shall visit foreign countries; what class of evidence may be taken, and how interested governments may be represented before the tribunal.

This independence of action is deemed essary to secure to the commission's findings that degree of weight and respect among other nations that can be attained only through a knowledge that the body is free from any restraint or obligation to the United States government which has created it. Our government will occupy the status of an exact neutral in the pro ceedings. The state department will lend such assistance as may be required to facilitate the work of the commission in procuring transportation for it on a United States warship, if that is desired, and in supplying any records in its possession that may be called for.

But while it will not allow itself to be placed in the position of taking sides as to the merits of the controversy between Great Britain and Venezuela, it will not undertake to present the Venezuela case, nor will it even endeavor to offset any evidence that leads toward the British contention. Therefore the various suggestions that have been made to the de partment by individuals in this country as to where evidence can be secured have been ignored. Such matter is regarded as proper for the consideration of the com mission, but is Not For the State Deparlment.

It is pointed out that on this attitude the department is exactly consistent with its course in the past. From the beginning of the negotiations with Great Britain touching the Venezuelan boundary, the United States government has especially refrained from committing itself to a recognition of the justice of Venezuela's claim, and has limited itself strictly to the contention that this was proper mat ter for settlement by arbitration.

Moreover, the attitude which the department has assumed toward the commission itself is regarded as a sufficient negative to the assumption in Europe that the United States government purposed constituting itself the arbitrator in this dispute, for the commission will be as independent of the United States government as it will be of any other govern-

The personnel of the commission is com mended by members of the house whe take particular interest in international matters, regardless of party affiliation. The gentlemen selected were considered entirely competent to conduct what the president in his message expressed a wish for—a judicial examination of the evidence relating to the boundary.

It was also pointed out that while several members of the commission have participated in politics, they cannot be considered strong partisans at this time; so that so far as our domestic affairs are concerned, they would not be likely to enter upon their work with any part ends to serve.

No Delay.

The present expectation is that the first meeting of the Venezuelan boundary commission will be held at the state department next Saturday. All the members of the body, with the exception of Commissioner White, have signified their ability to be here by that time. The latter will not reach the city before Tuesday, and there is a possibility the first meeting may be deferred until that day, though this is ot likely.

There are a number of questions arising in connection with the work of the body. such as the selection of quarters, etc., beside other preliminary matters not affecting vitally the questions at issue, that can be passed upon by the majority of the commissioners.

The members have not yet received their commissions, and hence it is not positively known who will be the chairman, although the presumption is that Justice Brewer, having been the first named, will have that honor. Justice Brewer has heretofore met his fellow-commissioners, and he is anxious that the work which the commission was appointed to perform be commenced at as early a date as practica-

What needs to be determined first by the commission, the justice thinks, is a distinct and definite understanding of just what facts are desired, and the body can then go ahead and perform its work systematically. He realizes what an effect on the public mind the conclusions reached by the commissioners will have, what their significance will be and how they must carry conviction. The investigation, he says, must be a thorough one or none at A Comparison.

In speaking of the Venezuelan question, an authority upon international affairs pointed out that the present hostilities in the Transvaal furnished a direct and most opportune parallel to the South American dispute

The note of the German government to Great Britain, requesting an explanation of Jameson's expedition into the Boers' territory, and protesting against it, he thought, would tend to fortify the arguments of the United States in justification of its action regarding the Venezuelan boundary. The conditions of the two cases are not unlike. The Transvaal is nominally an independent republic, and Germany does not claim to maintain a protectorate over it any more than the United States does over Venezuela, yet Germany assumes a right to interfere to check British aggres-

Nor can the German government claim that its own safety is in any way menaced by any steps the English might take against the Boers. It can only assert a right to interfere on the ground that its interests are involved, which is thought by many to be the only tenable ground upon which this government can base its right to be considered a party to the dispute between

Venezuela and a British dependency. There is no doubt that proceedings in would not, because of their possible ap | men to turn a crank during the firing.

Salisbury at Fault.

A letter addressed by Lord Granville, the then British foreign minister, to the representative of the Venezuelan government, acquiescing in the suggestion already made by that representative for including in a pending treaty a clause providing for the arbitration of any and all differences between the two governments, is made public. This letter proves the statement made by the London Chronicle to the effect that Earl Granville had virtually concluded a treaty with Venezuela in 1885, containing an arbitration clause that covered the Venezuelan boundary dispute. It is now claimed that there is a wide discrepancy between Lord Salisbury's interpretation of Earl Granville's agreement as covering the arbitration of the boundary dispute and his recent notes to Secretary Olney upon the same subject.

In Venezuela's Favor.

A dispatch from London states that The Chronicle prints this morning the official correspondence, hitherto unpublished, between the governments of Great Britain and Venezuela during the period between November, 1840, when Sir Robert Schomburgk was appointed commissioner by the British government to survey the western territory of British Guiana, and April, 1842, when England finally removed the boundary posts which he had set at various points in that territory to form the so-called Schomburgk line.

It appears from this correspondence that on Oct. 5, 1841, Senor Fortique, Venezuelan minister to London, wrote to Lord Aberdeen, secretary of state for foreign affairs, expressing surprise at the erection of a British sentry box upon Venezuelan territory, and urging the necessity of entering upon a treaty of boundaries as a previous step to the fixation of limits

Lord Aberdeen replied to this on Oct. 21, saying that he had received Mr. Robert Schomburgk's report. "It appears," Lord Aberdeen continued, "that Mr. Robert Schomburgk planted the boundary posts at certain points in the country he surveyed, and that he was fully aware that the demarkation so made was merely a preliminary measure open to future discussion between the governments of Great Britain and Venezuela. But it does not appear that Mr. Schomburgk left behind any guardhouse or sentry box or building bearing the British flag."

In conclusion, after discussing the details of the correspondence, The Chronicle's commissioner says: "If the foregoing documents are genuine, and their source excludes any suspicion to the contrary, then the Schomburgk line is proved worth less as a basis for any territorial claim."

CLEVELAND'S GREAT CHANCE. New York World's Vigorous Utterance on the Bond Question.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 .- The World today says: To you, Mr. Cleveland, The World appeals. It asks you to save the country from the mischief, the wrong and the scandal of the pending bond deal with the Morgan syndicate.

It is not yet too late to repudiate the whole transaction, and its rejection will be the greatest act of your life. It will give you more of prestige than any other. more of honor and more of gratitude of your countrymen. The World now offers to head the list with a subscription of $1,000,000 on its own account. It will take that amount of 3 per cent bonds, or it will take $1,000,000 of 4 per cents on a 3 per cent basis, namely, at about 117, and it will promptly find and furnish the gold with which to pay for them.

like alacrity. It would not require a week, it would hardly require a day, to sell $50,-000,000 of bonds to the people at a fair price. Why sell them to a syndicate at an unfair price and with a secrecy which excites suspicion and distrust?

Why should you not appeal to the patriotism of the rich, as in case of war a call to arms would appeal to the patriotism of poor and rich alike? Why should you invite a great national scandal, where you can as easily invoke a great national demonstration of devotion to the welfare of the country?

Now is your time, Mr. Cleveland, to make war. Make war on fraud and wrong. Make war upon the usurpations of speculative wealth. In this matter lies real peril to the interests of our institutions, and you have recently professed your readiness to go to war in their defense at all costs and all hazards. Will you rise to the occasion? Are you equal to your opportunity?

St Louis' Holocaust

St. Louis, Jan. 3.-Five persons were killed, one fatally injured, four more missing and 31 received injuries more or less serious as the result of an explosion that occurred early yesterday afternoon. Everybody for blocks around Second, Third, Locust and Olive streets was startled by a series of three explosions that demolished the building at 309 Second street, in which it occurred, badly damag ing adjoining property and shattering thousands of panes of glass in the vicinity. The building occupied by the Anchor Peanut company and H. B. Grubb, agent of Ditwiller & Street, of Greenfield, N. J., was set on fire in some manner. The flames, which started on the first floor, communicated to a quantity of fireworks on the second floor, owned by Grubb. These exploded with terrific force, throwing burning brands, bricks and debris in every direction.

He is decidedly the biggest man Kansas ever gave to the public life, and you will find that he will distinguish himself in the Venezuelan investigation. Of course the commission will not report until long after the St. Louis convention shall have met and done its work, but that will not make any difference. Brewer will be considered by the St. Louis convention regardless of Fifty Colt Guns Ordered.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 .- As a result of the competitive tests of machine guns firing the ammunition made for the new naval small arms, which have been in progress for many months, an order has been placed with the Colt company for 50 of their automatic guns. The automatic guns-by which is meant guns that load, fire and eject continuously as long as the trigger is held down without the aid of the Transvaal will have an interest for manual force—proved their superiority this government, which they otherwise over the old type of guns, which require

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Jan. 5. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.—Prayer—how to use and enjoy it.— Luke xviii, 1-14. (A meeting of preparation for the week of prayer.) That Jesus Christ attached great importance to prayer is proved by the fact that He constantly emphasized it in His teachings and practiced it in His life. In the sermon on the mount He enforces it as one of the cardinal virtues of the erfect disciple. At the request of His disciples He taught them how to pray, giving them a model of prayer that is wonderful in its construction and has had a marvelous influence for good in the world. Again toward the close of his ministry we are introduced to two parables on the subject of prayer which emphasize two important features that should characterize our prayers-namely, importunity and humility.

1. Importunity in prayer. This is taught by the parable of the woman and the unjust judge, who heard her and granted her request simply because she persisted in her request. Thus it is illustrated to us that "men ought always to pray and not to faint." For if an unjust judge would hear the prayers of one who was in no way related to her, because she was persistent, how much more readily we may believe that the just Judge would hear the prayers of His children, if they were constantly brought before Him. Prayer is the only weapon we have by which we can move the arm of God, and this one weapon must be wielded constantly. God often keeps us waiting for our own good, but if we persist He will hear us.

2. Humility in prayer. This is taught by contrast in the parable of the Pharisee and the publican. In his self confidence and self righteonsness the Pharisee offers up a self congratulatory prayer. It is not heard. The publican, on the other hand, standing afar off, scarcely lifting his eyes to heaven, smote his breast and exclaimed "God be merciful to me, a sinner." He went down to his house justified. Thus we are taught self abasement in prayer. Self exaltment leads to self abasement, but self abasement to self exaltation.

These are two of the leading characteristics of prayer, and if we use prayer in the right way we will enjoy it. Our enjoyment lies in its proper use. It is when we pray constantly and humbly that we are on the way to the spiritual rapture to be found in prayer. Let us then pray determined not to be denied. Let us pray in the humble, penitential key continually, and we will find exaltation, rapture and joy in thus communing with God.

Practical Christian Endeavor.

Christian Endeavor is of an especially practical turn across the water, and the societies hesitate at nothing, no matter how great the amount of work involved, that promises to bring results to the cause of Christ. One Leicester (England) society has a "baby care taking committee," whose duty it is to go with those who carry on the open air work just before the time for Sunday service. During the outdoor address they speak to the people who come to the doors to listen, and offer to take charge of any of the little children while their parents go to service in the chapel.-Golden Prison Work In Kentucky.

Kentucky Endeavorers have done notable work among the inmates of the state prison at Louisville and many conversions have resulted. These activities began with the sending of more than 1,000 Christmas letters to the prisoners. Now two Christian Endeavor societies have just been reported at the branch prison at Eddyville. A number of conversions attended the formation of these societies. "In prison and ye came unto me. "

The True Endeavor Spirit.

The Christian Endeavor societies in distant Wales have got the Endeavor spirit. One of the societies in Cardiff last year, during the pastor's vacation, maintained all the Sunday and week evening services of the church. This society holds a regular children's service every Sunday evening.

Flowers For the Poor.

Some of the Endeavorers of Kilwarlin, Ireland, have set apart little plots in their gardens especially for the purpose of raising flowers to be sent up to Belfast for distribution among the sick poor, a noble work that might well be done by thousands of American Endeavorers. - Selected.

AMERICAN SENTIMENT

Must Not Be Ignored by England In the Venezuelan Dispute.

Arbitration the Only Means of Settlement.

London Chronicle's Special Commissioner Offers Some Sound Advice.

LONDON, Jan. 4 .- The Chronicle says in an editorial this morning: The American case in its latest developments is now before Great Britain. We can only suggest that it demands a most careful consideration.

We withdraw nothing that we have said as to the impossible character of the deal, and that England must accept the decision of an American tribunal; but we ask whether all the suggestions enumerated by our commissioner can be met with a point-blank refusal.

We ask for a cool and quiet preparation of the national mind, above all, for a de-termination to put aside passion and prejudice and consider simply how peace may be kept and the nations reasonably satisfied.

Lord Salisbury is master of the situation. He will have public opinion behind him in a resistance to claims inconsistent with the honor of the empire. Above all, let us have a Behring sea treaty at once as an earnest of the settlement of the Venezuelan problem.

The foregoing editorial is inspired by a Dispatch of Great Importance received by The Chronicle from its special commissioner in Washington. The dispatch reads as follows:

I am now at length able to speak with confidence of opinion in the highest American quarters. The only condition on which the men whom I specially desired to see would speak has been my personal pledge not even by a hint to betray their names; therefore I can only give you my word that I am not exaggerating my au-President Cleveland's message to congress has done several things good and evil. First, it has destroyed every chance of saving the Armenians. Second, it has given a strong impetus

the line of cleavage always existing, but discreetly ignored, between east and west in the United States. The west today regards the east especially a European annex and New York bankers as allies of the 'money sharks" of Europe.

Fourth, it has rendered certain the creation of a great American navy, which the next generation will be almost irresistibly tempted to use for aggression. Fifth, and most important, it has, unless foolish words or unforeseen events bar its natural consequence, paved the way for better future relations, because Americans, having experience of the consequences, will cease their ignorant denunciations, and the Englishmen will learn to show much greater respect to American national opinion, knowing that force is behind it, and will therefore refrain from provoking it by utterances and acts of veiled contempt. Finally the message has rendered possi ble the avoidance of a far vaster danger, namely, the question of the Nicaragua canal. A man who would be very near the head of the American army in case of war, said to me: "It is a blessing the Venezuelan affair has happened, because a specific solution of this will point the way to the same thing over Nicaragua, concerning which, otherwise, the two nations would certainly have fought." Every paper reprints my yesterday's with striking headlines. Great surprise is expressed here that it should have been necessary for an English journalist to come to Washington in order to secure the publication of official British correspondence so vital to the issue. Pass ing over the compliment, the fact is certainly curious and the significance not altogether pleasant. Americans Anxious For Arbitration. However, the Schomburgk line is now proved destitute of any equality of permanence, and it therefore remains to consider the situation as affected by its removal. I can affirm positively that the American government is, above every-thing, anxious for arbitration. Whatever may have been its actual result, the intention of President Cleveland's message was amicable. But behind it has sprung up a national sentiment which it would be utter madness on the part of the English people to disregard or underestimate. The Monroe doctrine is not worth discussing. The fact is, that if Venezuela does not come within the four corners of the Monroe doctrine then the new doctrine, the Olney doctrine. covers it, and American opinion overwhelmingly favors its general principles. Moreover, America demands arbitration as a sacred right, and for this she will fight if need be. I am astounded at the depth and character of American feeling on this ques-tion. Men, experienced, staid, elderly, conservative, many holding judicial positions of great responsibility, frankly declare their uncompromising support of this American doctrine. And while it is clear that President Cleveland was infinitely too clever and too devoted to his own party not too see that his message would deal a knock-down blow to the two groups of his political enemies-Republicans and free silver men-still, no greater mistake would be possible than for England to regard the message as a mere party maneuver. If this latter view gains acceptance, the consequence of the mistake

BRAINTREE.

Rev. Mr. Kyte of Braintree will preach at the Second Church tomorrow.

The Commercial club will hold its annual meeting on Wednesday evening, Jan. 15th. Work accepted by the Wollaston Steam Principal Ewart of the Monatiquot grammar school, is paying especial attention to the standard of scholarship in his delivery, and no bundle will be delivered rooms. His method for accurately informing the parents of the required standard, and how their children are meeting it, should prove very effective.

Parents who were at first doubtful as to the merits of vertical writing, but can new see its legibility, neatness and the comparative ease with which it can be acquired, are beginning to appreciate the change. The visitors to the schools, who have observed the work done, are highly pleased

Mr. Solon David filed papers in the court of insolvency, at Dedham, Saturday. Mr. Dean, while going up stairs at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. W. Colton, Wednesday night, fell and received a severe shaking up. Wm. B. Summers, of Newton Centre, has purchased the estate formerly owned by him on Middle street, Braintree, and it is expected he will return to Braintree in the near future.

The first grand concert of the Braintree singing school took place in the Town Hall, Thursday night. They advertised some excellent talent and it is fair to uppose there was a fine entertainment. Mrs. Esther Parker was born Dec. 7, 1808, and married Thomas Parker, Sept 13, 1841, and she died Dec. 26, in Lynn, where she has been living with Mr. Thomas E. Parker, her only child. She was the last of family of eight, born to Deacon Nathaniel E. and Mrs. Deliverance Thayer. She was the oldest member of the First church of Braintree, having joined in 1828. Her age was 87 years and 19 days. The remains were brought to Braintree last Saturday and placed in the Plain Street cemetery.

Mr. Joseph S. Drinkwater, father of Col. A. C., Mr. E. H. and Mrs. John J. Drinkwater, of this town, died suddenly at his home in Brunswick, Maine, Dec. 31, at the age of 77 years. He was a tanner by trade and his sons who carry on the tanning business here learned under his instruction at the old home in Maine. Inhis yearly visits to this town he made many friends who will regret his decease and extend their sympathy to the affi cted family. He leaves a widow and six children. The Patriot's Greeting.

With the number today commences the 60th volume of the PATRIOT. What changes have taken place during the past twelve months? Some events that have caused joy, others sadness. Some dear companions have passed from us and others have come to fill their places.

But how small have been the general changes of the year compared with those that have taken place in Quincy since the first number of the PATRIOT was printed by Messrs. Green & Osborne in one little square room in the same building where the daily, two weeklies and several monthlies are now issued.

The past year has been a more prosperous the two previous ones; although most of were six or eight years ago. But, as there coming season.

The Emperor of Germany has sent the following cable dispatch to Paul Kruger, president of the South African republic: "I express my sincere congratulations that, supported by your people and without appealing for help to friendly powers, you have succeeded by your own energetic action against the armed bands which invaded your country as disturbers of the peace and have thus been enabled to restore, peace and safeguard the independonce of your country against attacks from butside ' Emperor William's dispatch to President Kruger is denounced with the utmost severity in the editorials in English newspapers today. The Times says: It is grave and distinctly unfriendly, and, being compiled after conference with Chancellor von Hohenlohe and the foreign and naval secretaries, imparts to it the importance of a state act. The article proceeds to argue that Germany has no ground to contend that any doubt exists as to England's right of suzerainty over the Transvaal, and asks: Is our Berlin correspondent indeed right when he confesses that he is driven to the conclusion that Germany has gladly seized this opportunity to humiliate England?

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW Shows No Material Change From Reports of Past Few Weeks.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 .- R. G. Dun & Co., in their review of trade, say: The commercial failures during the complete year 1895 number 13,197, against 13,885 in 1894, but the aggregate of liabilities is slightly greater, $173,196,060, against $172,992,856, so that the average failure is $13,124, against $12,458 in 1894. The bright promise offered by a large decrease in the first quarter was followed by a small increase in the second and third quarters, and a large increase in the last quarter of the Produce markets have been the theater of surprising changes, which have in fluenced all business. The acreage in cot ton was wisely restricted in order to give producers a better chance for fair returns, and the crop was further reduced to some extent by injury, but growers were injured still more by frantic speculation, which checked exports, and by false information and advice.

In Congress. WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 .- The senate heard a stirring debate yesterday, the bond question being the main theme. Sherman's speech, which had been anticipated with much interest for some time, initiated the financial discussion. The veteran senator's speech was very closely followed throughout. He argued that redeemed notes should be reissued only in exchange for gold. The resumption fund, he said, should be sacred, and used only to redeem United The speech of Senator Sherman's, however, was merely a prelude to an unexpected financial controversy, vigorous and personal in character. Mr. Elkins (W. Va.) sought to secure an immediate vote on his resolution directing that all bond issues be advertised and the bonds offered to the public. Mr. Hill attempted to have the resolution referred to committee, but on a call the vote was overwhelmingly in favor of proceeding with the question. The debate was closed by adjournment.

Trainor's Claims. DETROIT, Jan. 4.-W. J. J. Trainor, supreme president of the American Protective association, today issued to the councils of the order throughout the country a circular reviewing the progress of the organization as to the political situation. He states that a large number of the members of congress are also members of the A. P. A., pledged to the following measures: A bill to secure a just distribution of federal offices; a bill to establish a national university; a bill to restrict immigration and regulate naturalization. amending the constitution prohibiting for all time sectarian appropriations; a bill to open to public inspection all monastic and private or semi-public institutions not under state control, and a bill prohibiting the official recognition by the United States or any officer thereof of any dignitary of any ecclesiastical body or church.

As Anticipated. NEW YORK, Jan. 4.-The Press says that it is able to state upon the best authority the gist of the report now in prepara tion for presentation to the New York Yacht club of the special committee appointed by the club to investigate the charges made by Lord Dunraven regarding the recent international yacht club races. It will appear from the testimony that the earl has begged the real question at issue. The report of the committee will present the testimony in a purely judicial manner and will censure the earl. The Porte's Concession.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The state department has been informed that the porte has consented to allow relief to be extended to the suffering Armenians through American residents in Turkey, and, although it is not aware that any of the United States consular officers in Turkey have been employed in the work, it is not probable that any objection would be interposed if they desired to assist in the distribution.

Chinese-Americans.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4 .- Judge Morrow decided yesterday in the United States district court that every Chinese born in the United States is a citizen thereof. The decision was rendered in the case of Wong Kim Ark, who was born in 1873 in Sacramento, returned to China a year, and is refused landing because the collector of the port holds he is not a citizen.

Utah Is With Us.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 .- The president today issued his proclamation in conformity with the act of congress, stating that the people of Utah have complied with all of the requirements of the law providing for the admission of Utah to the Union, and declaring that the territory has passed out of existence and that Utah is admitted to the family of states.

The Mayor's Great-Great Grandfather.

John Adams.

President of United States, 1797-1801.

John Adams was born in Braintree, now Quincy, Oct. 19, 1735, in the most northerly of the two old mansions on Franklin street, owned by his father, and now in possession of his descendants, and was graduated at Harvard College in 1755. On leaving college, he taught school in Worcester, where he also studied law in the office of Col. James Putnam. He began the practice of his profession in Braintree about the year 1758, at the age of twenty-three years. The first writ issued by Mr. Adams was on an action of trespass for a rescue. This gave him considerable uneasiness, as he was apprehensive that it was defective, which it proved to be, as it was abated. He soon after removed to Boston, where he became eminent in his profession, and was appointed Chief Justice of the Supreme Court; he was chosen one of the delegates to the first Continental Congress in 1774.

Mr. Adams was married to Abigail Smith, daughter of the Rev. William Smith, of Weymouth. By this marriage he became allied to 2 numerous and highly-respectable family connection, which greatly assisted him in his professional business.

In 1778, Congress selected him as one of the Commissioners to France; Feb. 13, he sailed in the frigate Boston, with his son John Q. Adams, then ten years of age, and arrived at Bordeaux, France, April 8. Owing to some misdemeanors of Mr. Silas Dean, the commissioners were placed in an embarrassed position; so much so, that Mr. Adams concluded to take no vert with the second street of seventseen months. part with them, and returned home after an absence of seventeen months.

On his arrival home he was selected by the town of Braintree as delegate to attend a convention for the formation of a State Government, where he took an active and important part; but he was soon called away from the convention to attend to the duty of a commissioner to negotiate a treaty of peace with great Britain, and for some years he was the American Ambassador to the Court of St. James.

Mr. Adams was chosen in 1789 the first Vice President of the United States and at the expiration of Washington's term of office, as President Mr. Adams was chosen to succeed him in this high and important position. After his term of office expired he retired to his residence in Quincy. In 1820, he was selected by the citizens of his native town, as a delegate, to the State Convention that assembled to amend the State Constitution. The remaining portion of his long life was spent in literary labors, and holding correspondence with the most eminent statesmen of that period. He, with his co-patriot, Thomas Jefferon, expired on their country's birthday, the 4th of July, 1826. Mr. Adams' age at the time of his death was ninety-one years.

The Mayor's Grandfather.

CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS,

United States Minister to England During the Civil War.

Charles Francis Adams, third son of President John Q. Adams, was born in Boston in 1807, and a large part of his youthful education was obtained abroad, while his father was Minister to Foreign Courts. He was graduated at Harvard University in 1825; after graduating he studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1828.

Mr. Adams represented the city of Boston five years in the State Legislature, three years in the Senate, and two in the House; he also was editor of the "Boston Whig." In 1848 he was a candidate for Vice President on the ticket with Martin Van Buren. In 1858 Mr. Adams was elected to represent the third Massachusetts Congressional District in Congress. In 1860 he was again re-elected. Mr. Agams did not serve out this term, as he was appointed by President Lingoln, Minister to England, where he sustained the high reputation his grandfather and father had established as a diplomatist. Mr. Adams ained at the Court of St. James until succeeded by Reverdy Johnson,

OUR MAYOR'S FAMILY.

Among the Most Distinguished in the Country for Over a Century.

Two Presidents of These United States were Mayor Adams' Ancestors.

His Crandfather a Minister to England, and His Father a Prominent Citizen.

HON. CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS, 2d, Mayor of Quincy, 1896.

Our new Mayor, Hon. Charles Francis Adams, 2d, embodies the full intellectual power and force of character that has distinguished the Adams family for the four preceding generations. A Boston paper said a few years ago:-"We have no reigning family in America, but it may be questioned whether many reigning families in Europe have kept up to the Adams' standard of ability for successive generations. It is said that genius is seldom transmitted, and in a comprehensive sense of the term the Adamses are not geniuses. But they have shown that intellectual activity, a capacity for achievement and sterling common sense, are transmissible for successive generations."

Our Mayor is in his 30th year. He is the son of the late John Quincy Adams, and was born in Quincy, August 2d, 1866. He was fitted for Harvard at Hopkinson's school, entering college in 1884, and graduating with the class of 1888. He was president of his class, and prominent in the clubs. During his sophomore and junior years he was coach of his class crew, and in 1890 was coach of the 'varsity crew when Harvard beat Yale so badly. He and his brother George, as "the Adams boys," have also been foremost among yachtsmen. They begun racing in the Dandelion and the Cricket was their next. Then they struck out in bigger crafts and with the 36-footer Papoose, were very successful. During a yachting season in England they added experience, and they have since sailed the Gossoon, Babboon, and Harpoon, and the past season won many prizes in the little cat, the Rooster.

In 1891, Mr. Adams was graduated from the Harvard Law School with distinction, when he studied with Judge Bumpus, and has taken up law as a profession. He entered the City Council in 1893, and has since been one of its active members, the past year as Chairman of the Finance Committee. He is an Independent Democrat in politics, and although the city gave Governor Greenhalge a majority of over eight hundred, Mr. Adams was elected Mayor on a Democratic and Citizens' ticket by a good majority over the Republican candidate. Success to Mayor Adams.

An Aptitude for Governing.

Our new Mayor is a noted yachtsman, and the success which has attended him on the water should be his at City Hall, for in the words of

" Each petty hand Can steer a ship becalm'd; but he that will Govern and carry her to her ends, must know His tides, his currents, how to shift her sails; What she will bear in foul, what in fair weathers; Where her springs are, her leaks and how to stop them; What strands, what shelves, what rocks do threaten her; The forces and the natures of all winds, Gusts, storms and tempests; when her keel ploughs hell, And deck knocks heaven, then to manage her Becomes the name and office of a pilot.'

The Mayor's Great Grandfather.

SIX PAGES.

President of United States, 1825-1829.

John Quincy Adams, the sixth President of the United States was born in the north precinct of Braintree, now the city of Quincy, July 11, 1767, in the southerly of the two old houses now standing on Franklin street. He was graduated from Harvard in 1787, and practised law in Newburyport and Boston. In 1794 he was United States minister to the Netherlands. In 1796 Minister Plenipotentiary to the court of Portugal, and later to court at Berlin. In 1801 he was nominated as Representative to Congress but lacked 59 votes of an election. In 1803 he was chosen to the Senate of the United States, serving until 1809. In 1805 he was professor of rhetoric and oratory at Harvard. In 1809 Minister Plenipotentiary to St. Petersburg. In 1814 he was one of the commissioners to treat for peace with Great Britain, which was signed at Ghent that year. In 1817 he was appointed by President Monroe, Secretary of State, and ably fulfilled the duties through both terms of Mr. Monroe's administration.

On the expiration of President Monroe's term of office, Mr. John Quincy Adams was chosen by the House of Representatives, President of the United States. After the expiration of his term in 1829, he retired to his home.

In 1831, he was chosen National Representative, and the greater part of his useful life was spent in the halls of Congress, even to the day of his death. On the 21st of February, 1848, he entered the Representative Hall of the the session had begun its duties, he arose paper as well as usual, and after the session had begun its duties, he arose paper in hand to address the speaker, and was taken with shock of paralysis, and fell into the arms of an associate member. While falling he uttered these, his last words, "This is the last of earth, I am content." He was taken to the Speaker's private apartments in the Capitol, where he remained insensible until the evening of the 23d of February, when his noble spirit departed this earth, at the age of eighty years and seven months.

Mr. Adams was married in England July 26, 1797 to Louise Catherine

Johnson, daughter of Joshua Johnson, the American consul to London.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS.

Prominent in Town Affairs and Candidate for Governor.

The Mayor's father passed away so recently that he is well remembered by us all. He was born in Boston, Sept. 22, 1833, and died in Quincy, Aug. 14, 1894. He was graduated from Harvard college in 1853 and spent several years in London while his father, Charles Francis Adams, was United States minister to England. Returning to this country he settled in Quincy, and it continued to be his residence until his death. He took a great interest in the town, and for many years officiated as moderator at the annual town meetings. He also served on the school committee and other boards.

Mr. Adams was well-known throughout the State and was noted for his fearless independence. In 1867, 1868 and 1869 he was the Democratic candidate for Governor, and in 1873 a candidate for Lieutenant Governor. In 1870, 1871 and 1873 he was in the Legislature. In 1872 a candidate for Vice President of the United States with Charles O'Connor. In 1884 he was nominated for Congress but declined in favor of Dr. William Everett. For several years he was State director of the Fitch-burg railroad. He was one of the Fifty Associates of Boston and promi-

In 1872 he was spoken of as a Presidential candidate, but in a letter to David A. Wells he said he did not want the nomination, but if the good people really believe they need such an anomalous being as I am they must express it in a manner to convince me of it. He was not nominated at the regular convention but was nominated for Vice President at a convention held in Louisville, Ky., Sept. 3, 1872 by the strict party Democrats

The same year he was also a candidate for Governor of Massachusetts but was defeated by Gov. Rice.

Mr. Adams has been quite extensively engaged in the field of literature, having edited the Revolutionary correspondence of his grandfather and grandmother, which was published in 1841; he has had published ten volumes of the works of Mr. John Adams, of which he was editor. These were published in 1856. He in later life edited and published twelve volumes of the works of John Q. Adams. In 1864, Harvard College conferred the honorary degree of LL. D. upon him.

PRESIDENT'S HILL.

This land was formerly the country residence of C. F. Adams. It overlooks the oceau, and the view both seaward and inland is unsurpassed in this vicinity The grounds are covered with rare and costly shade trees, a very desirable feature of a lot, and the farthest portion of the property is within four minutes' walk of both electric and steam cars. Persons wishing a fine lot in a first-class locality would do well to inspect this property before purchasing.

CRANCH HILL,

Probably better known as Adams' Field, is situated in the heart of the city. The land is high and dry, and the streets through the property are wide and straight. The lots are good size, the prices moderate and terms very reasonable. No better lots for a man of moderate means have ever been offered in

The widening of Coddington street would do much to develop a large section. Much else could be suggested, but in view of the unusually heavy expenses necessary not wise to undertake anything no absolutely urgent. On the whole the condition of Copeland street seems mos to justify and demand immediate attention The heavy teaming which passes over this road makes its condition serious, and the remedy difficult and expensive. Nothing short of a paved surface can long stand be way and that such changes of location and grade will be made as the probable future needs of the street and locality seem to require. The cost of paving and curbing the whole street would alone amount to abou $311 091 01 $26,000, and if on careful consideration the 52 451.00 burden of the whole work seems too grea for one year, I trust at least a part of this important work will be undertaken in the

SEWERAGE.

During the past year legislation has bee secured, a commission appointed, and some preliminary work done toward securing the adoption of a sewerage system $705 000 The need of pushing forward this work requires no argument. So far as the general plan is concerned the function of the city government is limited to passing on plans which of necessity are prepared by experts, but in the matter of deter mining the best and most equitable method of meeting the cost of construction the initiative and an equally heavy responsibility rests upon us. Since a sewer city as a whole perhaps more than any other public improvement which we could For current expenses we may raise either today undertake, it is but just that a conother hand an equal injustice would result if the present abutters alone were called on to assume the burden of a work which with future extensions will bring a direct benefit to every piece of land in our city. The exact proportion in which this division of cost should justly be made, and the most equitable and practicable method of assessing the betterments, are questions to which I wish to give further study before making any more definite recommenda

STREET LIGHTING.

There has been much just complaint for years past of the quality of our street lights. If the city can secure legislation under which we can construct an electric lighting plant for strictly municipal purposes, without purchasing the plant of the Quincy Electric Light and Power Co., the Council would do well to carefully investigate whether cheaper and better service could not be secured by the construction of a municipal lighting plant. While I de not as a rule believe that it is wise for a case it seems probable that facts will be found which will justify such action.

I would suggest that in order to avoid the danger and unsightliness which has resultonly adopt the principle of not allowing more than one set of poles in any street, will save much difficulty and expense in

One word more let me say. We all want to see Quincy well governed and prosperous. We all vaguely feel that it is a duty to take side-walks present, as usual, preplexing a personal interest in the affairs of the city. No one realizes more keenly than I that an administration can only really prosper and benefit the city if it enlists the support and personal interest of representative men of all industries and occupations, and from all sections. Realizing this, it will always be a pleasure to give all information in my power to any who may seek it, and I shall welcome all suggestions and information honestly given. Gentlemen of the Council, I trust our relations will be intimate and friendly, and I believe that they will be so, for diff rences can be but momentary when our one motive is to secure the welfare of

In northern Germany it is said that as the weather is during each of the 12 days, so it will be during the corresponding months of the year to come. A like belief exists to this day in Lancashire and Northamptonshire, England, and a very old writer (1590) records the current notion in his day that coming year's weather. It was said in hard on the fifth night (Dec. 30), ships | gery of life. at sea would be in great peril the coming year.

The inhabitants of the Vosges mountains restrict this prophesying period to that of our holidays, from Christmas to New Year's, and are willing only to say that these six days indicate the character of the weather for the succeeding six months.

In one part of our own country it is said that "the first three days of January rule the coming three months,' while in another place the 12 days are said to be the "keys of the year." Of New Year's day itself we have the authority of a very old weather prophet-the author of the "Shepherd's Kalendar"-for the generally ominous portents to be drawn from the weather on that day, "If New Year's day in the denotes strife and debates among the vear."

In the "Book of Presidents" (precemonth, the opening day, and seventh, like a sword will slav.

The first day of the year is often regarded as the proper time to make certain divinations with reference to many events affecting the future. In Northamptonshire the master of the family then tempts fate by opening the Bible with his eyes shut and obtaining from the passage first touched with his finger some indication of the events of the coming year.

Among the Wends young maidens hasten the advent of the chosen husband by going to the henhouse on New Year's eve, striking the perch right among the hens, while repeating to themselves the following doggerel:

If cackles the hen, You will have a man: Who knows when?

Certain observances are supposed to obtain luck for the year following. In one part of modern Greece all in the house go out early New Year's morning, then return to the dwelling bearing each a branch on which the leaves are well dried. These are cast on the open fire, each wishing at the same time good luck to the family. The drier the leaves, the greater the flame and the better the augury.

In the north of England new clothes are put on for luck the first day of the

An odd ceremony is recorded of one locality in England. Bands of straw were put under the feet on New Year's day while at table. When the meal was finished, one person got under the table and another one sat on his back and drew out the bands of straw. These were taken to the orchard and bound round trees, which were thereby insured to bear a full crop of fruit the next

In parts of France it is regarded as unlucky to lend anything on New Year's day.

The fire must be watched with great care on the first day of the year. In Lancashire, England, it is said that if it do not burn through the night of New Year's eve, bad luck will visit the household that year; nor must any one be given a live coal, or even a lighted candle at this time, for the bad luck will then visit the recipient of the gift. At Auspach the shadow thrown on the wall by the candles on the Christmas tree, on New Year's evening will, if any one is to die soon, represent his shadow headless. In Roumania the New Year begins with a ceremony of blessing the waters, of one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000) of United States 4 per cent coupon or registered bonds, in denominations of fifty dollars ($50 and multiples of that sum, as may be desired

The right to reject any or all bids is reserved.

The bonds will be dated Feb. 1, 1895, and be payable in coin 31 years after that date, and will bear interest at 4 per centum per annum, payable quarterly in coin, but all coupons mapayane quarterly in con, to the deturing on and before Feb. 1, 1896, will be detached, and purchasers will be required to pay in United States gold or gold certificates for the bonds awarded to them and all interest accrued thereon after Feb. 1, 1896, up to the time of application for delivery.

Payments for the bonds must be made at the treasury of the United States at Wa-hington, or at the United States sub-treasuries at New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis or New Orleans, or they may be made at San Francisco with ex-change on New York, and all bids must state what denominations of bonds are desired, and whether coupon or registered, and at what place they will be paid for.

Payments may be made by installments, a follows: Twenty per cent (20) upon receipt of notice of acceptance of bids, and 20 per cent (20) at the end of each 10 days thereafter; but

(20) at the end of each 10 days thereafter; but all accepted bidders may pay the whole amount at the date of first installment, and those who have paid all installments previously maturing may pay the whole amount of their bids at any time not later than the maturity of the first installment.

The bonds will be ready for delivery on or before Feb. 15, 1896.

Notice is further hereby given that if the issue and sale of an additional or different Notice is further hereby given that if the issue and sale of an additional or different form of bond for the maintenance of the gold reserve shall be authorized by the law before Feb. 5, 18.6, sealed proposals for the purch stof such bonds will also be received at the same time and place, and up to the same date, and upon the same terms and conditions herein set forth, and such bills will be considered as well as the bids for the four (4) per cent bonds herein mentioned.

Secretary of the Treasury.

herein mentioned. J. G. CARLISLE,
Secretary of the Treasury. The Loan Will Be a "Popular One," and the circular, which is dated Jan. 6 gives notice that the government will sell $100,000,000 30-year 4 per cent coupon or registered bonds dated Feb. 1, 1895, for which purchasers will be required to pay in gold coin or gold certificates.

This is the first issue by the present administration of such a large amount of bonds at one time, all the previous issues having been for $50,000,000 each. The circular also contains an intimation of a possible further issue of bonds should the ssue or sale of an additional or different form of bond for the m. gold reserve be authorized by the law be fore Feb. 5.

The fact that the bonds will be issued in sums of $50 and multiples thereof, and be payable in installments, is a feature which it is believed will make them regarded with popular favor.

The main reason for dating the bonds HORSESHOER, back a year is said be be in order to give the public a better opportunity to judge their market value by comparing the with the gold 4s issued at that time, so that their bids can be made to conform with the market value of these bonds or Feb. 1. The circular is as follows:

Tired of Politics.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 6.—The Tribune prints the following statement by ex-Secretary of the Treasury Charles Foster: "I can tell you positively that General Harrison Oct. 1. does not want the presidential nomina tion, nor would he take it if it were tendered him. I know absolutely that this is his present determination. Of course, we cannot tell what the future may bring forth. I was in New York a few days ago and General B. F. Tracy told me that General Harrison had told him that under no circumstances would he consent to his name being placed before the St. Louis convention.

A Checkered Career.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.-Dr. James W. Rogers, who, as one of the chief promoters of the Pan-Electric company, gained considerable notoriety at the time of its investigation by congress, died in Maryland. He was born in North Carolina in 1822; graduated from Princeton, studied law and subsequently theology. He was an Episcopal minister for 20 years, living in Mississippi and Tennessee. Later he be came a Roman Catholic. He lived in New York city, Memphis and Indianapolis, editing a paper at the last named place. Since 1877 most of his time had been spent in this city.

Norfolk, Jan. 6.—Two large co .cns dill soon begin operations in this city. will soon begin operations in this city. One is the American Ordnance company, whose capital will perhaps be $2,500,000. It will manufacture ordnance and ordnance supplies. The second concern is the Hotchkiss Ordnance company, which is to be a branch of the English company of the same name. It will make guns, gun mountings and similar articles.

Dissatisfied Miners.

ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 6.-The miners at Mitchell, Taylor and McCoy's and the East End Coal company's mines, in and about Gallitzin, to the number of 900, have struck for an advance of 10 cents a ton at night and 20 per cent for day work. It is expected that all the mountain miners will go out. The operators say they will not grant the advance.

A Rare Spectacle Witnessed In Baltimore Cathedral.

Ecclesiastical and State Dignitaries Attend In Vast Numbers.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 6 .- At the Baltimore cathedral yesterday, Francis Satolli, titular archbishop of Lepanto and papal ablegate to the United States, was formally vested with the scarlet, which marks the rank of cardinal.

Archbishops, bishops, monsignors and divines of various grades in the Catholic church, statesmen, diplomats and hundreds of the great and lowly, Catholics and non-Catholics, witnessed the services. Prominent prelates from every section of the country took part in the proceed ings, and the splendor of the vestments, the grandeur of the music and the pomp of the ritual combined to form a spectacle of rare impressiveness and brilliancy. The ceremony consisted of conferring the beretta, which is the cap worn by priests on ordinary occasions, and differing only in the case of cardinals in that it is red. The preceding steps have been the conferring of the muchetto or red skullcap and the administering of the oath. The remaining step is the conferring of the red hat, which must be done in Rome, by the pope himself, within six months from Nov. 30, the day upon which Satolli's appointment was made.

The initial step in the ceremonies of the day took place at the palace of the car- we have deemed him worthy of so great an dinal, shortly after 9 o'clock in the morning, when Mgr. Sharretti presented his credentials to Cardinal Gibbons. These credentials, which came from the holy see, the cardinalate. They were also accom-

> While this scene was in progress within the palace the procession was forming in front of Calvert hall, a block away. At 10 o'clock it was ready to start, and when formed the participants were arranged as

First came the processional cross bearer with the crucifix raised high in the air, and flanked on either side by a boy in cas-sock and surplice. Following him were a long line of students from the various Catholic colleges, after which came seminarians from St. Mary's, then the priests, then Franciscan monks in their garb of brown. Following these came the memadorned with the shovel-board hats of the scholar. After these came 50 bishops and score or more archbishops, the purple in the cold, clear air, their immense trains held up by little boys in brilliant vest-

In this formation they marched through Cathedral to Charles street and passed the palace of the cardinal, where they were joined by his eminence, who took his place man who will for some time at least share shoulders hung the beautiful cloak of dozen train bearers, clad in cardinal velvet and gilt braid, following in his wake. In this order they swept along up Mul-berry street to Cathedral again, where they filed into the venerable old pile through the main entrance way. Mgr. Satolli was not in the procession, but as the head of it reached the altar, he, accompanied by Mgr. Sharretti, Marquise Sacripanti, the member of the holy guard, who brought the cardinalitial insignia here, and the priests who had been deputized to assist him in the coming ceremony, entered the cathedral from a rear door leading from the palace, and advanced to the front of the altar. The students and seminarians filed to the right and to the left as they passed to the front of the altar, finding seats on either side. The others in the procession advanced within the sanctuary and took the places reserved for them.

On the Altar.

As the procession wended its way down the center aisle, the organ, a full orchestra and a chorus of 50 voices rendered a triumphal march. When Cardinal Gibbons reached the altar he bowed low to Satolli, who returned the salutation, and each, accompanied by his assistant priest and deacons of honor, sought the throne upon which he was to rest during the greater part of the ceremony. That of Cardinal Gibbons was on the left side of the altar, that of Satolli on the right side. The deacons were 18 assistant priests.

When the two persons most prominent in the ceremonies of the day had taken their places, Marquis Sacripanti, clad in the scarlet, gold and white uniform of the noble guard, wearing high top boots, and sword and heimet on, advanced from his position near the center of the altar and deposited on the table at the left hand of Cardinal Gibbons the cardinalitial documents and the beretta. Then he crossed the altar and stood in front of the throne occupied by Satolli, lifted his helmet, and, falling back, took up a position to the right of Safolli.

On the same side stood Eugene Kelly of New York, and on the opposite side of Satolli's throne stood Charles A. Bristead, also of New York, chamberlains to the pope. Both were clad in the regulation black cloth swallow-tail coat and the low cut vest of evening dress. As soon as all the principal actors in the spectacle had assumed their positions, Dr. Rooker of the Satolli from the pope:

But He Had Not Arrived.

Rosanna was attired in a costly wed-ding dress and appeared radiant. The father and mother and seven children, comprising the family, were dressed in their best. Two of Chretlen's friends, who had been notified by the bridegroom, were present, and their astonishment knew no bounds when they learned that the groom was among the missing.

Rosanna's mother had made two or

KILLED ROBERT ROSS.

His Pal, "Bat" Shea.

ALBANY, Jan. 6 .- The climax of one of the most dramatic and sensational criminal incidents of the state's history took place yesterday when, just 48 hours prior to the execution of the death sentence upon Bartholomew shea, another man confessed to the murder, and Shea steps from beneath the shadow of death thrown by the electrical chair.

The man who voluntarily confessed to the crime is John McGough of Troy, now serving a sentence of 191/2 years for shooting and attempting to kill William Ross, a brother of Robert Ross, who was supposed to be Shea's victim. In some way known only to convicts, McGough had contrived to keep informed as to the success or the failure of the application for commutation made in behalf of Shea. On Saturday, when Warden Thayer was interfere, and arrangements were being made for the execution, McGough sent for tien, aged 25 years, who has been waiting the warden, and told him that he wished to upon Rosanna during the past eight make a statement concerning the murder of Robert Ross. The Warden had Mc-Stark mill, No. 6, and for all the now Gough taken to the office, and handing heart-broken girl knew, everything was him pen and paper, told him to put down what he had to say in writing. McGough wrote a communication of about two Kidder street, while Chretien boards in pages, and signing it with his full name, McGregorville. Saturday the young man handed it to the warden. To the surprise came to the bride-elect's home and saw of the warden and his deputies, the paper contained a detailed statement that he, McGough, and not Shea, had shot and killed Robert Ross.

Warden Thayer went at once to the telephone when McGough had been called to his cell and called up the executive chamber. He asked the governor to please receive a messenger whom he said would are rive, and then at once dispatched Prison Inspector Coughlin to Albany, Mr. Coughlin arrived in this city yesterday and caught Governor Morton at the man sion. The governor, upon learning the nature of the communication, sent at once for Pardon Clerk Joyce and Shea's counsel, Galen R. Hitt.

After a brief conference the governor decided to grant a respite for four weeks, during which time counsel could take the proper means to bring the matter before the courts for a new trial. The respite was issued today, and will be in force until Feb. 4. Mr. Hitt went before the supreme court this morning and asked for a new trial for Shea and the production in court of McGough.

Chief Recommendations of Inaugural Addresses

Presented In a Concise Form For the Benefit of Busy Readers.

Boston, Jan. 7.-Yesterday was inauguration day in Massachusetts, and from all State's many enterprising and industrious cities. Following are brief extracts from the inaugural addresses of the mayors: Josiah Quincy took the oath of office as mayor of Boston before an audience that occupied every available inch of room in the council chamber. In his inaugural address Mayor Quincy said that the merchants' municipal committee was assured, and their first work would be to nsider the tax laws. He advocated the abolition of grade crossings, a union station for the Old Colony and the New York and New England railroads, legislation to limit the power of the police board, a thorough examination of the sanitary and general condition of school ildings, cities and towns to be allowed to make contracts with railroads for the use of their streets, and the election of the city council for a term of three years each, and that the term of part of the members should terminate each year.

Somerville.

Somerville, Mass., Jan. 7.-Mayor Perry referred to the faithful and concientious service rendered the city by Horace L. Eaton, the deceased city en-gineer, and, in the interests of better streets, suggests the giving of a bicycle to the superintendent of streets and compelling him to ride 20 miles a day over Somerville's principal thoroughfares. The mayor thinks the punishment would be effectual in compelling better highways. Chelsea.

CHELSEA, Mass., Jan. 7. - Mayor Loud emmends the watering and sweeping of the streets by the city, and urges the city, the importance of framing ordinances that will compel the placing of the wires under ground in the central part of the city. The company known as the Chelsea Rifles, ys, "should be encouraged to do its , for if the war cloud in the East continues to grow it may be needed as the nucleus of an army."

Waltham.

WALTHAM, Mass., Jan. 7 .- Mayor Ly man dwelt on the need of securing suburban residents of the better class for the city, and emphasized its advantages as a place of residence. He did not review the work of the year, but made certain recom mendations for the immediate future and announced his determination to send special messages from time to time when the occasion seemed to require one.

Fall River.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Jan. 7 .- Mayor Greene recommends the sale of the city farm, the extension of the term of office of the city solicitor and that a committee be appointed who shall call public hearings and give an opportunity for public expression on the subject, and who shall finally submit such amendments as they deem proper to the legislature for its action.

Springfield. SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 7. - Mayor Winter is of the opinion that what this city most needs is to exchange an old poitical charter for a new business charter. He therefore recommends that a committee of five citizens be appointed to investigate the need of a change, to make a study of municipal government, and report their Cambridge.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 7.-The inaugural address of Mayor Bancroft was chiefly devoted to a review of the present prosperous condition of the city as a pleasant preliminary to the celebration of the 50th anniversary next spring. He pointed out the excellent chances Cambridge offers for investment.

Worcester.

WORCESTER, Mass., Jan. 7 .- Mayor Sprague advocates an increase and reorganization of the police force, increase in he salary of the city solicitor, and that the city council and citizens in general take immediate steps to raise a sufficient fund for the erection of a monument to General Charles Devens. .

Gloucester. GLOUCESTER, Mass., Jan. 7. - Mayor Robinson finds that the police force of that city is far below the standard in both competency and efficiency, and he recommends a reorganization of the force and a reduction in the number of regular patrolmen. "Efficiency," he says, "must be had

-it must be had now."

Newton. Newton, Mass., Jan. 7.-Mayor Cobb of Newton recommends an enlargement of the fire alarm telegraph service, endorses the report of the joint special committee on revising the city charter, and believes in the prompt extension of the sewer system to the Newton Highlands

Taunton.

TAUNTON, Mass., Jan. 7.-Mayor Morris

WOBURN, Mass., Jan. 7 .- Mayor Allen advocates the fostering and encouragement of the leather industry, the revision of the city charter so as to provide for a single board of 11 members, the building of a new 10-room schoolhouse and a circuit telephone for the fire department.

QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1896.

Holyoke.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

HOLYOKE, Mass., Jan. 7.-Mayor Curran advocated a "pay as you go" policy, after making a statement regarding the city finances, showing that $93,000 was needed to meet the notes of the year. He also declared that a new water system was Everett.

EVERETT, Mass., Jan. 7 .- Mayor Henso as to enable the city to purchase such parts of existing plants as are located within its boarders at the cost of duplicating the same, and an act requiring street railway companies to water the streets in which their tracks are laid or pay an annual tax into the city treasury for the use North Adams.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., Jan. 7 .- North Adams became a city with the swearing over the commonwealth come reports of in of Mayor Houghton and the city counprosperity, glowing addresses from the cil. Colonel Andrew Potter was elected newly elected mayors, large crowds at the city solicitor, Charles A. Kendall chief of exercises and tidings of growth of the Bay | police and W. W. Byars chief of fire department.

Salem.

SALEM, Mass., Jan. 7 .- Mayor Turner recommends that the city do its own street watering and concreting, and says that it is useless to attempt to make much-needed reforms in the police department, because of the pressure brought to bear on the Lawrence.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Jan. 7.-Mayor Jenkins urges that some early action be taken in the matter of laying out a park system, and favors the creation of a loan for a long term of years to carry on the work, and recommends a high-water service.

Mariboro. MARLBORO, Mass., Jan. 7 .- Mayor Bartlett advocated a firm and fair enforcement of the liquor laws, the providing of a proper building for the insane poor, the abolition of grade crossings and the establishment of a public park. Medford. MEDFORD, Mass., Jan. 7 .- In his address, Mayor Perry called special attention to accident or emergency. Lowell, Lowell, Mass., Jan. 7 .- An increase in the fire department was recommended by Mayor Courtney. A. declared that all city employes should be forbidden to take Haverhill. HAVERHILL, Mass., Jan. 7 .- Mayor Jewett recommends the abolition of grade crossings, the burying of electric wires, the erection of a building for contagious diseases and the building of a new school

Newburyport.

Curtis' inaugural address advocated improvement in the police department, enforcement of the liquor law and the appointment of an assistant city clerk.

MALDEN, Mass., Jan. 7.-Mayor Walker advocates the taking of immediate steps to abolish grade crossings and 5-cent fares for the eastern section of the city to Boston on the electric cars.

Brockton. BROCKTON, Mass., Jan. 7 .- Mayor Will-proper restrictions, to purchase all supand costly high school building. plies for the city. New Bedford. NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Jan. 7 .- Mayor Parker hopes for liberal treatment in the matter of grade crossings, and advocates the erection of another new schoolhouse.

Northampton. NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Jan. 7.-Mayor Fifleld believes that the city should have better light and that more interest should be taken in the local militia. Pittsfield. PITTSFIELD, Mass., Jan. 7.-The new city government was inagurated with Mayor Hawkins at its head. Mayor Hawkins made no appointments. Fitchburg. FITCHBURG, Mass., Jan. 7 .- Mayor Rockwell recommends that a committee be appointed to consider the advisability of a revision of the city charter.

Beverly. BEVERLY, Mass., Jan. 7 .- Mayor Odell recommends the purchase of shore lands for park purposes and the reorganization of the police department.

Chicopee. CHICOPEE, Mass., Jan. 7.—Mayor Grant stated that the tax rate this year would probably be higher than that of $13.80 last

In the New South.

ATLANTA, Jan. 7 .- The Whittier cotton mills, located on the Chattahoochee river. six miles from this city, were set in opera-tion yesterday. Miss Helen A. Whittier of Lowell, Mass., president of the company, pressed an electric button and put the spindles in operation, opening up an-other industry for Georgia and giving employment to between 300 and 400 people The construction of the mills was begun last spring. The total cost was $200,000. The mills have 10,000 spindles, and is one of the finest equipped plants in the country.

Talking Fight

LONDON, Jan. 7 .- The Times, in an editorial this morning, again reminds the recommends an iron bridge over Mill river United States that "Whether we have at Washington street; lighting the city from one end to the other; that the lights will not yield on the Venezuelan question. be kept burning every and all night; We have insulted nobody, but if we are the hiring of public school teachers whose education has been paid for by the city. compelled to fight we shall be ready to guard what is worth fighting for." SENSATIONAL ENDING.

The Atwood Libel Case Brought to an Ignominious Ending.

Boston, Jan. 7. - The case of libel brought by Congressman Atwood against Lawyer Peabody came to an end yesterday in a manner as inglorious as it was sensational. At the request of the congressman, with the agreement of Mr. Peabody, the case, the trial of which should have been resumed yesterday, was nol prossed. It is announced that the city will institute proceedings against several of the contractors to recover money, which it was shown by witnesses who testifled during the libel trial had been paid for laborers who had not been employed and for material which had not been used. derson recommends the modification by These suits, if not pushed through the the legislature of the laws governing the establishment of electric lighting plants will be instituted by the citizens' commit-

On Beacon Hill.

Boston, Jan. 7 .- In the senate yesterday the report of the committee on rules came up for acceptance in concurrence. Mr. Sanger said that the committee on rules were unanimous upon all their recommendations, with the single exception of the proposed consolidation of the taxation and finance committees as a committee of ways and means. Mr. Wellman moved to amend the report so that the joint committee on taxation, the house committee on finance and the senate committee on treasury be restored. Mr. Galloupe moved to change the name of the proposed committee on county affairs by striking out the word county. The amendments were adopted, and the report was adopted and sent to the house for concurrence in the senate's amendments.

Looks Like Peace. HAVERHILL, Mass., Jan. 7 .- The board of conciliation met last night with a large attendance of manufacturers. Frank E Hutchinson, at whose shoe factory a cutdown had been reported, and to whose action the present threatening troubles are said to be accountable, sent a communication withdrawing from membership in the board. This action would indicate that he desired to try issues with the labor men single handed. The board appointed a committee to ask him to withdraw his resignation. Another committee will consider the price-list for stitching, over which the trouble has been brewing. Last night's harmonious meeting augurs well for peace.

Mercury Away Down.

Boston, Jan. 7 .- The presence of the record breaking cold wave which settled down on Massachusetts and the rest of New England last week is still apparent, the need of an increase in the fire department, as the present department can hardly be considered efficient in case of an erating. The hospitals here were all busy today attending to cases of frost-bites. At the Emergency hospital no less than 74 were treated. The water front employes and truckmen suffered severely, and all incoming mariners report having experienced a terrible time. The lowest official temperature during the present cold wave any active part in the political affairs of was 10° below. Many places in northern New England and the lower provinces report the temperature from 20° to 30° be-

Coolness Prevented Panic.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., Jan. 7 .- The schoolhouse of this town was partly destroyed by fire yesterday. The blaze was discovered by Principal Tilton, who immediately dismissed the four classes without disclosing the reason for his action, and the pupils left the building without a panic, although the flames were already breaking from the side of the structure. The loss will be heavy.

Conflicting News.

LONDON, Jan. 7 .- All sorts of rumors are in circulation, due to the delay in receiving accurate news from Cape Colony. The report circulated on Saturday that the Uitlanders had risen and rescued Dr. Jameson is still in circulation, although it has been contradicted more than once. Then, again, it is said that the British government is hurrying troops from India to Cape Town. But there would seem to be no necessity for such a step, as a concentration of military forces from other British African colonies could be made there Tailors Are Winning.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. - The locked-out tailors rejoice over the report that 22 contractors resigned from the association yesterday, and the executive board of the brotherhood reported that 400 of the men who have been locked out for four weeks, will return to work for those contractors at once, under the brotherhood terms.

The streets, sidewalks, sewers, water, lights, car accommodations, steam and electric, schools and other things all take time, and money, patience and good nature; but we will get there just the same, and with our pulpit orators, our legal fraternity, one to teach in the right way, and the other to demonstrate that we always are in the right way; while the Debating Society will turn out scores of orators to fill the air with sweet sounds. Mr. Faxon said with all the flow of ora tory they have not stole all my thunder. We have assembled on this auspicious occa-

It was the first election since our incorporation as a city in which party ties were utterly disregarded, and it shows that the independent voters exercised their political rights in earnest.

Ordered by Senate Committee on Finance, Eight to Five.

Popular Loan's Benefit to Treasury Is Questioned.

Congressmen See Flaws In the Administration's Proposal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 .- The finance committee of the senate met yesterday afternoon for the purpose of resuming the consideration of the bond and tariff bills.

Republican members of the committee say the bond call of Secretary Carlisle is carefully drawn and capable of covering every contingency. While they will not permit themselves to be quoted, they say that the call bears upon its face an evidence of the desire of the treasury to be fair in the matter and place the loan in the usual manner.

Previous to the meeting of the finance committee, the silver members of the committee were in conference and agreed upon the text of the bill they proposed to submit in full committee. There was no debate in the committee over the measure Following is the full text of the substi-tute for the bond bill adopted by the senate finance committee:

That from and after the passage of this act the mints of the United States shall be open to the coinage of silver, and there shall be coined dollars of the weight of 412½ grains, troy, of standard silver, 9-10ths fine, as provided by the act of Jan. 18, 1837, and upon the same terms and subject to the limitations and provisions of law regulating the coinage and legal tender quality of gold, and whenever the said coins herein provided for shall be received into the nerein provided for shall be received into the treasury, certificates may be issued thereon in the manner now provided by law. Sect. 2—That the secretary of the treasury shall coin into standard silver dollars, as soon as practicable, according to the provisions of as practicable, according to the provisions of section 1 of this act, from the silver bullion purchased under authority of the act of July 14, 1890, entitled: "An act directing the purchase of silver bullion and the issue of treasury notes thereon, and for other purposes," that portion of said silver bullion which represents the seigniorage or profit to the government, to wit: The difference between the cost of silver purchased under said act and its coinage value; and said silver dollars so coined shall be used in payment of the current exshall be used in payment of the current expenses of the government; and for the purpose of making the said seigniorage immediately available for use as money, the secretary of the treasury is hereby authorized and directed to immediate the secretary of the secretary of the treasury is nerved authorized and directed to immediate the secretary of rected to issue silver certificates against it, as if it was already coined and in the treasury.

Sect. 3—That no national banknote shall be hereafter issued for a denomination less than $10, and all notes of such banks now outstand-

$10, and all notes of such banks now outstanding of denominations less than that sum shall be, as rapidly as practicable, taken up, redeemed and cancelled, and notes of $10 and larger denominations shall be issued in their stead under the direction of the comptroller of the currency.

Sect. 4—That the secretary of the treasury shall redeem the United States notes, commonly called greenbacks, and also the treasury notes issued under the provisions of the actual July 14, 1890, when present wer & top of in standard silver deen five for redemption, for redemption ollars or in gold coin, using silver coins the of said notes either gold or holder, or both, not at the option of the holder , or both, not at the option of the , but exclusively at the option of the Sorrgovernment, and said notes, commonly called greenbacks, when so redeemed, shall be reissued, as provided by the act of May 81, 1878. The substitute was adopted without dis cussion, the vote being 8 to 5. Senator Walcott was absent, but his vote was counted for the bill. The yeas were: Voorhees, Harris, Jones (Ark.), Vest, White, Walthall, Democrats; Jones (Nev.), Populist, and Walcott, Republican. The nays were: Morrill, Sherman, Allison,

The Democrats indicated their willingness after the bond bill was disposed of to take up the tariff bill, but the Republicans asked for further time in order to submit the tariff to the Republican caucus.

May Fall Back on Syndicate. The popular bond issue occasions little surprise, although it came at the last earlier than was indicated by the apparent indifference of the administration last

For months every person who in any degree reflected the administration views and policy has declared in unmistakable A he tones that popular bond issues did little good, and that the syndicate contract was the financiering from which the country really benefited most, and with which the administration was best satisfied. The whole argument for greenback retirement rests upon this idea.

But the syndicate contract plan was not popular either with congress, the press or the country. Only a small class under stood the necessity or agreed with the administration's contention. Some of the popular newspapers had already fallen into hysterics at the prospect of repetition of last February's contract, and such a deal would not have been supported by 20 votes in the house or 10 in the senate. As a re sult of this failure of the country to endorse the syndicate contract idea, the president decided to give the country a popular bond issue, or what will appear at the start as one. If the popular loan becomes an actuality by prompt subscription to the full amount, the administration will rely upon its failure to produce the permanent relief of the treasury needs as the best possible object lesson upon the necessity of greenback retirement. Should the popular loan feature fail to materialize, as it did two years ago, it will still be possible for the government to accept a lump sum for the full sum, or what amounts to a syndi-

This is what the insiders really expect will happen, and in this way hostile criti-cism will have been avoided by the first offer, while the "string attached" will bring about the results which the administration would have sought straightway had it been indifferent to public opinion. It would be absurd to suppose that the administration disingenuously believed a popular bond issue at this time the best thing. This would be to stultify their utterance of a year past, from which they have given no sign of recanting.

Members of congress are generally disinclined to say anything over their names upon the merits of the proposed bond issue A popular loan meets with approval, bu some insist that certain features of the proposal will thwart that end, such as the large size of the issue, and the fact that it must be paid in five 20 per cent installments, one on acceptance of bid and the others 10 days apart. The syndicate was given a number of months instead of 40 days in which to make their deposit . Some question still exists as to the wisdom and the legality of the dating back for one year of this issue.

UTAH GIVES THANKS. Proud That She Has Been Admitted to the Sisterhood of States.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 7 .- The oath of office was administered to the state officials at noon yesterday. The city was crowded with persons from all parts of the new state. Acting Governor Richards had by proclamation declared the day a holiday, and all business was suspended in consequence

Heber M. Wells, the first governor of the new state of Utah, said: "Utah en-ters the Union under the most auspicious circumstances. It has a greater popula-tion than the states of Delaware, Nevada, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming or North Da-kota. Its industrial wealth is greater than any of its surrounding commonwealths. "It has been qualified for admission for 40 years. Its people have been very patient. Their joy is, therefore, the more complete. We rejoice with each other that at last we may enjoy the privileges that many of the states have had for more than a century. We rejoice that our representatives will sit in the councils of the nation and that we are at last permitted a voice in the selection of the President of the United States.

"We rejoice that we are entitled to all the privileges of citizenship in the grandest nation under the sun. In the general felicitation of this day, and with all proper modesty, I congratulate the Union, as well as the state, upon the acquisition of another commonwealth of magnificent proportions and superb possibilities.

"Every youth has been taught that patriotic love for country perpetuates liberty. Our allegiance to the government will ever remain supreme. If ever the clocks of war hang over the land, Utah's will be found in the vanguard defer national rights and honor. Utah to stretches forth its arms and beckons the densely peopled districts of the east to come out and share its glories."

No Public Reference to Bond Issue.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The senate not being in session yesterday, all the interest in legislative matters was concentrated in the south wing of the Capitol, where there was some expectance that there might be a flurry of some kind in connection with the 30-day call for bids of $100,000,000 4 per cent bonds. No public reference, however, was made to the subject. After some preliminary routine business the house adjourned.

League Said to Have Obtained Fees Which Belonged to Courts.

Boston, Jan. 8.-A special dispatch from Concord, N. H., to The Herald says: There is a strong public sentiment in this commonwealth that the New Hampshire State Law and Order league should be investigated. The league has aimed to improve and benefit public morals since its organization, and over two years ago undertook to enforce the temperance laws as a part of that highly laudable and commendable purpose. It has met with a lamentable failure in the latter branch of moral work, and has aid itself open to numerous charges implying, if not indicating, corruption. It is alleged that violators of the liquor law have been protected from complaints and raids. It is claimed that dealers have been practically licensed to do business jail sentences repeatedly To Secure the Payment of Fines.

It is said that complaints have been withdrawn on the payment of certain sums to the order, and that as a result nothing has been received by the state when the purpose of the law is to have half the amounts paid into court.

It is declared that repeatedly liquors seized by law and forfeited to the comnonwealth have been returned to the original owners when cases have been set-

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

MAYOR ADAMS struck the keynote o Quincy's future prosperity when he said at the inaugural banquet that "we have a double population-one developing its granite industries, another which lives here and works elsewhere. We should work to make Quincy more attractive as a residential city."

For years it has become more and more apparent that the city's future prosperity depended upon making it an attractive residential city. The quarries have given the city a start but there is a limit to the amount of money which they can add to the city's taxable property. Is seems as if this limit was nearly reached. To carry forward the good work which this great industry has accomplished for the community it is now necessary that other means be devised. Milton, Newton and Brookline have piled up their immense valuations not by building factories but by adopting the simple expedient of beautifying the communities, thus attracting wellto-do people to come there and live. The result is that the valuations go up and the taxes go down. Quincy is beautifully situated for such a purpose, with its a minor of Quincy, bond $3,000. gently undulating country, magnificent views and beautiful opportunities for drives. The city fathers should add to minors; bond $1000. natures' gift by building good roads, laying out parks, building sewers and under-

With a progressive Mayor in the chair, a Council composed of our best business Our Goods are always re- men, the preliminary work should no onger be delayed. It means thousands of dollars to the city and its future prosperity s at stake.

> THE REPRESENTATIVES from Quincy in he Legislature are entitled to a new deal, for in the appointments of committees neither of the two gentlemen have an ace, face card or trump. A hasty glance over the list discovered Representative Newcomb well down in the Committee on L'quor Laws, and Representative Thompson last on the Committee on Fisheries and Game. That neither of these gentlemen are on the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs, Cities, Manufactures, Taxation, or Counties is a disappointment to the voters of Quincy, interested in these important matters. Representative Flint of Weymouth has fared very well indeed being House chairman of the Committee on Counties, and also Street Railways, and members who get the best positions, and Quincy which only elecis for two years preside. generally does not take the prominent part

No Fear of Insurgents.

Rumors That the City Has Already Fallen.

No Thanks Due Uncle Sam Should Cubans Win, Says Don Dickinson.

HABANA, Jan. 7 .- Loud disclaimers cre being uttered by the authorities here that they have any fear for the welfare of the city. It is pointed out that the city is well fortified, being protected by the strong Fortress Morro, and being garri-soned by the Cabanas, Principe, Alares, Santa Clara and Reina troops, with heavy artillery, and by 20,000 volunteers, with 40,000 more loyal citizens in the city willing to take arms.

confidence, that it would be impossible for the insurgents to capture the city unless they were provided with slege artillery. It is claimed that only small bands of insurgents are engaged in the operations under Gomez, and that they are successful only in small towns. The main force of the insurgent army is now in the province of Pinar del Rio, the advance guard being at Pastoral and at Jaco Taco. A small band is reported at

Dickinson has received a dispatch from a Cuban in Washington confirming the story of the bulletins to the effect that the insurgents were actually entering the city of Habana. Mr. Dickinson, however, declined to state the sender's name or the precise contents of his message. Commenting on the fact that the Cubans are about to achieve their independence unaided, Mr. Dickinson said:

"Every member of congress should bow his head in shame that no steps were taken toward recognizing the state of war that has existed. Congress should be ashamed that it has not done something, in spite of all it has had on its hands. There is no reason why belligerency should not have been recognized. It has been perfectly plain that a state of war existed, yet our government has stood by and ignored it, while we, of all nations, should have been eager to assist a people struggling so hard for their freedom. Now they have evidently won their independence, not only without the aid of the United States, but in spite of us-yes, sir;

in spite of us. There is reason for shame. Turning again to the dispatch telling of victory, Mr. Dickinson observed that reliable news would undoubtedly soon be received from Consul General Williams, who has been in Cuba for 30 years. "He will surely send a dispatch tomorrow," said Mr. Dickinson. Then he was asked what the future would probably bring forth in the event of Cuban victory:

"That is not so easy to tell," said he. "If belligerency had been recognized, Cuba might have come under our protection, but now she is likely to appeal to any other power. She owes nothing to us, certainly. It was a great mistake, when it was demonstrated beyond any question that the Cubans were belligerent. It is a case where inactivity was as culpable as a positive act of wrong

"The government of free Cuba must be republican in its form. It is impossible, in the light of the refusal of congress to act, to say exactly what will be the relation of the United States to the new government. They owe us nothing; we have done them no service."

Can Be Easily Repaired. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7 .- Acting under instructions from the navy department, a board of naval officers have been examining the nine monitors lying at the League Island navy yard with a view of ascertaining their exact condition. The vessels examined are the Nahant, Jason, Canonicus, Mahopac, Manhattan, Wyandotte, Montauk, Catskill and Lehigh. It is understood that all of the boats can be put in first-class fighting trim at a moderate cost within a short time, and that the work of overhauling and repairing them will be begun in the near future.

Bullets Flew Lively. INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 7 .- Patrick Galvin, supposed to be partially insane, began to shoot his neighbors in Deloss street yesterday afternoon. His first bullet fatally injured Samuel Paul. He then began to shoot in the Murphy family homestead. Before he could be disarmed he had shot Mrs. Murphy, perhaps fatally. Mr. Murphy then went to the defense of his wife and shot Galvin dead. The families had quarrelled a year ago, and the sudden renewal of the quarrel is supposed to have driven Galvin into a frenzy. Murphy was exonerated by a coroner's jury.

The Times congratulates the country upon the foregoing news, and, with reference to a reiteration by its Berlin corre-spondent of the statement that Germany though he feels bound to make further inhad intended to land marines at Lorenzo | quiries regarding her history. Marquez for the invasion of the Transvaal, and had only abandoned the intention on hearing of Dr. Jameson's defeat, The Times says:

This is a grave statement, and we refuse to believe that Portugal would have lent herself to such a move. But it proves that German interference was not the result of sudden indignation at Dr. Jameson's action, but had been meditated and discussed and presumably concerted with the Boers. Emperor William's indignation must accordingly be regarded in the light of diplomatic histrionics. It is a tradition of German policy to prepare a coup secretly and then to give it an air of coming about by an unfortunate accident. There is grave reason to suspect that she has long harbored hostile designs. This theory will explain the Boers' extraordinary obstinacy in refusing moderate concessions to the Uitlanders.

The correspondent of The Standard at Aldershot believes that there is a question of calling out the army reserve and a portion of the militia. The Duke of Connaught and the chief staff officers, this correspondent says, are busy at headquarters and are in constant communication with the war office.

In Robinson's Hands. Governor Robinson has telegraphed to the colonial office, under date of Pretoria, lime porte the following telegram under

Jan. 7, as follows: the demands of the Transvaal govern- stored. Thirty-one Mussulmans and Arment. The Johannesburgers have placed themselves unreservedly in my hands, themselves unreservedly in my hands, disorders have taken place anywhere else." confident that I will see justice done." After consulting the Transvaal government, Sir Hercules Robinson informed the Rand people that they would be allowed 24 hours from noon to relinquish ful shoals. Tugs Mercury and Kate Jones their arms unconditionally. A dispatch from Johannesburg, dated Jan. 1, and others dated since that time, show that the citizens were well armed and organized, under the leadership of the lifesavers will take them off in event Colonel Frank Rhodes and Mr. Farrar to secure the redress of grievances without intending an offensive movement, but only desiring to show the government that they were ready to fight if compelled to do so. All the Transvaal police were withdrawn from the town and concentrated at the jail, while a force of 500 Boers commanded the jail from a ridge.

Meantime the reform committee pledged themselves to abstain from violence and not to aid Dr. Jameson, provided he should be allowed to enter the town unmolested, and they guaranteed that he should be sent back.

Long dispatches from Cape Town describe the intense feeling at the failure of the Johannesburgers to succor Dr. Jameson, but the National Union delegate says that a disobedience of Governor Robinson's orders would have frustrated his delicate mission of mediation, and all the old animosities of the Majuba times would have been revived. The people are angry and at cross purposes, but are unanimous in their enthusiasm for Dr. Jameson.

A dispatch from Johannesburg says that that Colonel Rhodes told the crowd the whole truth, declaring that it was the bitterest moment of his life. The committee never imagined that Dr. Jameson was in such desperate straits, having received hopeful messages.

Mr. Gray (Del.) rebuked both Mr. Lodge and Mr. Chandler for the suggestion that public opinion could not be solicited either here or abroad on any quation, and af-firmed that a just public pinion in all civilized centers must be the final arbitration of all disputes.

Another brief session of the house was held, at which the only important business transacted were the admission of the new member from the new state of Utah -Mr. Allen-and the adoption of resolutions calling upon the attorney general for information concerning the enforcement of the anti-trust law and for recommendations of new legislation on the subject, and on the secretary of the treasury for statistics concerning the seal fisheries of the Behring sea. It is expected the house will take up the discussion of the new code of rules today, as the committee expects to be able to make a report by that

No Faith In Bowell.

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.-In the house of commons yesterday G. E. Foster, ex-minister of finance, made a statement in reference to the causes which had actuated himself and six colleagues in resigning their positions as cabinet members. The sole rea son given was that the seceding ministers had no confidence in Bowell's leadership. They contended that Bowell was incom petent to lead the government. Bowell made a statement in the senate that he would go on with remedial legislation. He stigmatized the action of the seven ministers who seceded as unfair, undignified and uncalled for. It is not thought probable that Bowell's government will be able to carry remedial legis lation.

Liquor Dealers Are Said to Have Fattened a League's Treasury.

Peculiar Doings In New Hampshire Towns.

Boston Newspaper Gives Further Details of a Prohibition Farce.

you want to know where you can get goods now at just one-half the prices charged elsewhere? Well, we are the people, and our advice to you is to call at once, and we assure you of satisfactors results. shire State Law and Order league in refstock of Wister Goods which must be sold between now and Jan. 31st, afforded liquor sellers against raids and prosecution, and jail sentences as well, for a stated consideration.

The fine for having beer on the premises is but $10. If spirituous liquors were found, the fine would be $50. As the raids come but two or three times a year, it can be seen that the dealers got along very cheaply and were really not compelled to suffer any hardship.

The stated rate per month from each lealer so protected has been $5 or $10 per nonth, the price depending on the amount of business transacted and the nature of the establishment. A large and prosper ous saloon in a city would be compelled to ante $10 per month, but a smaller place has not been compelled to pay over $5 per

The scene of the "protection" exposed in The Herald is Suncook, seven miles from Concord. Suncook is a village, and beongs to two towns-that is, there is a river which forms the boundary line between the towns, but it does not separate the village. Therefore, there happens to be Suncook (Allenstown side) and Sun cook (Pembroke side).

Notwithstanding that it is a portion of hese two towns, Suncook is, neverthe-ess, considered as one village. It is the ocation of large mills and manufacturing establishments, and has, with the people in both towns thrown in, about 3000 in-

The prevailing rate of protection there has been and is $5 a month. There are 16 sellers of liquor there, nearly all of whom pay for this protection. Say 14 do; that has resulted in a payment of $70 a month to the New Hampshire State Law and Order league, or, to be explicit, its agents. There Are Others.

Suncook, says The Herald, is not the only town in New Hampshire where there has been protection afforded sellers of iquor, but seldom has it been more general and in few places has there been so perfect an understanding in regard to the natter between the dealers and the authorized agents of the league.

The dealers even had an association is is alleged which transacted business with the league. If a man did not belong to this association and pay he could not do

There was a man who thought he could. The Herald claims to have in its possession an affidavit he made. He did not feel that he could afford to pay the sum demanded every month, and he further did not care to make himself liable for bribery. So he refused the overtures of the Liquor Dealers' association to come into their organization and do business on a mutual basis. The result was that three complaints were issued against him and three raids made at his saloon in less than three weeks, and he thereupon decided that it would be useless for him to continue longer in his saloon unless he had protection. He found the words of the dealers' committee to be only too true. Within a few months if any one has desired to open a saloon in Suncook he has first made it a point to get protection. The result has been what is known simply as bluff raids-the seizing of beer and a fine of $10 with no suggestion of jail

Congressman Atwood Reticent.

Boston, Jan. 9.—Congressman Atwood was asked last evening if he intended to resign. He replied: "I do not think that I should answer that question just now." His attention was called to a Washington dispatch, which stated that members of the Massachusetts congressional delegation agreed that his resignation should follow the result of the Peabody libel suit. Mr. Atwood said he did not care to read the telegram, and he repeated that he would not make known his intentions with respect to his office for some time yet.

PERHAPS ANY Republican would misrepresent this Congressional district with its 8000 Democratic majority.

IN NUMBER Harvard college has about the same number of students as are enrolled in the Quincy schools, the latest catalogue showing 3600. Wonder if $25 per capita is all it costs per capita per annum at Harvard. Yet people with boys in Harvard think our appropriation for schools is excessive. It would not educate 500 at college.

HEARINGS ON the Metropolitan county scheme will be started by the Legislative Committee next Tuesday. The committee will probably do its prettiest to rush the matter through, but it is hoped the hearings will be representative ones. The commotion which it will cause in Norfolk, Middlesex and Essex counties seems entirely uncalled for. We have got Metropolitan parks and Metropolitan water, and if Quincy wants Metropolitan sewers it can have them, and that is all the Metropolitan business the city wants.

The affair was a decided success and reflected great credit upon the ladies who managed it as well as upon those who took part.

The programme was divided into two musical play of "The rairy of the Fountain," second the farce, "A Sea of Troubles," with these interspersed: duet by Luella Jordan and Lulu Phelan; Joseph P. Prout. violin and piano duet by Clara S. Noyes and Elmer T. Noyes; and recitation by

The ONLY DAILY in the ONLY CITY Hearing Today on Widening

Hancock Street Bridge.

A Sixty-Four Foot Way Now Proprosed by Commissioners.

Mayor Adams and Others Represent the City of Quincy.

The County Commissioners gave a hearing this morning on the widening of the bridge over the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., near the Atlantic depot.

Adams, ex-Mayor Hodges, City Solicitor worked. Blackmur, Commissioner Eaton, and H. T. Whitman. There were also present: John R. Graham, Benjamin F. Curtis, B. J. Weeks, H. H. Faxon, John F. Merrill and others, while the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., was represented by A. H. Maxwell,

As soon as the hearing opened City Solicitor Blackmur moved to view the premises and a special car was taken for that

A plan made by Frederick Endicott, civil engineer for the County Commissioner was of the artistic memorial work which they presented. This plan widens the bridge to 64 feet with a truss through the centre, which would give the road ways each about 23 feet wide and the sidewalks six feet wide. The plan also proposes to raise the grade on the bridge about six

The original plan made the width 58 fect and the estimated cost was $30,000, and it is thought the 64 feet width will add $10,000 or more to the cost.

City Solicitor Blackmur said, in view of he asked for a continuance that it migh-

There are few busier women in the social ranks than the wives of the United States senators. They are not necessarily leaders because of their husbands' Mr. Frank A. Page of Wollaston, for high official positions. On the contrary, they occupy a middle ground socially even under the most favorable conditions. In fact, unless they come to Washington with other claims to social prominence their husbands' official positions count for very little. The wife of GER a large artistic calendar emblematic the senator from a large eastern city, who has the advantages of good birth, culture and wealth, has little difficulty in becoming not only prominent, but a leader in society, while her sister from the interior, who has led a quiet, domestic life at home and perhaps by her has helped her husband to his high position, is seldom heard of or seen outside a small official circle. The fact that the senator's wife occupies this middle ground makes her, if she has social aspirations, all the keener to secure her elected at the annual meeting of the M . place, and to do this she must follow to a most absurd extreme the unwritten social law of Washington. RICH SUGAR DISTRICT The Objective Point of Cuban Insurgents, Who Are Still Aggressive.

HABANA, Jan. 9.-It is judged from the movements of the insurgent band along the north coast in Pindar del Rio that they are endeavoring to penetrate the rich district of sugar plantations about Cabas by way of the Banes and Guanajay roads. The authorities again announce that they have hopes of bringing on a general engagement, and that the troops are so placed at strategic points that the insurgents find their position badly compre mised, and will find it difficult to avoid a tion for the time being. Word received from Matanzas shows that the insurgents are still active in that Garcia, Luis Chopalin and Raban at tacked the town of Recreo, which is south east of Cardenas on the railroad. The garrison of the fort repelled that attack, but the insurgents returned to it, and the companies of the marine battalion made defensive stand in the streets. Meanwhile, the insurgents plundered and robbed several stores. The troops finally repelled the insurgents with loss; but, while retreating, they burned 36 of the huts within the limits of the town. Afterward, the insurgents' general, Lacret, made a demand for the surrender of the town, threatening to burn it upon its refusal to comply, but on a negative being given him, the insurgent forces re-

Jose Maceo and Rabi are reported to be moving in the Trinidad district of Santa Clara, and an insurgent loss of 17 is reported in the skirmishes that have taken place there.

In the Cardenas district the insurgents also destroyed the station at Altamisal and tore up the railroad at Yaguaramas. Spaniards claim that the insurgents are falling into a well-laid trap, and it is only a matter of a few days before the Spaniards will have them surrounded and all retreat cut off, when they will mow them down and soon end the war.

The insurgents in the engagement with General Navarro and Suarez Valdes lost 263 men. It is reported that one of the Nunez brothers, the well-known insurgent leaders, was so seriously wounded that he subsequently died.

A column of Spanish troops, com manded by Major Sedano, has had a skir-mish in the Colon district with a band of insurgents commanded by Mendoza. The insurgents left seven killed and three wounded on the field.

THIRTY-FOUR REPUBLICANS FROM SIXTEEN SOUTHERN STATES.

Phenomenal Career of Congressman Settle of North Carolina - An "Independent Protectionist"-The New Member and the Speaker-Free Silver In the South.

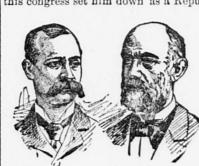

[Special Correspondence.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.-Taken by classes, the southern Republicans in congress are by far the most interesting class, being so very new and, as it were, so very unexpected. In fact, the south has been Democratic so long that many have forgotten their history. Hon. restoring the McKinley rates on that stathis work is done it will be planned and George H. Noonan has been referred to ple. carried on under the direction of the as "the first Republican congressman engineer of the State Park Commission. from Texas." As the latter gentleman is the sole Republican survivor of the Fifty-third congress from the south and is credited with having engineered the fusion which captured North Carolina he has attained a rather dizzy prominence, but he bears it well. He has had a phenomenal career, indeed, as a precocious youth. He was admitted to the bar at 20, elected district solicitor at 21, elected to congress at 27, and now, at the age of 30, is in his second term and Gains For Silver.

Among the very distinguished new men from the south is General James A. Walker, the only Republican from Virginia, and it adds not a little to his rank that he carried his district by some 3,000 against Cyclone Jim Marshall, who carworth noting that General Walker is also in general that the big percentage of extreme silver men among the new Repubicans is one of the surprises of this ongress. He talks it, too, with more than the average freedom, and is very confident that an overwhelming majority of the Republicans of the south would vote for the free coinage of silver at once if it were put to a popular vote. The general, as everybody knows-for he is a man of national reputation-was one of the most brilliant soldiers in the Conederate army, having commanded the famous "Stonewall brigade" and Early's division in the latter part of the war.

I have been much interested in the reasons given by those sonthern Republicans for their being here and for the general political revolution of 1894, but, after all, it seems that the enthusi-asm of the politician nearly always overomes the judgment of the man, for each is confident it was due entirely to the particular feature in which he takes ost interest. Hon. J. H. Huling of West Virginia, for instance, attributes t altogether to the tariff and the slight which the Democrats put on the industries of his state, while the North Carolina men think "treason to silver" had good deal to do with it. "The man who beat Billy Wilson" is the popular itle for Hon. Alston Gordon Dayton, who has been a great success as a lawyer, but admits to some surprise at his sudden promotion to a congressman. Of ourse he thinks the tariff did it all, and that West Virginia is to remain Re-J. H. BEADLE.

SUMMER FRUITS IN WINTER.

How Their Freshness Can Be Kept Unimpaired For Months.

[Special Correspondence.] Paris, Dec. 23 .- Whose mouth does not water at the thought of a dish of strawberries for New Year's? Not the expensive and tasteless hothouse kind, but the natural berry, just as it is picked from the fields. Again, who would not be glad to have real muskmelons, watermelons, peaches, grapes and other fall and summer fruits in the dead of winter? These questions of course answer themselves.

cheese, and not before. Yet one of the noteworthy achievements of this woncheap and effective process whereby fresh fruit can be kept just as it was originally picked for a term of several months. This good news has just been made public in this country, where scientific horticulture has reached a high degree of proficiency. The joyous tidings will be welcome to the multitude of fruit growers throughout the United States and the still larger multitude of finance that I have run against since private consumers. The fruit growers can get materially better prices for their enormous crop, and the private consumers can enjoy table luxuries, oftentimes of great value for the preservation of health, such as are now denied them.

The process by which these beneficial results are to be achieved is a simple boys do." one. It was first put in practice by A. Petit, chief of the laboratory of horticultural research at the National Hortithe slightest sign of mold. Convinced that he was on the track of important results, he embarked on a course of systematic experiment, choosing grapes as the fruit to be treated because of their great tenderness and liability to decay. Bunches of grapes cut fresh from the vines were placed upon beds of wood shavings in a receptacle that was for all practical purposes a cemented brick box closed as nearly hermetically as possible by a common wooden door. A partly open bottle containing 61 cubic inches of alcohol was also placed in the brick box. To make the experiment complete equal quantities of grapes were placed In two similar brick boxes without any alcohol, the wooden cover of one being kept open and that of the other kept slosed. The boxes were all located in a sool place.

The result of the experiment showed that at the end of nearly two months the grapes subjected to the alcoholic vaporization remained full, firm and of un-Impaired flavor. Seventeen cubic inches of alcohol-more than one-fourth of its entire contents-remained in the bottle. On the other hand, the grapes in the rick boxes which were destitute of alsohol became hopelessly moley and rotien in less than three weeks. E. W. POTTER.

After some hunting they found him taking his lunch from an ash barrel. They let him eat what he wanted so that he might be as good natured as possible. One boy ran home and brought some pieces of old rope. Then they made a rough kind of harness.

Ned was kind enough to stand still while they harnessed him. Then they fastened their sleds together, with Joe

Brown's in front, for he was to drive. Joe took up his cord reins and gave the word to Ned to "get up." The donkey only turned and looked back at the dozen or more sleds to which he was tied. I think he decided that the load was too much for him. Joe used a switch on him, but he hung his head and stood quite still. After waiting some time the boys grew tired and began to untie their sleds. Ned looked back and then made a sudden start. He trotted down the road at such a rate that the boys had quite a chase to get

Ned found it easier than he expected, or else he wanted to make up for lost time, for he drew them up one street and down another for a half hour. Then he began to slacken his pace, but Joe urged him on with his switch. Poor Ned thought there was to be no end to delivery, and no bundle will be delivered his task. An idea seemed to strike him suddenly, for he rushed down the street at a great rate. On one side of the street was a deep ditch. When Ned came to it, he leaped across it, dragging the sleds at such an angle in such a way that they all tipped over, leaving the boys in the ditch.

Ned then started on with the empty sleds, making straight for his old shed The boys found him there eating a whisp of straw. They took his harness off and hung it up in the shed. But that was the first and last time they used it, for Ned would never let them put it on again. To this day, if any one goes near him with a piece of rope, he will take to his heels. - Our Little Ones.

A Lesson In Patience

One of the happiest little boys I ever saw is a cripple and will never walk. His lower limbs are paralyzed, and the little fellow is wheeled round in a chair made for his especial use. When I saw him. I thought how awful it must be for a 7-year-old boy not to be able to run and play like other children, and, without thinking, I asked: "Isn't it lovely here? Don't you wish you could run and jump?"

"Yes," said the little fellow. "I might like it, but I'm happy where I am, and perhaps I'd get hurt. Little

Then I felt rebuked, and the little boy, whistling and singing in his chair, playing with whatever is given to him, the minutes of the hours by which the days are told, like sunbeams, lighting and gladdening life's pathway, has been a lesson to me ever since I first saw him. -Washington Star.

New Kind of Spelling Bee.

A new kind of spelling bee is what the following game is called: One of the company begins the game by naming a letter of the alphabet, and the next must name another, which in connection with the first will help to make a word, but which will not complete it. The pext adds another letter, and so on, each aiming to put in a letter which will not finish a word. This goes on until some one inadvertintly completes it. Then the unlucky one is compelled to pay a forfeit. To illusrate: The leader begins with i. The pext adds m, the next a, another g, and the next, instead of adding e and completing the word, says i. The following one gives n, and the next, by a happy thought, does not give e, but tays a, and then follow t, i, o and n, when the word has been completed, in spite of all.

Unnecessary Sympathy.

I always felt sorry when I met Jim. Poor fellow, he's married now, And his life is a serious thing to him, For he lives by the sweat of his brow.

And the cares of a family weigh him down, And he slaves to run the house. Why, Jim was the gayest boy in town, And I'll bet he's as poor as a mouse

And because he looked so worn and sad I tried, whenever we met, To talk of the good times we'd had, In hopes that he might forget, Till I said I was living at the club. Then I felt a deep chagrin Lest he should think I was trying to rub His misery farther in.

But he exclaimed: "That's a horrible life No child to climb on your knee, No quiet home and the loving wife"-By Jove, he was pitying me!

THE NEW BOND ISSUE

Fails to Receive Popularity That Its Advocates Anticipated.

Senators Will Not Amend the Dingley Bill.

Belief That the Measure Will Never Receive Executive Sanction.

WASHINGTON, Jan A-There is considerable talk in treasury circles over the efforts made by the wwwspapers that have urged the administration for months on the subject of a popular bond issue to find a convenient back track, now that they have been taken unexpectedly at their word. Not only have the $100,000,000 of gold which was to spring at once from the purses of the public dwindled rapidly since Monday morning, but the question is now raised whether $50,000,000 would not answer the purpose just as well in any event, and whether the net interest rate had not better be 4 per cent instead of 3.

The charge of secrecy is a flat falsehood. There never has been any attempt in treasury circles to conceal the belief current there that any loan under present conditions must be floated through the regular business channels in order to be in the fullest degree profitable to the government.

At the same time, the present offer is made in good faith and in the hope that the remaining $60,000,000 of free gold in the treasury will not be drawn out so fast as to make a premature change of program inevitable. Every effort is now making, and will be made, to prevent leaks of gold in any direction, and the watched with interest for some sign of such a tightening of the money market as would affect exchange favorably to the importation of gold.

Treasury experts are at a loss to understand the failure of this result to manifest itself thus far. The only explanation they can suggest is that the latest loan has been so long foreshadowed and so generally discounted, and that the contraction which is Shamokin, threatened by it is nearly four weeks dis-caucus yesterday was a discussion of the advisability of amending the house tariff bill by adding a free coinage amendment White Ash Egg to it in the senate, and this discussion was confined largely to the free coinage wing of the party. White Ash Furnace,

The actual result of the meeting was the adoption of Senator Quay's resolution expressing the sense of the caucus to be that the finance committee should report the bill as it came from the house, with a few verbal changes which will not alter the meaning of the measure in any essential

There was no rollcall upon this motion, but there were a few dissenting voices. There was no formal effort to bind the senators to support the bill when it should come before the senate, and it was left open to amendments at that stage of the proceedings. It was while the advisability of at tempting to secure a pledge of support was under consideration that the silver question as to what the silver Republicans would do in case a free silver amendmen should be offered to the tariff bill in the Senator Mitchell (Or.) was the first to respond to this inquiry. He stated that he should join the silver forces in the effort to secure the adoption of the free coinage substitute for the house bond bill. but that with the silver question disposed of in that connection he would advise that the silver Republicans refrain from participating in any effort that might be made to amend the tariff bill by adding a free colnage provision. Senator Carter followed in the same line of argument, advising united action on the part of the silver Republicans in opposition to such amendment in the event of the previous passage of the silver substitute for the bond bill. He said that he thought their action on the bond bill would be a sufficient indication to the country of their attitude. He did not say that he would oppose such an amendment by his vote in case of failure to secure concerted and unanimous action by his silver colleagues, but urged them

Agree to This Line of Action.

Senator Teller announced his intention to vote for a silver amendment if offered care of and get out of order, and to defrom any source, without announcing any face the beauty of the home. Kinley bill was before congress in 1890, foregone the opportunity to amend that measure with a free coinage provision on the representation that the bill with such an amendment would be vetoed, only to be told afterwards by the friends of that bill that the Sherman silver bill was passed as the only hope of defeating free coinage. He declared he would not again be placed in that predicament.

Brief speeches were also made on this feature of the question by Senators Dubois, Mantle, Shoup and others.

There was a sufficiently general expression of opinion among the silver senators to show that there would not be to exceed a half dozen who would hold out against unanimous action to refrain from voting a silver amendment, and this showing was such as to lead the anti-silver men in the caucus to conclude that if those who had expressed themselves against the policy of amendment could be induced to vote against these amendments, they could defeat a silver amendment when offered.

Senator Baker announced himself as friendly to the proposition to coin the American silver product, and said he would offer an amendment to this effect to both the bond and the tariff bills. Mr. Baker also reiterated his declaration of Tuesday to disregard the instructions of the caucus, and vote against the bill until amended on protection lines.

There was a general expression of opinion that the bill, whether amended or unamended in the senate, never would become a law. Several senators expressed the opinion that it could not receive executive sanction.

After the conclusion of the consideration of the tariff bill, an effort was made to proceed to the consideration of the reorganization of the senate by the election their prompt and efficient yet easy action. | of general officers, but the meeting ad-

Immediately after adjournment a call was circulated for a caucus today to consider this question, and it is understood that a sufficient number of signatures were secured to insure a caucus for that purpose at the time specified. Anti-Silver Sentiment.

The anti-silver Democrats of the senate held a conference yesterday while the Republican senators were in caucus. The object of the caucus was to count how many men could be mustered against the free coinage amendment of the senate finance committee to the bond bill. It was found that there are 14 sure votes on the Democratic side against the silver propositions, and the Democrats were assured that there are 26 Republicans who could be counted against the Jones amendment. This would make 40 in all. Four more votes would be necessary to a majority of the senate.

silver men are now making an effort to see if these four votes can be obtained. Among the Republicans who are not counted in the 26 anti-silver list and upon whom an effort will be made are Senators McBride (Or.) and Wilson (Wash.). On the Democratic side are Senators Bacon It is not known with what hope the anti-silver men are working, but they said that the vote will be very close, and that perhaps free coinage may be defeated. The Democrats counted against the bill are: Brice, Caffery, Faulkner, Gibson, Gorman, Gray, Hill, Lindsay, Mills, Mitchell, Murphy, Palmer, Smith and

Would Not Naturalize Them. NEW YORK, Jan. 9 .- Justice Prior, in the supreme court yesterday, after refusing naturalization to some would-be citizens, made the following announcement: "I shall refuse to naturalize any more persons, or to admit them to citizenship, unless they have read the constitution of the United States and can speak the English language, which is the language of this country. Persons who cannot fill these requirements need not come before he court. They will only waste their time by so doing."

Convenient Means of Submitting Bids. WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.-The treasury has begun the distribution of blank forms or which to submit hids for the new bonds. It These blank forms will be obtainable at any sub-treasury by those wishing to submit bids. All national banks and others making application by mail to the treasury here, or to the sub-treasuries, will be supplied with these forms. They are not actually essential to the integrity of the bids, but are the most convenient manner of submitting them.

Bowell Steps Out OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—It seems to be agreed at Ottawa that Sir Mackenzie Bowell has tendered his resignation, and that his excellency is taking into consideration the selection of his successor. The crown, of course, has the choice of its chief adviser. On the whole, the crisis, judging from yesterday's developments, seems to be subsiding. It cannot subside too soon if the interests, not alone of the party, but of the country, are to prevail.

Large Shipment of Corn. St. Louis, Jan. 9 .- The largest shipment of corn of the year is now passing through St. Louis. Over 500 carloads of shelled and high grade corn from Nebraska were handled during the past two days and 500 more carloads are en route. The grain is being shipped to Norfolk for export. This is the beginning of what is believed will prove the largest corn ship-ment known in many years.

FLOURISHED A PISTOL.

Mrs. Libbey of Malden Threatened to "Fix" a Truant Officer.

tal Trouble.

MALDEN, Mass., Jan. 10.-Truant Officer T. E. Powell had an exciting experience yesterday, when he paid an official visit to the home of Mrs. John M. Libbey, who lives on Steeves court. Mrs. Libby thrust a revolver under his nose and made all sorts of hair-raising threats. Mrs. Libbey has three children, two boys and one girl. They are not very regular in their attendance at school, and a few days ago Truant Officer Powell went to find out why they were absent. He was told that they were sick.

Yesterday the teacher of the Greenwood school told Mr. Powell that the children were seen at play every evening, so he went again to their home. He was re-ceived at the door by Mrs. Libbey, who invited him to come into the kitchen, out of the cold hall. He stepped into the kitchen, and she immediately began a tirade against him and the teacher, calling them both liars With Profane Emphasis. Finally she got so excited that she rushed into an adjoining room and pulled a revolver from a bureau. Pointing it at the officer, she exclaimed: "I've had enough of these complaints, and I know how to stop them. I'll fix you!"

Mr. Powell told her to put up the pistol, saying that they would try and reason out the matter, but it was to no use. She continued to cry: "I'll fix you!" and cocked the revolver. Then she placed it near his face and savagely told him that he would not bother her any more.

Once more Powell tried to reason with the woman, telling her she was excited, but she would not listen to him. Seeing that it was of no use to talk, he deliberately turned his back on the threatening revolver and walked to the door, where he turned and told her she would hear from him later. After he had gone, she went to the railway station and telegraphed to Boston for her husband to come out immediately. Mrs. Libbey is supposed to be crazy. She was once confined in the Danvers asylum.

Peripatetic Committees-Mileage and Railroad Passes-Minor Mention.

Boston, Jan. 10.-Among the important bills introduced in the state legislature were these: Relative to reopening navigation of the Connecticut river as far as Holyoke or Springfield; that no official or employe of a municipality or state shall participate as an officer in a political caucus, convention or act as a committee member; for temporary disfranchisement of men twice or more times convicted of drunkenness, and resolutions protesting against the Turkish atrocities.

The house voted that when it adjourn it be to meet at 11 o'clock Friday, and that until further orders the hour of meeting on Fridays be 11 o'clock. The scheme, he said, would materially affect three of the largest counties of the state, and he, therefore, moved that the report be referred to the committee on metropolitan affairs and counties sitting jointly. The motion was carried. An order authorizing the committee on water supply to travel within the commonwealth and an order authorizing the committee on public charitable institutions to travel within the state and to visit Hartford were adopted. The following order was adopted without debate: "Ordered, that before the payroll for traveling expenses of the members of the present legislature is made up for certification by the secretary of state, the clerks of the two branches shall obtain from each member of the senate and house of representatives, respectively, a certificate that such member has not received since his election as a member of the present legislature any pass, mileage book or ticket entitling him to transportation upon any railroad without paying for the same the price that is demanded of the public generally." PEACE AND RIGHTEOUSNESS

Should Be Prayed For by Christians on Both Sides of the Ocean.

Boston, Jan. 10.-In relation to the war talk attending the Venezuelan difficulties, President Clark of the Christian Endeavor has received a letter from F. F. Belsey, Rochester, Eng., president of the British national council of the Christian Endeavor, upon this subject. In substance, Mr. Belsey says:
"Among all these threatenings of strife and discord I send you and the 2,000,000 Christian Endeavorers on your side a few lines to say that their brethren and sisters here would almost prefer death to hearing that an English gun had been fired against the nation they belong to and the broad America so many of us know and love. EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

THE FINANCIAL situation of the city reeived foremost and careful consideration by Mayor Adams in his inaugural address. While our general debt is not large, it is unfortunate that so much falls due in one year. The total is but $264,895.61, less considerably inside the limit of $400,000; but about $50,000, or over twenty per cent., falls due this year, requiring alone a tax of $3 per $1,000. Were the debt apportioned equally over ten years as allowed by law, the maturing debt would be but $27,000 this year, and the tax rate $1.50 less than it will be. The utmost care debts, to relieve taxpayers for a few years, when the water payments fall heavy, for the outlook five to ten years hence is encouraging. The tax rate has probably reached high water mark, but no material its future destination will be. reduction is anticipated while the debt is being paid so rapidly.

No one can question but the two school houses asked are needed, and they should be completed before next September, and progressive citizens will endorse the Mayor's recommendation of brick.

Remedial Legislation In Manitoba to Go On.

Premier Berates His "Strikers" In No Uncertain Terms.

OTTAWA, Jan. 10. - The ministerial risis assumed a new phase yesterday when Premier Bowell read his promised

After reading the statement, Sir Mac kenzie made a voluntary attack upon the ministers who had bolted. The reasons given by the ministers for resigning were not, he said, such as would prevent their associating themselves with the government in the future. They had made re flections on his parliamentary career. He defled any man to point out one case of dishonesty in his long public life. He had always been a successful man, and had he been given loyal support by the striking ministers he would have been just as successful in carrying on the nation's affairs. He said the only reason given for the resignations was that the bolters did not like their leader. He never had claimed to possess great intellect, but the strikers knew his powers when they chose him first minister as well as they did when they played the part of assassins. At any time, had the ministers acted manfully and come to him with a statement that they were dissatisfied with his ability to lead them, he would not have stood in the way of progress of Canada and of the Conserva-tive party. "But," continued Sir Mackenzle, "under the present circumstances I desire to make it clear that I will not give up the reins of government." His future he was glad to leave in the hands of Canadians, and for Canadians to decide whether the ministers were justified in leaving him at an important junc-ture in the affairs of the country. He would go on with remedial legislation in Manitoba, at the same time hoping that the day would never come when the rights of any British subject would be interfered Governor Objected.

The premier concluded by saying that, after several interviews with the governor general regarding the resignation of the ministers, he (Bowell) waited again upon the governor general with the purpose of tendering his resignation, but his excellency intimated that at that moment he was not prepared to receive it, as the speech from the throne had not been passed. He would endeavor to re-form the government, and moved that the house adjourn until next Tuesday, and in the meantime he would try and fill the vacancies. If not successful, he would then tender his resignation to the governor DR. RALPH M. FOGG general.

It is learned that the governor general is of the opinion that Bowell can get to-gether a stronger government than could Sir Charles Tupper. Lord Aberdeen thinks a strong feeling of sympathy has been aroused for Bowell, which will enable him to form a stable government. Reports from the country at large indicate that the feeling is all against the seven ministers who bolted.

Every Liberal speaker denounced the treachery of the bolters, and said they would give Bowell every aid in continu ing his administration.

Adjournment was finally carried on division, without a vote being taken. Although Messrs. Foster, Haggart, Tupper, Montague and Dickey, five of the seven bolters, were present in the house, not one had a word to say in defense of their actions.

Negotiations are still on foot toward bringing Sir Charles Tupper, Sr., into the cabinet. If he consents, there is no doubt that Bowell will be able to pull through. Tupper is understood to have given no answer to the advances of Sir Mackenzie

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Jan. 12 Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.—The peril and the power of ambi-ion.—Luke ii, 52; Deut. viii, 11-20.

Ambition is an inordinate and eager desire of preferment, honor, superiority or power. The peril and the power of ambition are illustrated in the lives of many of the worlds most illustrious men. The power of their ambition has been so great that, regardless of the just rights of others, regardless of the laws of God, they have sought only to accomplish their purposes, and when position and power have been attained God has been forgotten, and no claims that even He has had upon them have been considered. In the first Scriptural reference we have pointed out to us a laudable ambition and the gracious results of it. We are told that Jesus grew in favor with God and man. Christ was in the true sense ambitious. He was filled with an inordinate desire to do the will of God. We cannot be filled with too much of this kind of ambition. Paul also had a worthy ambition. He expressed it when he said, "We labor that whether present or absent we may be accepted of Him." We cannot be filled with too strong a desire to serve God and to so labor that we may be accepted of Him. This should be the one ambition of our lives, and if we make it that we will not only grow in favor with God, but also with man, as Jesus did.

In the second reference there is a solemn warning against forgetting God in the time of prosperity. The children of Israel could not but see the hand of God in their guidance and direction in the wilderness, but in the land of Canaan it would be different. There the blessings of prosperity and wealth would come from God through second causes, and there might be a temptation in the pride of their hearts for them to say, "My power and the might of my hand hath gotten me this wealth." This is the great danger of prosperity-that it may make us proud and ambitious, that we will take all the credit to ourselves and forget that we are indebted to God for all things.

False ambition always leads to destruction. God solemnly warns us against it. It has ruined some of the world's greatest men, and is supposed to have caused the downfall of the angels who fell from heaven. True ambitiona burning desire to serve God-receives His blessing and favor and the favor and confidence of men. Let us then "labor that whether present or absent we

THE ENDEAVOR PLEDGE.

There Is No Excuse a Christian Can Give For Not Keeping It.

It is amazing how many iar" societies there are in the world. There are not so many of these pledge tinkers as there used to be, but we hear of them every now and then, even in these days. Now there is not much objection to altering the phraseology, if the meaning is not changed or the strenuousness of the pledge is not weakened, but this is the very thing that most pledge tinkers desire to do. Now I should like to whisper in their ears that the revised Christian Endeavor pledge was prepared very carefully and price $1.00. prayerfully. Days of time were spent in weighing each word, so that every one might be the right word in the right place. The strength of every phrase was considered and special pains was taken not to have a single letter or syllable in the pledge which the youngest and weakest active member could not keep. Twice, in the heart of the pledge, at the risk of tautology, and perhaps to the detriment of the queen's English, the phrase is substantially repeated, "Unless prevented by a reason which I can conscientiously give to the Lord Jesus Christ." That is the only excuse which the Christian ever ought to be willing to give for the nonperformance of any known duty. This is twice admitted and insisted on in the heart of the pledge, and it fully excuses any conscientious Christian, if he has any excuse worth giving. A Christian Endeavor society that fully understands what the pledge means in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred will vote against altering it. What is needed is a careful study of the pledge. Have a meeting to explain it and talk about it and to understand its thorough reason-

6.00 BURROWS AS LEADER. 6.50

Anxious to Fight For the Cause of a Sound Currency System.

Senate Silver Republicans Are Hard at Work.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 .- Senator Burrows (Mich.) may become the aggressive leader of the sound money Republicans in the senate. He takes advanced views upon the relation of the greenbacks to our fiscal system, and is free to say that "one of two things must be done—either the greenbacks must be retired, or some means devised by which they will not or cannot be presented to the treasury for payment." Senator Burrows is not willing to rest his reputation complacently upon the notion that a little more revenue is all the nation needs to perfect its financial system. He recognizes the greenback danger and will not be likely to hold his candle under the bushel of party tradition much onger. He says, in speaking in detail of the financial situation: "While a lack of revenue contributes largely to our financial disorder, I am not entirely clear that it is alone responsible for it. The act of 1890, continued in operation for three years, injected into our circulation $150,000,000 of silver, represented by the treasury notes, while the re serve remained unaugmented. "The tendency of this was to alarm the business public and create a raid on the treasury gold. Nearly $500,000,000 of demand notes were thus put in circulation, with a redemption basis of but $100,000, 000, and whether an increase of our revenue alone would solve the problem I have some doubt. To increase the reserve would be a way out of the difficulty, but would require the further use of bonds, which is hostile to the public judgment at

"Unless the United States notes and the treasury notes can be held in the treasury after redemption, and the expenses paid with other currency, I do not see how a recurrence of the raids on the treasury can

"While it is true that up to 1892 the de mand for gold in exchange for greenbacks was not large, it must be remembered that we then entered upon a changed tariff policy, and that the silver purchases of the law of 1890 were beginning to crowd upon the treasury.

"The government of the United States is the only institution that I know of that has out an amount of demand notes that must be paid in gold. Banking institu-tions may pay legal tender, but the treasuy not a dollar of distinctively gold revenue. Talking on Rules.

The house gave its time yesterday to discussion of the proposed amendment of the rules of the Fifty-first congress, which were provisionally adopted early in the session to govern this house.

Two interesting discussions relieved the monotony of the technical debate. demand. We carry most everything When you cannot find what you want call on (Mass.), chairman of the committee on banking and currency, who made a fight against the proposition to drop the committee on banking and currency from the list of committees prilvileged to report bills to the house at any time.

A partisan debate resulted, in which Mr. Walker was supported by the Democrats and a Republican contingent which included many free silver men. The last congress had added the committees on banking and currency, and on coinage, weights and measures to the privileged list, but the committee on rules decided not to alter the list of the Fifty-first congress, which did not include them. Mr.

Walker failed to carry his point. Mr. Hepburn (Ia.) inspired the second discussion by an amendment to direct the speaker to recognize any member who addressed him when no other member was on the floor, and he spoke against the growing power, given by the rules, of the

He withdrew his proposition, however, after a speech by Mr. Bell (Col.), who claimed that it would secure for the Populist members the recognition of which, he claimed, they were deprived. The discussion of the rules was not finished.

Senator White (Cal.) made a forcible speech yesterday afternoon upon the question of a change of rules of senate pro-cedure. He especially deplored the omission of any provision by which a subject may be brought to a vote except by unanimous consent.

So long as any senator cares to talk or to have anything read, either relevant or irrelevant, nothing can be done. Another ancient but not honorable fiction, as the speaker termed it, is that a majority may be in the senate and no quorum present. That the senate rules had been a source of annoyance in times past was shown from citations from Scheouler's history. going back to the days of Randolph. To suppose that rules adopted in a nation's infancy for her senate must be adhered to in all the future is to deny capacity for prog-

Senators declare that it is always possible to pass a bill whenever a majority desires it, but it can be done only when the opposition is taken out on a stretcher, a proceeding, although undignified, by no means novel here. We are at the mercy of the physical powers of one man, and only when he is weakened can we march to a rollcall over his prostrate form. Senator White's speech was an exceed-opened yesterday by Senator Jones (Ark.) in a two hours' speech, which was followed with close attention by senators on both sides of the chamber.

Mr. Jones took strong grounds in favor of the free and independent coinage of silver, contending that was the only method by which the distress of the country could be alleviated and the treasury de partment relieved from its present depend ence upon the speculative holders of gold. There was no reply to Mr. Jones' argument, but the debate will be resumed when the senate meets again on Wednes

Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.), the former lations, offered a resolution, which was re ferred, without debate, conveying the con-gratulations of congress to President Kru-

Some of the Republican silver senators held a conference after the adjournment of the senate yesterday to canvass the chances of passing the silver substitute for the house bond bill through the senate. They went over the list very carefully comparing notes on senators considered doubtful, and reached the conclusion that the substitute would win by a majority of about three votes. They also considered the alternative of postponing action until after the new senators from Utah shall arrive, but concluded that in view of the facts developed at the meeting, the post ponement would not be necessary.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW Notes but Little Change, With a Falling Off In Orders.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The new year begins with such uncertainty that business is somewhat retarded. The pro posed sale of bonds offers ground for confidence in the future, but no one is able to determine what its earliest effects may be in the money market, and for the time i is a cause of hesitation rather than hope-

Cotton is unchanged, although the receipts for the week have not been very large, but some slackening appears in the foreign demand. Wheat is about 1 cent higher, and corn the same, without distinct reason in either case.

In boots and shoes the average of prices is a shade lower, though little change appears, except in calf boots and shoes. Leather is a little lower. The demand for boots and shoes falls far behind expectathe week were about 18,000 cases smaller than last year.

Sales of wool are large, although a large part of the purchases were of a speculative character, based upon the belief that prices may be advanced if the new tariff bill goes into effect. The opening of woolen goods shows a further tendency toward lower prices, in spite of the prevalent belief that higher prices would be realized before long if the revenue bill which passed the house should become a law.

The cotton mills are generally running, though not all with full force, and some are piling up goods without regard to the immediate demand, which is comparatively slack, as they apparently believed that the short supply of cotton this year will ensure them profits in the end, as it has during the past half year.

there, also Foley's wife and two sisters and Nagle's aged mother and three sisters.

The women cried and threw themselves upon the prisoners, and both Foley's and Sullivan's wives fainted.

As the prisoners entered the courthouse, securely shackled and attended by Deputy Sheriff Fairbairn and Deputy Sheriff Wardwell, both of Cambridge, Foley's wife met them, and before she could be prevented she had placed a fervent kiss on her husband's lips and he had grasped her in his arms. When taken from his arms the officer discovered that she had fainted.

Immediately after the adjournment of court the prisoners were surrounded by their relatives, all crying violently. Mrs. Sullivan threw her arms around her son and cried: "Oh, my innocent son!" She was drawn gently away by the court offi-cers and led crying out of the courtroom by her daughter.

"Don't make a scene here," said Sullivan to his mother when she kissed him. "They will let you see us in the jail and tions, and many of the shops have closed for a time, since little new business is be- was addressed to his aged and apparently you can come right over." This remark ing done. The shipments from Boston for heartbroken father, who stood near by, his frame shaking with emotion.

were removed from the courtroom and back to their cells in the Cambridge jail, followed by their relatives, who were allowed to converse with them. ON BEACON HILL.

Free Pass Order Reconsidered-Hot and Cold Baths For Everybody.

BOSTON, Jan. 11.-The order which was offered in the senate Thursday requiring members before receiving mileage to subscribe to a statement that they are not in possession of free railroad passes, and

Mr. Hutchinson offered a bill to regulate the practice of pharmacy. One of its most conspicuous provisions is one for registration in pharmacy once in two years. Another is for the merging of the departments of the board on enforcement of pharmacy and liquor laws.

In the house, among the new business Forecast for Maine, New Hampshire and commissioners, and another very comprehensive bill for hot and cold water baths in every city, town and village of this commonwealth. Other bills introduced were: To prohibit the sale of native wines without a license; striking from the act relative to fraternal beneficiary associations the clause "which does not employ paid agents in soliciting and procuring business other than the preliminary organization of local branches;" adding to the class of persons price $1.00, exempt from jury duty assistant clerks of courts; giving to the institutions com-missioner of the city of Boston all the powers possessed by the commissioners of public institutions relative to the release of persons confined in any of the institutions under him. Petitions were received from the Revere Rubber company of Boston and Chelsea for authority to increase its capital stock to $3,000,000-its present capital is $1,000, 000; of D. B. Wesson and others, for an act of incorporation as the Springfield City menia within a few days to begin Red Market company, with a capital of $75, 000; of the Gloucester Street Railway company, for authority to lease the one of the largest retail dry goods houses at the head of the lakes, made an assigncompany; of A. W. Young and others, for the annexation of a part of Abington to Brockton.

Preserving Good Morals.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Jan. 11.-The mayor and license commissioners of the city government last night revoked the license of a traveling theatrical troupe which had engaged the Webster Opera house for three nights. The mayor and committee attended Thursday night's performance and decided that it was not all that it should be. The license committee will hereafter have supervision of all show bills, and will carefully inspect them before they are posted.

Blackburn Again.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 11 .- The Democratic joint caucus last night nominated J. C. S. Blackburn as the candidate of that party to succeed himself in the United States senate. The deciding ballot resulted: Blackburn, 37; McCreary 13; Brown, 6.

THE WEEK PAST.

The new City Council has started out well. All the members-slect were present on inauguration day to take the oath, and they organized without contest for offices. THE Annual meeting of the members of the corporation of the City Hospital of Quincy will be held at the house of Dr. Gordon, Hancock street, on MONDAY evening, January 20th at 8 o'clock, for the election of officers and the transaction of any other business that may legally come before them. All are requ sted to be present.

The proposition to increase the membership of the committees on Finance and Public Buildings is a good change; all wards should be represented on the former and the President should be chairman. Perhaps one reason why the reports of the Committee on Public Buildings were not more successful were that they did not have the backing of as large a committee, and the committee of three was very much divided. Why not make all committees seven, so that all wards of the city may have a representative?

> In the drawing of seats in the City Council, Councilman Rice secures the one recently occupied by Mayor Adams, and silk, trimmed with velvet and pearl passe-Councilman Holt is in the seat which menterie, she wore the same slippers that playing and dancing. President Bryant occupied last year. Are they in line for promotion?

The Metropolitan county scheme has been overshadowed this week by the city inauguration and attending ceremonies. We have noticed however that many sub. receiving the congratulations of their many urban cities oppose the movement. The Essex County Commissioners point out some objections. They say:

Norfolk is now one of the smallest in territory.

> President Bryant was partial to Wards | The old Fairbanks house was erected in members of the Finance Committee.

The school house fires of the past week in neighboring towns have been remarkaby free from casualities, yet they illustrate the importance of fire drills and the necessity for coolness on the part of teachers. Of late Quincy has not, we believe, Advertise, Advertise kept up its fire drills. In Brockton they must be rehearsed in every school once in every two weeks.

There is already an order in the Legislature for redistricting of the State upon the census of 1895. There will not only be new Representative districts, but senatorial, councillor and possibly congressional.

Beggars Scooped In.

BOSTON, Jan. 11.-Inspectors last night arrested a number of professional beggars, who, it is believed, have been working the wealthy people of many large eastern cities. The arrest of James Fox, a 16year-old boy, who ran away from his home in Buffalo last summer, led to the arrests. The men were arrested on Fayette street, where they made their headquarters. Young Fox gave Chief Watts the information which led to the arrests.

Over an Embankment.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Jan. 11.-Six mer employed by a local caterer were riding in a van into which was loaded baskets o dishes, ice cream tubs, etc., when the van went over a high embankment. The mer were buried under the freight which was in the wagon, and all were more or less hurt. It is feared that Seymour Ander son and George Libris are fatally injured.

An Aged Sinner.

Boston, Jan. 11.-Louis Ober, aged 61, was arrested yesterday for robbing the poor boxes at the Holy Cross cathedral in this city. He used a wire, to which was affixed a lump of wax. Coins were drawn out singly. He had $60 in his pocket when arrested. The police sa, he has served five house of correction sentences for the same trick.

Prohibition Officials.

Boston, Jan. 11.-The Prohibition state ommittee yesterday elected the following officers: Chairman, H. A. Gibbs, Boston; vice chairman, W. H. Burnham, Worcester; secretary, F. W. Clark, Northampton treasurer, E. C. Cutting, Weston. It was voted to raise a $6000 campaign fund and push an active canvass during the year.

CRISIS ABOUT ENDED.

Britishers Are Mystified by Naval Preparations.

President Kruger's Demands Form a Subject of Much Speculation.

LONDON, Jan. 11 .- A dispatch from Pretoria says that the disarming at Johannes burg has been completed without mishap, and the Boer police now patrol the town. The crisis is practically ended, and orders have been issued for all Boer commands to proceed to Pretoria.

Thus ends this unique revolution, during which not even a policeman has been knocked on the head, and not a single act of violence has been committed. President Kruger and the executive council have exhibited remarkable coolness throughout. The stability of the government has been unmistakably displayed. There is a remarkable absence of excitement here, but feelings have been aroused which will not be allayed for years. The Boers' district of the Uitlanders has been increased ten-fold, and the sense of failure rankles with the Uitland ers. Yet both sides desire that the gov ernment should remain republican and free from outside control. The statesmen now in conference must, therefore, devise means for an adjustment which will se cure peace, and thereby attract foreign capital. The correspondent of The Times at Cape Town gives a long telegram from Mr. Hofmeyer, the leader of the Afrikander party, to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain in which, referring to the fact that the leaders in British financial and military circles and many in the queen's service either shared in or winked at the Uitlander conspiracy in the Transvaal, he asks whether it would not be advisable to institute a radical change in the government and in the personal rule of Cecil Rhodes. He says he trusts that a searching inquiry will be made into the conspiracy, and offers his own co-operation. Chamberlain's Condescension.

Mr. Chamberlain, in replying, thanked him for his offer, and promises that there shall be a full inquiry and measures to prevent a repetition of the Transvaal raid Mr. Chamberlain concludes: "My present chief object is to prevent a further embitterment of the relations between the British and Dutch, which might re sult from extreme measures against either Johannesburg or the prisoners.'

The correspondent of The Times at Berlin telegraphs: Whatever after-effects the Transvaal incident may have on German policy, in government and even in higher circles the disposition now is to regard the matter as closed. A few uncom promising spirits still expect that the Transvaal will insist upon a declaration of absolute independence. But it is doubtful whether the German government will sustain that hope. At the same time it would be premature to imagine that all cause for anxiety has disappeared. Rumors are still current of an exchange of views in the direction of summoning England before the European areopagus. Portugal's attitude is evidently an embarrassment to the government

Herr Richter, the Radical leader in The Freisinhig Zeitung, declares that the landing of German troops at Delagoa Bay would be a grave political blunder. Other papers here abstain from commenting ipon Portugal's attitude. In colonial circles the intention is manifest to utilize the anti-English campaign as a lever to agitate for an increase in the A telegram received from Lorenzo Mar

quez, Delagos Bay, announces that the German man-of-war Condor has arrived

There is a feeling abroad in London that there are many details of the com-plications into which the foreign affairs of the empire have been placed which have not been published, and much speculation is indulged in by the public. So far as of-ficial information goes, the situation seems to be improved.

The mystery of the naval preparations occupies a large place in the public mind, and the conclusion arrived at by the attentive public after thus thinking it over is that the tremendous activity displayed— not only in the fitting out of the flying squadron, but in the rushing forward of work in the navy yards, arsenals and supply shops for war material-does not appear wholly necessary on account of the condi-tion of relations with Germany. It is also felt that it is difficult to see to what point the flying squadron-which, together with the existing available squadrons with which it is proposed to join it, will form, it is said, the most powerful fleet of war vessels ever put afloat—is destined.

The situation in the Transvaal is undoubtedly greatly improved, and unless President Kruger has made extortionate demands, such as for the complete inde pendence of his republic and freedom from the suzerainty of Great Britain, and has received the support of Germany in favor of these demands, such a powerful fleet as are being prepared will not be needed at Delagoa bay.

Kruger Holds the Whip Hand. In fact, the whole future of South Africa now depends upon the nature of the de mands made by President Kruger, whose response to the queen's message, addressed him in the third person, through Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, is, to say the least, not effusive. In fact, it virtually declares that the president will hold Dr Jameson and the other members of his expedition who were taken with him as hostages for the disarmament of Johannes burg, whose time of grace for the surrender of the arms held by the Uitlanders expired at 6 o'clock last evening. Thos of the Uitlanders who have not yielded their arms at that time are to be exclude from the amnesty to be granted to those who participated in the uprising.

The indemnity demanded by the Transvaal government from the Chartered South African company is variously stated at from £500,000 to £2,000,000. The statement circulated here yesterday that the admiralty had decided upon th formation of a second special squadron created a good deal of excitement when it was announced, but it was later officially denied. Joseph Chamberlain went to Osborne yesterday, and he remained there over night. First Lord of Admiralty Goschen made a special visit to Portsmouth, and inspected the ships of the flying squadron and saw the guns of their armament worked. The workmen at Chatham, Portsmouth and Plymouth worked late last night by electric light for the fitting out of the ships of this squadron. It is expected that those at the Portsmouth dock yard will continue the work of preparation on Sunday.

It is announced that the government has ordered the stores of small arm cartridges to be increased from 60,000,000 to 150,000,000.

All this preparation, of course, means an enormous outlay of treasure. The wages of workmen alone are £80,000 above the usual expenditures. It is reported that the government, in order to meet this and further naval measures, will present a bill immediately when parliament opens to devote the surplus revenue over the present budget-chiefly arising from the remodeling of the death duties and to the activity in the stock market, and which it is predicted will amount to several million pounds-to naval expenses.

One effect of the present crisis has been to impress Englishmen with a sense of the marvelous diplomatic scent of Paul Kruger, the Boer president. The admiration felt by Englishmen for the South African executive finds abundant expression, even in face of the sharp reverse he has administered to their policy, and their hearty admiration for Dr. Jameson. Sir Charles Dilke declared in a speech yesterday that President Kruger has few rivals among modern diplomats.

An Apology?

BERLIN, Jan. 11.-Emperor William received on Jan. 8 an autograph letter from Queen Victoria. The emperor's autograph reply is now in the queen's hands. It is understood that the emperor, in his reply, in brief general terms, proffered his hand to the English people. The letter, it is said, also confirms the assurances given by the German ministers that the emperor had no intention of casting a slur on the dignity of England.

SPANIARDS OUTWITTED. Retreat of Gomez Was Made to Secure Better

HABANA, Jan. 11 .- The lull which seemed to have taken place in the activities of the insurgents in the past few days has given place once more to an unexpected dash on the part of Maximo Gomez into the heart of the rich tobacco growing district of Pinar del Rio. Confident claims have been made for several days past on the part of the authorities that the time was fast approaching when the insurgents were to pay the penalty for their temerity and when the Spanish were to close in upon them as in a trap and annihilate them.

The news that Gomez has passed Alqui zar and Guira de Melena in Habana province was received with relief by the friends of the insurgents, though the direction he had taken beyond that was not known, but it was generally supposed that he was bent upon retreat into the eastern provinces, glad to escape the trap

It is now evident that he was merely making a pretense at retreat to mislead his enemy, and meantime he has once more countermarched, like a fox doubling upon its own tracks, and last night he had nearly his whole effective force in the tobacco district in the southern part of Pinar del Rio, ready to visit destruction upon the tobacco crop, as it has already been widely visited upon the sugar crop.

The authorities have discovered evidence of what they consider a conspiracy to cause an uprising in Habana and to hand the city over to the insurgents. The conspiracy is believed to be widely ramifled, and its discovery has caused grave uneasiness in Habana, and suspicions that disaffection is much more widely disseminated than has been admitted.

Thirty persons have been arrested for complicity in the plot and eight have been imprisoned, while Aquilno Solano, police for for the port of Habana, has bee relieved from duty.

A Doubtful Story.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.-The preliminary examination of Mrs. Davidson was resumed yesterday. Mrs. Davidson, on cross-examination, said her mind was an absolute blank as to what happened to her from 1874 to 1887. She said she did not know where she had been, what she had done, whether she had ever served a term in a house of correction in Massachusetts if she had given birth to a child, or if she had swindled various persons whose names the prosecution named. Mrs. Davidson was held in $5000 bail to answer the charge of extortion.

For Atwood to Consider.

Boston, Jan. 13.-Rev. Frederick N. Upham, pastor of the Baker Memorial church, Dorchester, previous to beginning his sermon yesterday, spoke as follows, regarding Congressman Atwood's case "The congressional district in which we live is at the present time represented at Washington by a man who has practically confessed himself guilty of a most serious breach of trust while an officer of the city of Boston in recent years. He no longer represents the intelligent, upright, lawabiding people of this district. The charges against him are far enough sustained to totally unfit him for the further performance of his duties at Washington. 'Down and out' is the only course left for this man. As he anticipated the verdict of the jury by withdrawing his suit, let him also anticipate the indignant verdict of the people at the polls by at once resign-

Fatal Accident to Foreman at John Cashman's Quarry.

Richard Barry, foreman at John Cashman's quarry had a frightful fall Saturday afternoon from the effects of which he died a short time after.

The unfortunate man had been at work in the quarry cleaning off snow and when desiring to come up he caught hold of the circuit of the city taking the census of hook on the fall and was hoisted up hanging by the hock. The hook was icy cold and that coupled with the weight of Mr. Barry so benumbed his hands that when the top was reached and he had tried to swing himself onto the bank he lost his That part of Canal street near the canal hold and fell back into the quarry, striking is known among the fraternity now as with a dull thud nearly a hundred feet

Considered by Congress. Assurances have been given by the house ommittee on foreign affairs to those mem pers who are particularly interested in the movement to secure recognition for the Cuban revolutionists that the question will be thoroughly and carefully investigated and that a report will be made upon it to the house at the earliest day consistent with such an investigation.

A sub-committee of the foreign affairs committee has been designated by Chair-HAVING Been appointed City Scavanger and Hitt to take jurisdiction of the Cuban matter, with these members: Adams (Pa.), chairman; Draper (Mass.); Hitt (Ills.). Some impatience has been voiced man Hitt to take jurisdiction of the Cuban as here shown, it is necessary to make and to do all by the Odorless Excavating in the house because a resolution to recognize the revolutionists has not been brought forward and passed immediately, and patriotic and sentimental reasons have been urged in support of this feeling. The friends of "Cuba free" feel certain that there is a great majority in congress on their side; that whenever a resolution might be brought up it could be passed with an enthusiastic demonstration, which would materially encourage the struggling revolutionists, and that outside of the capital there prevails a great popular sentiment on the side of the revolu

The foreign affairs committee recognizes fully the existence of this sentiment, but the sub-committee does not feel justifled in acting without the usual deliberation, nor is it at all certain that they will deem it expedient for this government to recognize Cuba at once.

The house has passed a resolution call ng upon the state department for all the information it has on the Cuban question and the secretary of state has informed Chairman Hitt that the evidence will be given him as soon as possible. Recently President Palma of the Cuban junta left a great mass of documents with the sec retary of state, and beside these there is on file in the department much corre spondence with Spain incidental to the present uprising. Clerks are compiling these papers into form for the use of the house, and in the opinion of members of the sub-committee no action should be recommended to the house until these papers have been considered.

If, in the meantime, the insurgents manage to capture Habana, their victory would be such unmistakable evidence of the status of the revolution that the committee would not hesitate to ask the house to recognize the state of belligerency without delay. Members of the sub-committee do not hesitate to say this.

But there is a disposition among them to question the accuracy of newspaper reports of military movements in Cuba, for they doubt whether the correspondents are in a position to keep accurately posted, or whether true reports are possible under the conditions prevailing in Cuba.

Apart from the sentimental reasons, there is a commercial phase of the question of which the foreign affairs members are not allowed to remain in ignorance. Recognition of belligerency would confer upon Spain the right to search American shipping for contraband of war, and the shipping interests are not pleased with this. Then there are sugar investments in Cuba held by citizens of the United States amounting to $30,000,000, which have suffered enormous damage at the hands of the rebels in their raids.

So long as the revolution has no recog nized standing, Spain is responsible for these losses, and the owners of plantations hope to be able to secure reparation from her at some future day. When this government formally takes notice of the fact that a state of war exists in Cuba, our citizens will have no ground upon which to base their claims.

These considerations tend to retard rec ognition. Whether they will defeat the Threescore and Ten. Who reach their threescore years and ten. As I have mine, without a sigh, Are either more or less than men-Not such am I.

I am not of them. Life to me Has been a strange, bewildered dream, Wherein I knew not things that be From things that seem.

I thought, I hoped, I knew one thing And had one gift, when I was young-The impulse and the power to sing, And so I sung.

To have a place in the high choir Of poets and deserve the same— What more could mortal man desire Than poet's fame?

I sought it long, but never found. The choir so full was, and so strong The jubilant voices there they drowned My simple song.

Men would not hear me then, and now
I care not, I accept my fate.
When white hairs thatch the furrowed brow, Crowns come too late.

The best of life went long ago
From me. It was not much at best,
Only the love that young hearts know,
The dear unrest.

Back on my past, through gathering tears, Once more I cast my eyes and see Bright shapes that in my better years Survolinded me.

They left me here, they left me there Vent down dark pathways, one by The wise, the great, the young, the fair-

Visions of Future Complications Loom Up Before the Public's Eyes.

LONDON, Jan. 13.-A dispatch from sources sympathizing with the Transvaal government in Johannesburg asserts that the plot for Dr. Jameson's raid and the coincident uprising of the Uitlanders were the most shameful in history. The blackest part of the plot, the dispatch asserts was the intention of the agents of the Chartered South African company to set loose the savages to invade the Transvaal from all points, and to kill every white

It is understood that the difficulty over the manner of disposal of Dr. Jameson's followers was settled on Saturday, the Transvaal government simply stipulating that the rank and file of the Jameson exredition should be deported from South Africa. According to the Transvaal law, the punishment for treason is banishment and a large fine. It is not believed here that President Kruger has demanded the abrogation of the London conventionwhich provides for the suzerainty of Great Britain over the Transvaal-as the price of sparing Dr. Jameson's life.

A dispatch received from sources sym pathizing with the Transvaal government in Johannesburg asserts that the plot for Dr. Jameson's raid and the coincident up rising of the Uitlanders were the most shameful in nistory. The blackest part of the plot, the dispatch asserts, was the intention of the agents of the Chartered South African company to set loose the savages to invade the Transvaal from all points, and to kill every white man.

It had been alleged that all over South Africa provision stations should be erected on the lines of the route, and the points had been fixed. The object was to destroy Pretoria and to present England with a fait accompli before any interference could reach them. Sketches of Pretoria and of the Rand, made by military men, have, it is said, been seized.

This story is denounced in London as a gross exaggeration, and it is regarded as being intended to prejudice the South African company in the negotiations it is making.

A dispatch received by the Chartered South African company from Buluwayo announces that the outcome of a mass meeting of the English colony, bankers and merchants there, was the declaration of a unanimous decision to obey the imperial government. The public, it was asserted, was fully under control. Rhodes' Point of View.

A dispatch from Cecil J. Rhodes, under date of Cape Town, Jan. 12, says: "The position is that within the Transvaal there are 70,000 new-comers and an old population of 14,000. With the developments of the gold industry to a fuller ex tent, the new-comers will amount to 500, 000 in five years; eventually to 1,000,000 probably more. From time to time the position will be upset by the attempts of the new population to claim civil rights which eventually they certainly must get "Statesmanship should give them some rights now, as the present state is impos sible for the new-comers, who own more than half the soil of the Transvaal and nine-tenths of the wealth of the country The new males outnumber the old, five to one, and are composed largely of Amer icans, including the principal mine man

"England is the only great power in South Africa. She is now threatened with German interference, which she is bound to resent and resist. In this she should have America's sympathy. Kruger and the Kaiser. The Berlin correspondent of The Times says: The publicity given to the exchange of letters between the queen and the em peror is very unwelcome here. It is regarded as an indiscrect attempt to make out of the family relations of the two political capital in the English interest courts. The substance of the letters can only be a matter of surmise. The contents of the emperor's letter may be inferred from the very conciliatory and reassuring words he addressed on the following day to the foreign representatives here on the occasion of the funeral of Prince, Alexander of Prussia, when he emphasized the unabated friendliness of the English and German governments. Unfortunately, however, it is too early to indulge in optimisms. President Kruger's attitude may be a better test of Germany's real attitude than professions of amity. If President Kruger proves obdurate, it will be difficult to resist the count upon Germany's support. It must not be forgotten that before Dr. Jameson's coup the organ of the German foreign office urged President Kruger to ignore the manifesto of the National union of Johannesburg. Dr. Jameson's ill-starred enterprise simply gave Germany an op-portunity to shift her ground to a plausible

To which The Taggeblatt replies: So England has sought hitherto a point d'appui against the dreibund. Germany would not have noticed that unless Eng land's ceaseless colonial intrigues, and the unjustifiable abuse in the English press is proof of such an intimacy. If this be so, Germany rejoices that England henceforth sheds the sunlight of her favor on the zweibund (Russia and France).

The Hamburger correspondent declares that there is no question of the abroga tion of the suzerainty of Great Britain over the Transvaal, because the Transvaal has not recognized the British suzerainty at any time since 1884.

The Kolnische Volkszeitung says: It is high time that the British governmen should deny its responsibilities for The Times' lies and abusive sayings about Germany. Continued silence implies guilt.

The Deutsches Wochenblatt threatens that when the Egyptian question shall be revived, the German press will unani mously side with France against England.

The Thunderer's Conclusions. An editorial in The Times says: There is far too great a disposition in some quarters to assume that the Transvaal difficulty is ended. It can only be truly said that the immediate danger of bloodshed has been averted.

But all the evils and terrors which made you want to know where you can get goods now at just one-half the prices charged elsewhere? Well, we are the people, and our advice to you is the people and the evils and terrors which made a disturbance in the Transvaal—with or without Dr. Jameson, merely a question of time—still remain unsettled. While President Kruger is releasing Dr. to call at once, and we assure you of satisfactory results.

We still have a large and choice the is throwing into prison the heads of all stock of Wieter Goods which must be sold between now and Jan. 31st, He cannot be allowed to transfer the charges of treason from armed invaders to the heads of a population which never asked anything but a fair share of politi-

And as he could have prevented Dr. Jameson's raid by divulging what his preparations proved he knew, he does not come to court with clean hands. Whether as against Dr. Jameson or against the Johannesburgers, we should advise all concerned to hear Cecil Rhodes before deciding upon the somewhat obscure and complicated transactions.

There is little apprehension of war with Germany over the present complication at least, and the British public have a reassuring sense that if there is to be a war, England Is Ready For It. The prompt and efficient work of the naval authorities and the formidable show of strength that is the result give John Bull a feeling of confidence.

There are no further explicit announce ments of movements looking to an al public that the sentiment displayed by the German government has a far wider bear ing than the present dispute in Transvaal and there are visions of future complications on questions of conflicting interests. Saturday's cabinet council, and the meeting at the colonial office, remain largely a subject of speculation, and whatever decisions may have been taken are sedulously guarded as state secrets and the greatest care taken to avoid publicity. William H. Mercer, private secretary Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, said last night that the secretary had no further telegrams to communicate to the public which had been received from South Africa. The visit of the Prince of Wales to the colonial office on Saturday, he said, just when several of the directors of the Chartered South African company were in recognition of Secretary Chamberlain's

This explanation is hardly likely t satisfy the public, in view of the repeate statements published that the director ship of the Duke of Fife, husband of Princess Louise of Wales, in the Chartered South African company, is a subject o concern to the royal family, and especially to the queen.

Having opened a Real Estate office in Durgin & Merrill's Block, we are prepared to show plans and give prices on some of the finest house lots offered for sale in this city in recent years. These lots are embraced in the following

PRESIDENT'S HILL.

This land was formerly the country residence of C. F. Adams. It overlooks the oceau, and the view both seaward and inland is unsurpassed in this vicinity. The grounds are covered with rare and costly shade trees, a very desirable feature of a lot, and the farthest portion of the property is within four minutes' walk of both electric and steam cars. Persons wishing a fine lot in a first-class locality would do well to inspect this property before purchasing.

CRANCH HILL.

Probably better known as Adams' Field, is situated in the heart of the city. The land is high and dry, and the streets through the property are wide and straight. The lots are good size, the prices moderate and terms very reasonable. No better lots for a man of moderate means have ever been offered in

WEST QUINCY.

Land formerly known as the Dell estate on Willard street, borders on Blue Hills reservation; is handy to works, and is less than five minutes' walk to electric cars, West Quincy depot and schools. This property comprises about willed to the children, and formed a part of that which was held in trust by Messrs. Allen and Batchelder. Mr. Marshall is placed in a terrible position. The earnings of a lifetime will be swept away by this terrible blow, and the gray hairs of the old gentleman may have no roof to shelter them which he can call his own. He has a wife and a family of several grown-up children.

Mr. Knights is placed in a position almost as bad. He has been a thrifty business man, and one of the leading spirits of the town for many years. If he is compelled to redeem his bond to the full extent, he will be almost impoverished. Captain Allen hired an office in the Fiske building, Boston, about a year ago. The aim of such an organization could not fall below pure public interest; personal interests would have to be left outside. But in the larger public interest, personal interests would find the safest protection. Such an organized effort could do much during the next ten years to make the town an ideal and attractive suburban city. In this way we could be stronger at home and have more influence abroad. All who have studied thoughtfully the corporate activity of the town during the past ten years, have been lead to feel that great care is needed in the direction of public affairs. #### Interesting Papers.

At the meeting of the Woman's Alliance in the chapel of First church Monday afternoon, a most interesting and scholarly paper on the Exodus was read by Mrs. Butler, wife of the pastor. Mrs. Butler took up the subject in an ethical vein, dwelling upon the individual characteristics of the Jewish people, showing how to this day they remain intact. She spoke of the We can give you some good most exalted qualities in this chosen people and made a comparison of the main factors in contemporary races and countries. She drew deep spiritual lessons from her analysis of this historical biblical book. Her delivery of the fine paper held her udience, as did a second paper in Mrs. C. H. Porter's best vein. Mrs. Porter opened her paper with, "I take the Scriptures as Ladies' Cardigan Jackets my authority," she dropped the analytical part and in simple, forcible language told

Muscle Oil Co.:—
Gentlemen:—Last spring I was greatly troubled with rheumatism in my leg and was not able to do any work for four months. After using several other so called sure cures, I tried Muscle Oil, and after using five bottles I was able to work every day and now feel as well as ever.

Yours truly, ever. Yours truly,

Another Letter, Written In 1842, Throws Light on the Subject.

It is feared that the quarre stated that in removing the posts Great Britain had not ceded any rights, it was contended that no document was in existence making any such contention at the time Great Britain had ordered the removal, and that the removal was a tacit admission that the Schomburgk line was wrong. Following is the letter, the authenticity of which is unquestionable:

FOREIGN OFFICE. The undersigned, etc., has the honor acknowledge receipt of a note addressed him on the 10th inst. by M. Fostiqu etc., representing the alarm and excitement which have been created in Venezuela on ac count of the marks fixed by Mr. Schomburgk at different points in his survey near the mouth of the Orinoco, and renewing his re quest that her majesty's government will order the removal of those marks.

The undersigned begs to inform M. Foswishes of the government of Venezuela, her him to remove the posts which have been placed by Mr. Schomburgk near the Orinoco. But the undersigned feels it his duty to disinctly declare to M. Fostique that, although n order to put an end to the apprehension which appears to prevail in Venezuela with regard to the object of Mr. Schomburgk's sur-vey, the undersigned has con-ented to comply with the renewed representations of M. sume negotiations with Venezuela on the Guiana and Venezuela. The question of the actual line of demarcation would be made subordinate to preliminary investigations as to the settlement.

England and Germany.

It seems pretty well established in the public mind that Emperor William did not mean to threaten war upon England by his message of sympathy to President Kruger, and the reports which were circulated a few days ago of a European alli ance back of Germany and against England find little further credence.

It seems to be accepted that the German emperor simply intended to express his own opinion of the Jameson raid in that message, and the temporary sentiment of irritation which it caused him. This is the general feeling, apparently, of the public mind, and those organs of public opinion which are in touch with the government have undoubtedly sought to deepen this impression.

But this still leaves unexplained the since contradicted assertion that the German government did not apply to Portugal for permission to pass marines through Portuguese territory at Delagoa Bay to the Transvaal, nor does it explain the unflagging preparation of war materials and equipments of war forces in England. Of more force seems the argument of some newspapers that the wavering support of Russia and France has admonished the German war lord that the interpretation put upon his message by England has put him into a hazardous position. Whether this or some other consideration has altered the situation, it is certain that the diplomatic agents of all the governments of Europe have been kept busy in the last few weeks, and it is believed that the full result of their labors is not yet known That England has had a vision of the destruction of the "balance of power" in Europe, with herself in the descending scale, is certain. Whether she has made other strokes in the hidden field of diplomacy besides her formidable show of naval force is not yet known. The first feeling of assurance over the better situation of the relations with Ga many is met by notes of warning that there are sti'i possible seeds for much rancor and danger in the situation in the Transvaal, and that the Venezuelan question is, after Il, not yet settled, nor any basis agreed pon for its settlement.

lated to the effect that the government intends to mobilize the volunteer forces was denied last night, but it is certain that appeals from the war office have recently been sent by circular to the commanders of all the volunteeer regiments, asking them to return the probable number of volunteers that could be mobilized, and to state the arrangements that would be necessary for doing so. At Woolwich, also, the great arsenal, covering 100 acres of ground, is receiving constant additions to its great store of naval material, and the activity in all departments there is unabated. The torpedo factory is increasing its outputs, and the men in that department are working many hours overtime.

The torpedoes, as fast as they are manu factured, are dispatched to Portsmouth ment has been brought to light upon the and Dover-the former the principal harbor that will float the whole of the English navy, and the latter the chiet port of communication between England pedo destrovers.

One feature of the war scare which is much dwelt upon here is the harm it has less be given a conspicuous part in the forthcoming Blue Book, as it is known been a big decrease in their orders since the scare. The orders of one big fanc goods firm, it is announced, have decreased will thus result in a permanent injury to

PENSIONS AND SILVER. The Topics Discussed In the National House and Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.-The house, after devoting an hour to the consideration of business reported from the District of Columbia committee yesterday, took up the pension appropriation bill.

The general debate on the bill consumed the bill, explained its provisions, Mr. Graff (Ills ) offered the amendment abandoned by the committee, inhibiting the suspension of pensions for fraud until the fraud had been proved in a United States court, and Mr. Bartlett (N. Y.) opposed the proposed extension of the dependent act of 1890, by the removal of the inhibition of widows' pensions until they had proved their dependence upon their daily labor for support. He estimated that the labor for support. He estimated that the proposed extension would add 50,000 names to the pension rolls.

Campos Worried. Although the Spanish authorities are making the best of the situation, it is known that General Campos is very much disheartened at the turn events have taken during the past six weeks, and rumor succeeds rumor, day by day, of his probable retirement from the command of the Spanish forces here, if not his return to Spain. He attributes a great deal of the success of the enemy to their superiority in moving quickly from point to point, and is still confident that if he is supplied with a sufficient number of cavalry regiments he will be able to eventually put down the insurrection. This, however, is a hopeful view of the situation, which is not taken by all thoughtful people, and the adherents of the Spanish government are anxiously longing to hear of a decisive victory for the Spaniards and of the arrival of further re-enforcements from Spain. The insurgents, according to report, now have as many men as they want; bu they are still sadly in need of arms and ammunition with which to equip them. That is now said to be the main difficulty under which the insurgents are laboring and the feature of their campaign which is the most difficult to overcome. ### FORTUNA'S LAST TRIP.

Run Down and Sunk Off Cape Cod by the Steamer Barnstable.

Not See Lights.

Nine Out of Twenty-Three Fishermen Went to Boston, Jan. 15.-When the Gloucester fishing schooner Fortuna sailed away from T wharf Monday forenoon, bound for George's bank, she had on board 23 men, including the captain; but before the evening was much more than an hour old she was lying at the bottom of the bay, with a great hole in her side, while nine of her erew had lost their lives in the icy water.

It was a collision between the schooner and the Boston Fruit company's steamer Barnstable that brought about the change, pened in Boston waters since the pilot boat D. J. Lawlor was sunk about two years ago, and six men were drowned.

The Barnstable, which was inward bound with a cargo of bananas from Por Antonio, Jam., was practically uninjure in the encounter, the only trace of the affair that she brought into port being several black scratches and scars on the white paint of her port bow.

The accident happened at a little before at about three miles northeast of he weather was perfectly clear and the stars could be seen plainly. He says he himself, the forward lookout and the man at the wheel were on deck at the time. Lights Were Burning.

"The other men," says the captain, were all in the forecastle except one, who was in the cabin. Our lights were burn-ing, as they should be, and we were tak-ing our regular course outward, when all at once I saw the lights of the steamer A handsome trimmed Hat or Bonnet for close on us. I yelled to the man at the wheel, and jumped to grab a torch. I had just time to touch a light to it and send it into the air when the crash came, and the steamer's bow cut half through the vessel.
"I gave the call for all hands on deck, nd the men came rushing up the ladder and, climbing into the main rigging, got on board the steamer. It was only a min-ute or two after the crash that the vessels stuck together; then the Fortuna drifted away and filled before some of the men had a chance to get away from her. The Fortuna sunk in five minutes after the says his first knowledge of impending the Red Cross society. e was when he suddenly disc a two-masted schooner directly under the steamer's port bow. "Before anything possible could be done to avert a coll sion," he says, "we crashed into her jus abaft of the fore rigging, cutting a great gaping hole in her, which extended far below the water line. "I immediately ordered the engineer to keep headway, in order that the steamer's nose would remain in the aperture made in the schooner long enough to give those on board an opportunity to escape. Most of the men on the schooner were in the forecastle, and when the shock of the collision was felt, they hurried on deck, climbed up the rigging of their vessel and reached the deck of the steamer. Nine of them, however, were unable to escape. "In about four minutes after the collision occurred the schooner drifted away from the steamer, plunged forward and sunk in about 50 fathoms of water. We remained in the vicinity for some hours in hopes of rescuing some of the men, but after a thorough search no trace of them could be found, so the steamer proceeded on her course.

Weather Was Clear. Captain Paine says that although the weather was clear at the time of the accident, the schooner's jib or forestaysail obscured her lights so that it was impossible to see her from the steamer until too late to avoid a collision. These are the men who were lost: William Akman, Robert Childs, Harry McFee, Thomas Steward, Crawford Minach, Harry Emeneau, Simon Diveaux, John Clark and William Tobin. The others had to leave the vessel in such a hurry that they saved nothing of their effects except such clothing as chanced to be on them at the time of the crash-and They were cared for as well as possible on their crews. board the steamer, and they reached the city on her yesterday, bringing the first news of the disaster. One of the men, Arthur Noonan, was struck by some broken timbers at the time of the collision, and seriously injured. He was cut in the side, and it is feared that he is hurt internally.

There was a bowling match at the Crow's Nest alley Tuesday night between Brown's team and the Quincy Point team. There was a large number of interested spectators present, and as the crowd gave evidence of being unruly, two of the spectators were requested by the proprietor to act as specials. The match was progressing finely, and Brown's team was leading by 135 points, when some evil-minded person erased the score which caused a dispute, and the match was declared off. From this time out there was more or less disturbance and Officer Barry was called in to clean out the crowd.

An Unpublished "Pome" on Some City Work at Squantum.

To the Editors of the Ledger:

In your issue of the 9 h inst. there appeared an article signed by "R," relative to the appointment of a Commissioner of Public Works, and advocating the selection of a city graduate of some technical school. I will remind the author of the communication that while an educational training is an excellent qualification for Important Question Easily Answered. such a position, a man who will make a Are you in need of anything and do you went to know where you can get successful Commissioner of Public Works goods now at just one-half the prices charged elsewhere? We hope to see you and recovering from its effects. I refer to disgraceful condition of affairs prevailed at Squantum when the city's employes were at work there. Loafing and drinking were indulged in, parties left their labor, visited eized by his maudin companions and South Boston, in the following order : laced in the tool-box and covered with coats in order to get him out of the sight of the Commissioner who was on the road approaching the scene. If this was true, and I do not doubt it, what kind of a foreman was there guarding (?) the city's

A poem which was sent to me commemorating this hilarious occasion contained the following verses:

It was after election the racket begun, A friend of big Denno went after the rum, Down to the cerner, though it is far away, With tax-payer's money to squander that way.

Will. Eaton came down the very next day To talk with big Denno along the highway The tip it was given, I very well know, It was into the tool-box his chum had to go

When Denno care in he looked all around. Half dead in the tool-box his chum was there found :

He hugged and embraced him and put on

The debates which were held every Monday evening were instructive and entertaining. The subjects which were debated were numerous, the principal questions being: The City and Town Question for Quincy; The Weekly Payment Bill; The "Female Suffrage;" The Division of the Town, or Annexation of Atlantic to Boston; Are Labor Organizations a Benefit to Four lines, one day... the Working Man?; Are the Results of the Late Civil War Worth the Cost ?; Should the Government Own and Control the Railroads?; Biennial Elections in this State, and numerous other questions have been discussed to the edification of the members.

The dramatic part of the association has been successfully conducted and the entertainments given by this association need no comments here.

In April, 1886, the association started the publication of THE QUINCY MONI-TOR, as a medium of advancing their interests as Catholics, as associates, and as citizens. A vast amount of good was naturally affected by a paper conducted on Catholic principles in explaining matters of doctrine, discipline and morals in which Catholics were so often misunderstood and misrepresented. The paper took its attitude upon a thoroughly Catholic standpoint it was independent in politics, believ ing that public office is really a publi trust, and therefore that public official are accountable to the people of all classes and parties for the just and faithful performance of their official duties. It firmly believed that the best interests of all demanded the suppression of the liquor traffic, and labored earnestly to bring about that end. It has thus been of great help, not only to

THE PORTE'S MANDATE

Norman's Opinion of the Sultan's Objections to the Red Cross.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 .- In an interview vesterday, the Turkish minister said: "You ask me what I have to say about the following statement: The Red Cross soclety has decided not to pay any attention to the communication until it is officially ment or the Turkish minister.

"My answer is very simple, and it is the following: The Red Cross has never communicated with this legation. It has only communicated, to my knowledge, with the press and the public, its president, Miss Clara Barton, assisting, without protest at public meetings, where the most gross and unjust abuse was made of the Turkish government, religion and race. As the Red Cross or any of its representatives never visited this legation, it is clear and logical that this legation had nothing to communicate to said so-

"This legation sent its communication to the press because it is the public that the Red Cross took in its confidence, but naturally I always will be ready and pleased to give to the Red Cross society any explanation it may think it proper to ask for. But I wish you to understand that even today, notwithstanding the contrary assurances of interested parties, the Turkish government has no animosity whatever against the Armenians and only wishes to see them prosper under its legitimate and rightful authority.'

Not Yet Accepted as Final.

The action of the Turkish government that country and preventing assistance from reaching the Armenians has caused much unfavorable comment at the Capitol. Members of the foreign relations commit tee of the senate are not inclined to publiely discuss the matter, but privately express their surprise and indignation at the conduct of a government that thus shuts the door in the face of an organizatica recognized by the whole world as one intended to relieve the miseries of mankind and aid the afflicted.

Mr. Cullom, chairman of the sub-committee having the Armenian question in hand, said that he did not see what this government could do in the premises, much as he deplored it. If the Turkish government took this step he was not aware of any way through which this government could effectually protest. The action so far taken appears to be that of the accredited minister to the United States, and the committee is not inclined to accept it as final until such instructions come from Constantinople itself.

Norman Knew It. A dispatch from New York gives the outline of an interesting talk about the sultan's purpose by Henry Norman, the representative of the London Daily Chronicle. Mr. Norman, when asked about the report that the sultan had refused to allow any of the Red Cross workers to enter Armenia, did not seem at all surprised. He said, in a matter-of-fact way:

"That is just what one would naturally look for. I predicted that no Red Cross agent-man or woman-could enter the country. It is a most perilous undertaking to enter Armenia now. The snow is ep, the provisions for public relief are practically worthless, the roads are rugged and almost impassable. When I heard that Miss Clara Barton intended to go into Armenia, I said that she could not make it, as she would not be able to pass | pay for their bonds. the roads, even if she could stand the

"The Sultan of Turkey is working out his own reforms in Armenia, and he is doing it in his own way. He does not want the civilized world to know what he is doing, and the entrance of Red Cross missionaries into this country at this time would reveal the awful condition to them. They would send back word that would cause every civilized nation to rise in arms against him.

"I make the statement advisedly when I say the Sultan of Turkey is effecting his reforms in Armenia by murdering those who oppose him, and reducing to such a state of terror those who fear to oppose him drafts. that they are no longer human. Miss Barton declares that that government is not antagonistic to the Red Cross as such, but objects to the distribution of foreign relief on entirely different grounds, neither in its power nor that of the society to control. The speakers, with a single exception, were all Republicans, and all favored a liberal administration of the pension laws and the adoption of the changes to existing law proposed by the bill. Among the speakers was General John A. Walker, who served with distinction in the Confederate army. His assurance of the good feeling that existed in the south toward the Union soldier and the lack of hostility toward the pension system was warmly received on both sides of the house. Mr. Cummings (Dem., N. #### KRUGER'S ATTITUDE. Will Investigate Transvaal Raid When Excitement Has Cooled.

PRETORIA, Jan. 15 .- The volksraad met yesterday and authorized the government to increase the state artillery force by 400 men. They also adopted a government resolution thanking the Orange Free State for its sisterly assistance, and also Sir Hercules Robinson, governor of Cape Colony, and Sir Jacobus de Wet, British ernment and for their efforts to prevent bloodshed.

A letter was read to the volksraad from President Kruger to the effect that he intends to discuss with the raad in later and calmer moments the causes which led to the dastardly plot against the state and government. He was firmly resolved, the message said, to maintain the sacred rights and interests of the republic, and to establish the same on a firmer and securer foundation.

The vague talk about a permanent tribunal of arbitration can only tend to obstruct or obscure the more practical efforts to solve the difficulty.

Republicans Organize In Behalf of Maine's Favorite Son.

Charter List of Over Five Hundred Members.

Presidential Candidate Who Belongs to the PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 16 .- Over 500 prom inent Republicans of the state of Maine met here yesterday to organize a Reed club to boom the Maine candidate for the presidency. Having met twice to organize, they were obliged each time to adjourn the largest hall in the city, which was packed almost to suffocation.

spoke as follows: "I fully appreciate your cordial and unanimous action in selecting me as president of this organization, an organization that will represent the Republicans of Maine, all united in one common purpose and object—the selection of Thomas B. Reed as bearer of the national Republican standard in the next presi-

"I am gratifled to see present at this informal gathering so many of the repre-sentative men of the Republican party in our state, for it evidences the earnestness and enthusiasm of our people. We have but one choice for president, but one candidate, and this organization will ema position in the councils of the nation, and who is the leading candidate for the next presidential nomination.

"We tender him our support, not be cause he is a citizen of Maine, for he Belongs to the Whole Union.

We urge his nomination, not because he has conferred honor upon our state by his distinguished career in congress, but because he has always shown his devotion to the great principles of the Republican party; because he has met every emergency as it rose, and in the interests of good and pure and patriotic government, of the country.

"We support him because he will make a bold, a fearless, a determined, a safe and a skillful leader, and under his adminis tration the rights and interests of the whole people will be secure and the ma-jesty and honor and dignity of this great, free republic will be upheld in every por-

Boston, Jan. 16. - Amongst the new business introduced in the house yesterday tural society. were two bills of more than ordinary interest. One of these contemplates the appointment of a commission to consider what shall be done with the Bulfinch state house and to report in February, 1897. The other has for its object the creation of an excise commission in the city of Boston, which shall exercise all the powers now vested in the board of police commissioners in respect to licenses to innkeepers and victuallers.

The committee on federal relations reported back favorably the resolutions requesting the senators and representatives of Massachusetts in congress to take steps to stop the massacre of Armenians in Turkey.

Petitions in favor of biennial elections were received from many sources. In the senate the committee on federal relations reported that the resolution affirming the principles of the Monroe doctrine ought to be adopted. The bill providing for a reduction of the number of councilmen elected in Boston to one from each ward, the abolition of the council's contingent fund, and the payment of a salary of $500 a year to each councilman, was taken from the files of Petitions: City of Northampton for

WORK OF DESTRUCTION

Carried on to an Enormous Extent by Cuban Insurgents.

Some Hot Engagements, In Which Troops Are Reported Victorious.

HABANA, Jan. 16. - Information concerning the damage done by the insurgents in the province of Pinar del Rio continues to arrive here from various sources. Between Pueblo Nuevo and Ballate, in that province, all the canefields have been burned, and at Passo Real, La Herradura and Los Palacios the insurgents have not only burned all the railroad cars, but they have destroyed all the railway material of every description which

At Guareiras, the insurgents burned the plantation of Las Vega and other canefields, and at Manicaragua, province of Santa Clara, they have burned the large store and tobacco warehouse, containing 500 bales of tobacco, belonging to the Ortiz company.

The distress in the province of Matanzas and other places devastated by the insurgents is very great, and the local authorities in various districts have been granted the necessary permission to collect funds by public subscription for the relief of the sufferers.

Late last evening information was received here to the effect that the insurgents had also burned the village of Ric Blanco, in the province of Pinar del Rio The prices of provisions, etc., are rising very rapidly here, and the expense of liv sail for Europe the last of the month, tak- ing is fully 50 per cent more than it was ing Harold, the youngest son of Mrs. Belmont, with them.

> If this is the case, with the insurgent worse if the Spanish commanders are un the second Cuban army. Business is suf-fering terribly on all sides, and the mercantile community is heartily tired of the insurrection and everything connected with it.

The opening of the wires in Matanzas has brought intelligence of a hot engage ment at Las Charcas, near the mountains of Santa Maria, in that province. The column of Spanish troops was led by Captain Martin Sanchez, and the number of his troops is placed by the official report at

The insurgents engaged were under the Cuban leaders Lacret, Clotilde, Garcia, Perez and Inglesito, and the official report places their number at 1200. The battle, t is said, raged fiercely for two hours, the insurgents pursuing their usual elusive and harassing tactics. They gave way before the Spaniards, who finally took wounded. The Spanish losses, according Under the hammer, the Lewiston (Me.) to the report given out, were: One volum teer killed, five soldiers wounded and 1 missing. The subsequent movements of the opposing forces are not reported. Still another report of an encounter with Maximo Gomez at a point near Se barucal has been received. This time is was General Prat, who reports that he has had an engagement with Maximo Gomez and that he has also put the Cuban for to flight. No details of the engageme are given, nor is anything stated as to th amount of the losses inflicted, but it is said that Gomez is proceeding westward, and that he goes to relieve Maceo and t re-enforce him.

Spanish Claims.

The Spanish authorities claim that they have pressed Gomez hard for two days, and that they have succeeded in doing what they sought in driving him back into the heart of Pinar del Rio province They say that the combined forces of Go mez and Maceo are now in a seriously compromised position, and they do not fail to disseminate the impression of their confidence that they have at last got the insurgents at a disadvantage, and will be able to prevent their escape from Pinar

MISS ANTHONY ANGRY.

Makes Harsh Remarks About President Eliot of Harvard University.

ROCHESTER, Jan. 16.-Miss Susan B. Anthony is much incensed at the criticisms of President Eliot of Harvard university and Bishop Doane of Albany on her call for the 28th annual convention of the American Woman's Suffrage association In Washington, Jan. 23 to 28. Miss Anthony says:

"The first and only time that I ever saw President Eliot was at the convention of all the superintendents of schools of the United States. Before that great audience President Eliot declared that it was not to the interest of American patriotism or loyalty to have women teachers in the schools. There I formed my idea of the man, and I have not changed it.

"Regarding the criticism that I have in any way distorted his letter, it is not true. It is harmful to the nation to have such a man as Mr. Eliot at the head of such a great institution as Harvard university. His views are naturally impressed on the minds of the students, and the country is worse off for it. In my mind Mr. Eliot is not an American of whom a true patriot should be proud. He is an archtraitor, and has by this letter alone committed treason." Miss Anthony hoped her views would be rightly stated before the public. BOND MODIFICATION.

It was during the three years beginning with 1855 that most of those acts were committed which anti-Mormon writers refer to as the "church murders." The first year the crop failed, and the next winter the people had to dig thistle roots and segoes for food. A spirit of wild fanaticism followed and a fearful period, known as the "reformation," during which the "blood atonement" doctrine w. ed and occasionally enforced. The same year 2,000 Mormons started from the frontier in August to travel to Utah with handcarts. Winter came early while with handcarts. Winter came early while diditional lines will be charged for pro rats. they were in the heart of the Rocky mountains; 300 of them died, and many more suffered the loss of an eye or a limb or otherwise by cold and hunger. > Mines were opened in adjacent territories, and the Mormons had a good market for their surplus at famine prices. Our civil war came on, a hard winter closed the Missouri river, Indians dominated all other routes, and flour in Wollaston, Dec. 23. dominated all other routes, and flour in Montana rose to $110 per barrel. The Mormons literally coined money. Dur-Mormons literally coined money. During one peculiarly hard winter some 4,000 miners came to winter in the city, and I have heard old Mormons and meritary desirable house, 10 rooms, with bath, stable, fruit trees, 10,000 to 20,000 feet land. Apply, L. W. NASH. Wollaston, Sept. 10. and I have heard old Mormons and merchants estimate that their average expenditures there were $5,000 per day for four months. After the war came the Union Pacific railroad, and when I crossed the plains, although the terminus of the road was near Cheyenne, the Mormon settlements were in a highly prosperous condition by reason of freighting and furnishing supplies to the advance working parties.

A Flight From Glory. Once from the parapet of gems and glow An angel said: "O God, the heart grows cold

On these eternal hattlements of gold. Where all is pure but cold as virgin snow. "Here sobs are never heard, no salt tears flow;

Here there is none to help, nor sick, nor old; No wrong to fight, no justice to uphold. Grant me thy leave to live man's life below." "And then annihilation?" God replied "Yes," said the angel, "even that dread

For earthly tears are worth eternal night." "Then go," said God. The angel opened wide His dazzling wings, gazed back to heaven

And plunged forever from the walls of light.

The Daily Ledger. BY ARBITRATION ONLY

Can the Dispute Between England and Venezuela Be Settled.

Diplomatic Correspondence of a Few Years Ago

Which May Greatly Aid In Straightening the Existing Difficulties.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.-Congressman Heatwole (Minn.), a member of the house committee on foreign affairs, has supplied some new and important information on the Venezuelan question, having direct bearing upon the possibilities of a settlement of the boundary dispute by the two interested governments without the assistance of other powers, and seemingly discounting the probability of such an ending to the controversy.

The British government, according to the most recent and apparently inspired utterances of its semi-official organs, has turned to the policy of bringing about a resumption of diplomatic relations with the South American republic, and then proceeding to direct negotiations with the the most feasible path by which it can emerge from its position without a prac-BOSTON-Old Colony News Stand after tical retraction of Lord Salisbury's refusal to arbitrate. In the light of precedents established by her most distinguished authorities, it is difficult to see how the government of Venezuela can consent to enter upon any agreement to compromise her territorial claims with Great Britain, or, as it has been suggested by recent London dispatches, to part with any portion of her claims for a financial consideration, for no less an authority than Guzman Blanco is on record as declaring such a course to be distinctly unconstitutional.

Mr. Heatwole, who has given some attention to the Venezuelan question, has procured a copy of an important document, published in 1887 for the government of Venezuela, embracing all the correspondence between its representatives and those of Great Britain upon diplomatic matters between the two governments from the years 1883 to 1887, when the most active efforts to reach a determination of the boundary line were under

In this correspondence Venezuela repeatedly affirms by her minister of foreign affairs, Rafael Seijas, and afterward by Guzman Blanco, acting in the capacity of special envoy, that it is impossible for her to compromise the boundary claims by any treaty or convention, because of the terms of her national legislation. It was her adherence to this position that largely frustrated the attempts to arrange a general treaty between the two governments, and seems to have led to the severance of diplomatic relations in 1887.

This propositions was most clearly nunciated by Guzman Blanco in 1883, when in a memorandum to Lord Salisbury, then foreign secretary, he says: Venezuela has repeatedly held forth to Great Britain her impossibility to alienate any part whatever of the territory of the republic, such a thing being explicitly prohibited by the con-stitution; so that there remains but arbitra-tion for bringing the dispute about the boundary to an end. This was partly in answer to the British offer of 1881-of a compromise boundaryand it appears further from the correspondence that the Venezuelan govern-ment of that day regarded any settlement by treaty involving the relinquishment of part of her claims under the constitutional ibition of alienating her lands.

The correspondence begins with a letter written Oct. 15, 1883, by C. E. Mansfield, the British minister at Caracas, who says that he is instructed by Lord Granville "to invite the serious attention of the Venezuelan government to the questions now pending between Great Britain and Venezuela," and "to state that it is, in the opinion of her majesty's government, Senator Allison himself, the delegation desirable that an early settlement of them held a conference and discussed plans for should be arrived at."

The questions are stated to be: First-The boundary between Venezuela and British Guiana. Second-The differential duties imposed on imports from British colonies. Third-The claims of the British creditors of the republic. Mr. Mansfield also writes: "Her majesty's government considers the questions to which Lord Granville refers should be dealt with as a whole, and I am instructed to say that they attach great importance to the simultaneous settlement of them."

Provisional Acceptance.

Rafael Sijas, minister of foreign affairs, replies to the note, cordially accepting the nvitation to negotiate a treaty, but incidentally says: The government was anxious to overcome by any means whatever the serious difficulty which the constitution or fundamental law of the republic presents to the celebration of treaties on boundaries. It denies most explicitly to its high powers the faculty of alien-ating or making cession of the smallest part of the territory under the recognized dominlon of the republic in no case nor manner whatever, even if it were as an indemnification

Under date of March 29, 1884, Mr. Mansfield says that he is instructed to state that bis government is not of the opinion that belonging to each, the decision of an arbitrator could alone determine whether the pretensions of this country has or has not any foundation.

He refers to various instances in which Great Britain had submitted the question of limits to arbitrators, and asks her towithout losing sight of the constitutional situation of Venezuela-kindly select and point out another acceptable way of obtaining a settlement of this difficulty which the republic so anxiously desires.

Mr. Mansfield, writing April 8, 1884, questioned: "Whether a district, about the sovereignty of which, since the earliest days of the republic of Venezuela, there has existed a discussion with a foreign power, is to be regarded as forming so inlegral a portion of the territory of the republic as to preclude the possibility within the limits of the constitution of a rectification of frontier by treaty?" Continuing, he adds: I make use of the latter term with intention and advisedly. The question appears to me one essentially of rectification of froutier, for peither in the proposals of Lord Aberdeen, nor in those made by Lord Granville to Senor Rojas, does her majesty's government suggest dime was assumed to be comprised in our possession as inherited from the Dutch should now be declared to be British territory.

All the constitutions of Venezuela have established that her limits are the same which in 1810 belonged to the captaincy general of Venezuela. According to those of 1830 and 1857 congress had the power to decree the alienation, the exchange or the acquisition of territory. In that of 1858 it is stated that no portion of territory could pass through alienation to the dominion of another power, but that this rule should not be an obstacle to the accommodations which might become indispensable for the fixing of the boundaries of their republic with other neighboring coun-tries as long as no village should lose its nationality through the same. Venezuela and Great Britain have equal rights in the question which is being ventilated. If the republic yielded any part of her pretension, she would acknowledge the superiority of the British claim, she would violate the aforesaid article of the constitution and would incur the reproaches of the citizens.

All of the foregoing correspondence was carried on during the term of Guzman Blanco as President of Venezuela. In 1884 General Blanco went to Great Britain as a special envoy to bring to a settlement the differences of the governments, and in a memorandum given to Sir Julian Pauncefote, then a secretary of the foreign office, he said of the boundary question:

The government of the republic finds in its astitution an insuperable defi to settle it any other way but arbitration. The states of the confederation of Venezuela bind themselves therein to alienate to no foreign power any republic to determine the boundary, as part of their territory. Therefore, it is impos sible for them to make or accept any treaty in which there are not recognized the same limits which in the year 1810 belonged to the former captaincy general of Venezuela.

Commission Snggestea. But, in conclusion, Blanco said that Venezuela proposed, instead of arbitration of a friendly power, the sentence of a commission of jurists, composed of persons chosen respectively by the parties. In a later note he explains that such a commission would examine the titles of both nations, would decide according to the merits of the proofs adduced, and each side would have to lose the territory to which it had no right.

Granville, in reply, informed him that the plan of a commission presented con-stitutional difficulties which prevented her majesty's government from conceding to it without explaining the nature of those difficulties, and the plan was dropped from the discussion. In its place came the general treaty, providing among other things, "If, as is to be deprecated there shall arise any differences, they shall be submitted to arbitration."

When the treaty seemed about to be ompleted the government changed. Lord Salisbury succeeded Granville, and he expressly disavowed any construction of the treaty or understanding by which it could apply to the boundary dispute, so the whole negotiation fell through. At various stages in the correspondence General Blanco reiterated the constitutional impossibility of any settlement of the boundary by treaty.

As Viewed at Washington. Whether President Crespo will put the same construction upon the constitution remains to be seen. A member of the foreign affairs committee, in discussing the above correspondence, said: "Exceptions have been taken to that passage of President Cleveland's letter which asserts that any adjustment of the boundary which that country (Venezuela) may deem for her advantage and may enter into of her own free will cannot, of course, be objected to by the United States as not being in accord with the interpretation of the Monroe doctrine held by some public men, who hold that the United States might be justified in objecting to the voluntary cession of territory by another American government to an Euro-"Some of these critics of the message might be persuaded by financial or other considerations to waive a large proportion of her territorial claims to Great Britain If President Crespo interprets the consti tution of his government as did Guzman Blanco, the necessity for any intervention by the United States to prevent voluntary relinquishment of the mouth of the Ori noco to England's control is remote.'

In Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.-The senate passed the joint resolution appropriating $75,000 to defray the expenses of a commission to fix the boundary line between Alaska and British North America. Mr. Mills addressed the senate on the house bond bill. He expressed his regret at having to differ with the president in his recommendation to cancel and withdraw government circulation and to substitute bank circulation for it. Another day was consumed by the house in oratory upon the pension appropriation bill, in the course of which the policy of the present administration toward the veterans was scored by both Republicans and Democrats, and defended by two or three Democrats.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.-The four rival dities-New York, Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati-which are applicants for the Democratic national convention have established their headquarters at the Arlington, and the campaign for the prize is be ing carried on with vigor. It seems likely that the fact that it has practically been decided to hold the convention later than usual-in July or August-will militate against the chances of St. Louis and Cincinnati. The victory seems to lie be ween New York and Chicago.

-The possibilities of modern warfare were indicated by Thomas A. Edison, in an interview during the war scare. Mr. Edison declares that he would turn his wonderful inventive skill and electrical research to the purpose of war and the extermination of men only for the preservation of his own country, but if the occasion arose he thinks he could present some devices which would revolutionize warfare and practically make it impossible. Mr. Edison is no visionist, and when he says that a whole invading army could be electrocuted in a twinkling simply by the pressure of a button, the possibilities seem enormous. Two or three men, he claims with dynamos and the assistance of streams of running water conducted by hose pipes, could besiege a city or exterminate a host.

But It May Cost the Government Man Millions of Dollars-The Supreme Court to Reopen the Famous Hat Trimmis Cases-More Than $20,000,000 Involve

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7. - Word come from Washington that the supreme cour is to rehear the famous "hat trimmings" cases which were argued some weeks ago. The rehearing is to be given he. cause there was not a full court when they were heard before and because the amount of money involved makes it important that every care be exercised to protect the interests of the government The individual claimants have larg amounts at stake, but to the governmen the decision means between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000. The hat trimming cases originated in Philadelphia, and one of the beneficiaries by the decision of the court, if it is in favor of the claimants, will be John Wanamake, The test case was brought by Meyer & Dickinson of this city, and it was decided by the jury in 1891 in favor of the plaintiffs. An error in the tariff law of 1893 caused the bringing of these claims against the government. Where so complicated a piece of legislation is concern ed there are always errors, some of them due to carelessness of the senators or members of the house concerned in framing the bill, some to the treasury depart. ment, which makes suggestions for paragraphs and which examines the bill for errors before it is sent to the president Some of the errors are made by the clerks of the house or senate in transcribing the bill. So commonly recognized is this weakness in the making of tariffs that there are lawyers in New York and Philadelphia who make a good living studying tariff laws and telling people who pay duty under them where they are faulty. These lawyers are too clever to publish their discoveries. They wait until importers have paid large sums to the government for duties on foreign goods. Then they go to these importers and say they know a flaw in the tariff law which may make it possible to recover from the government some part of the duties paid. The importers, who have much to gain and nothing t lose, authorize the lawyer to go ahead on a percentage basis.

Sometimes the error in the tariff bill is the omission of a comma or the substitution of a comma for a semicolor Sometimes a word is omitted or words are transposed so as to make the meaning of the paragraph obscure. There is a customs commission now which interprets tariff laws, and it undertook in one case to go back to the "intention" of congress in making a certain provision. But this the courts will not do Though it may be plain enough that congress meant one thing in a tariff paragraph, if the language of the law bears another interpretation the courts will give that interpretation the force

In the hat trimmi was the omission from a paragraph of the law of 1883 of the word "vegetable." No one knows just where this word dropped out of the law, but the law as passed provided that a duty of 20 per cent should be collected on "hats, etc., materials, braids, plaits, laces, trimmings, willow sheets and squares used for making or ornamenting hats, bonnets and goods composed of straw, chip, grass, palm leaf, willow hair, whalebone or any other substance a material not specially enumerated a provided for." It was intended to have the word "vegetable" precede the word "substance," so that the material not specially provided for, to be admitted at 20 per cent, should be limited to vegetable substances. Silk ribbons used in part for the trimming of hats were classed by the treasury as unenumerated manufa tures of silk and paid duty at the rate of 50 per cent under another paragraph of the law. In 1886 an importer named Langfelt brought suit against the collector of the port here, claiming that some cotton back ribbon, of which he had imported a very large quantity, was dutiable at 20 per cent only, and that excessive duties had been collected from him. He won his suit in the lower court before a jury which was instructed by Judge McKennan that if the chief use of the ribbons was the trimming of hats they came under the paragraph quoted above. This decision was affirmed in the supreme court eventually, and $6,000,000 were refunded on it. A man named Edelhoff, who imported hatbands, afterward brought suit in New York, and he also received a verdict and a handsome refund. Then Meyer & Dickinson of Philadelphia brought suit on another class of goods used as hat trimmings and got a verdict for $632.40 from a Philadelphia jury on the 19th of June, 1891. That verdict for $632.40, if sustained, meant a loss of probably $25,000,000 to the government. The attorney general of the United States gave instructions to have the cases appealed to the supreme court. There the judgment of the lower court was affirmed.

The Langfelt case was reheard by the supreme court, and the judgment in favor of the plaintiff was affirmed finally on the very day when the Meyer & Dickinson case was decided by the jury in this city. It is probable the rehearing to be given by the supreme court in a short time will be the last of this famons litigation.

Secretary Charles Foster tried to compromise the hat trimmings cases for $3,000,000. His estimate of the loss to the government, if they were decide adversely, was $25,000,000. GRANT HAM

Another Lively Skirmish In Pinar Del Rio.

Question of Recognizing Insurgents' Gelligerency Considered at Washington.

HABANA, Jan. 17.—The politicians are insisting upon making themselves heard on the present unsatisfactory state of affairs on the island.

The first published utterance on the subect was the editorial in the. Diario del Marina Wednesday, entitled "An Unbearable Situation." That article has borne sensational fruit, and the expression of the public mind on the present method of conducting affairs in Cuba refuses longer

The Union Constitucional, the Reformist and the Conservative parties yesterday announced that they declined longer to support Campos in his policy for the conluct of the campaign against the insurgents or of Cuban affairs. There was a great manifestation of the people's sentiment, and all spoke their minds quite freely and frankly. The outbreak of feeling has caused a great sensation, and a feeling of intense excitement pervades the

The organ of the autonomists expresses its adherence to the views expressed by representatives of other political parties, and Campos is apparently without political friends or support in Cuba. The same kind of an outbreak threatened when Gomez first accomplished his neursion into Matanzas, and was pushing for Habana province. It will be renembered that Campos hurried to Habana in the midst of the important mili-tary operations and had many and long conferences with the political leaders.

It will also be remembered that the old varrior won the hearts of the leaders and had a demonstration in his honor, and that he made a speech pathetically alluding to the fact that he reason to fear that some in Habana were not pieced with what he had done to check the insurgents' advance, but adding that he was glad to perceive by the welcome given him that this was not true. Votes of confidence in Campos were passed on all hands, and the authorities in spain telegraphed their thanks to Habana that Campos was thus supported. All this, it will be recalled, was accompanied with great parade of apparent enthusiasm and good feeling and blowing of trumpets, and things were smoothed over. Vesterday's outbreak is not of a erals Rando and Marin to Habana to assume direction of affairs. Stocks went down here yesterday, and there is a feeling of panic. The situation here is very critical. Nothing has occurred to improve the situation of affairs in the city itself, and the supply of ordinary necessities of life is ecoming precarious and exceedingly high priced, and the outlook for the future ffers little encouragement. The severity shown toward those who express dissatisfaction with the situation and with the authorities does not avail to suppress this New York, failed. feeling, and the mutterings of discontent and of criticism of the helpless attitude of the authorities are becoming daily ouder and deeper.

Yesterday's Doings. With the exception of a lively skirmish between the forces under General Luque and the insurgents in Pinar del Rio, there was no notable engagement reported

Maximo Gomez is said to have camped Wednesday night at a point near Guanajay, between Guayabal and San Dimas, and he seems to have evaded his pursuers, as nothing is said of any further losses inflicted upon him. The insurgents in Pinar del Rio, who were reported to have their safety seriously compromised by the movements and fresh stations of the troops, are ranging far and wide over that province, apparently at will. There is not much damage reported along their route, except to rail-road property, as the people of the Vuelta Abajo district are, for the most part, very friendly to the insurgents' cause, and offer no opposition to the progress of the

It is almost like moving in a friendly country, and superior forces of troops are easily avoided. A part or all the forces which moved west along the north coast Wednesday countermarched by the south coast. The official report says there were 600 of them under Nunez, Bermudez and Alvarez, and that they started back eastward from Patenque, passing between San Luiz and the city of Pinar del Rio, and very near the latter city. They proceeded thence along the south coast in the direction of Candelaria. General Luque received intelligence of their movement and set out to intercept have made a plucky stand, and the battle raged fiercely for two hours. At the close of that time their heavy artillery was seconded by a bayonet charge, before which the insurgents broke and retreated in all directions, as the official report avers. Whether this included the direction to General Luque's own rear is not specifically stated, and will not be known mudez and Alvarez is reported. The insurgents are said to have los seven killed. The colors, together with firearms, ammunition and seven prisoners, fell into the hands of the Spanish, and the insurgents, it is reported, carried away numerous wounded. Nineteen of the troops are reported to have been wounded, but no dead are reported.

The village of San Nicolas, east of Guines, in Habana province, has been burned and much spoil carried away. Jibacoa, in the extreme northern portion of Habana province, is also reported to have been attacked, but the insurgents are reported to have been repulsed. The damage they inflicted before the repulse is not stated, but it is reported that they left one dead and three wounded, and carried off several wounded.

An Interesting Discussion.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 .- The question of recognizing the belligerency of the Cuban insurgents absorbed all the time of the house foreign affairs committee at its meeting yesterday.

While it is by no means certain that a majority of the foreign affairs committeemen regard it as expedient to grant recognition to the belligerents at this stage of their fight, a feeling of dissatisfaction did crop out at the meeting yesterday because no possible progress is being made by the committee toward reaching a decision on which it can make a report to the house Some dissatisfaction was expressed be cause the state department has not yet furnished the committee the information in its possession on the status and prog

The principal incident yesterday was carefully prepared speech delivered by William A. Smith (Mich.). Set speeches in committee meetings are unusual, but Mr Smith is an enthusiastic champion of the insurgent cause, and pleaded for imp. ediate action. Apart from Mr. Smith's effort, the discussion was informal.

The conservative position is taken by the members of the sub-committee— Messrs. Adams, Draper and Hitt-who have charge of the Cuban question. Mr. Adams was the United States minister to try was changed from a monarchy to a republic, and he was the first foreign representative to recognize the new govern ment. It is understood that members of the committee argued that the Cuban revolutionists have no established seat of government; that the republic they have declared is not exercising any civil power or enforcing any laws, and that they have no judicial or legislative machinery.

MAYOR ADAMS petition to the Legislaure, to authorize the Metropolitan Park commission to construct a boulevard from Squantum Head to the Blue Hills reservation skirting the shores of the picturesque Quincy Bay through Merry Mount Park and up Furnace brook valley to the reservation making one of the most magnificent seashore and upland roadways in the country, is a step to be commended. It interests the poor man as well as the rich man. It places under public control the valuable franchises of the shores of Quincy bay for time immemorial. It does away with private ownership and trespass signs. It opens its beaches and waters to the people. It will be the people's promenade. For several years this plan has been under contemplation. It was warmly advocated by Messrs. Charles Francis Adams, Chas. H. Porter and William B. Rice, Park Commissioners, in their report for 1892, and was heartily endorsed by Mayor Fairbanks, both in his inaugerals, and since in speeches before the public.

In 1892, Mr. Charles Eliot now of Olmstead, Olmstead & Eliot, the eminent landscape architect, made plans and a report of this proposed boulevard to the Park Commissions. Mr. Eliot said in substance that "the city of Quincy is most favorably placed. Behind her rise the rocky ridges of the Blue Hills, beside her on either hand flow the Neponset and Weymouth rivers, and at her feet is spread the bay. The situation is peculiarly symmetrical. The peninsula of Squantum, besides the mouth of the Neponset, is matched by that of Hough's Neck, besides the mouth of Weymouth Fore river. Hangman's island ites hearly in the middle of the space embraced by the two peninsulas; and Black's creek, the only ked derable break in the shore line of the bay, again lies near the middle, both of the bay's curve and of the city. Just here, too, there appears another fortunate feature in the geography of Quincy, namely, the deep valley of Furnace brook, a stream Gur Goods are always re- which seems to have been made to flow pendent. There were good honest men in habitants of the interior region of West Quincy and East Muton with an easy and beautiful route to the central portion

"The existing Adams street follows first ne side and then the other side of this valley, by a route which involves many ascents and descents; but when the city shall have taken possession of the bottom of the valley, as it should for sanitary reasons (if for no other), it will then be possible to lay out a road which by following the stream, will avoid all ups and downs, and by which Black's creek and the bay will be reached very pleasantly and

"Descending now this valley of approach, the tide is met at the old dam of Black's creek about half a mile from the open bay. Here there is a charming view down the creek, comprising a distant glimpse of the bay, with perhaps a sail or two, the winding creek itself and its accompanying salt meadows, two or three boats moored in the creek, and for a frame a varied bank of oaks, pines and cedars on either hand. There is no better composed landscape in all the neighborhood of Boston; and certainly there is no prettier."

Mayor Adams has shown commendable foresight in having the construction placed in the hands of Metropolitan Park Commission. This will not throw the whole of the burden upon the city but will place it upon the Metropoliton Park district, thus making Quincy's share of the expense small. In connection with this boulevard the development of Merry Mount park will naturally come up. As has already been pointed out in the LEDGER, the city is now at liberty to begin work upon it. But it is hardly possible that anything substantial will be done for a few years, outside of developing the plans. Not a sod should be turned or a tree trimmed until eminent landscape architects like Olmstead, Olmstead & Eliot of Boston, formulate the plans which are to be carried out by future commissions. To give this development over to mediocre landscape gardeners would make a botch of what our citizens desire to have in the future, - one of the most beautiful public parks in the country. Under judicious management this can be accomplished at a minimum expense; under ignorant management it can be made to be a burden and an eyesore to the city for years to come.

The annual almanac of the Boston Post has reached us-an excellent compendium of the latest really valuable data in politics, sports and public statistics. It is well worth its price and deserves a good to Party Allegiance.

The Fortnightly Subject of Debating Club.

Independence Carries the Day.

The subject of debate at the Quincy Debating club Thursday evening was: Resolved, That independence in State and municipal politics is preferable to party allegiance. Harold B. Faxon opened the debate for the affirmative. He told how independence in politics had acted in the recent State and municipal elections. To secure independence in voting, thought must be given. In Cambridge the Library Hall association weighed each candidated for office and selected the best men. In North Adams the voters threw aside all party lines and only one candidate was nominated. It was to be deplored that people stick to party lines. Independence in voting does not mean that you are a Republican or Democrat, but it means picking the best men for the place. Municipal politics are the ones that touch the home life and a voter feels a personal interest in them that he does not in National politics. All great progress is made by the development of the individget the development by working for a party. To secure nearly independent vota party. You must lay aside all personal not for the individual. Party politics is to

In municipal affairs he cited the recent street, East Boston. election in Quincy, when it was the independent in politics that elected Mr. Adams. The recent libel trial of Atwood showed what kind of a man we had elected by party politics to Congress. The voters of this district, who voted for Atwood were not doing right by his party or his district, and until we get more independence in politics never will corruption be over-

An Independent can not go on party lines and not on an opinion of his own, but of someone else. Newspapers were causing the most trouble in politics. At the last municipal election there was a either of these men had been elected it must have been by support of the party. In closing the speaker declared that it was the ignorant men of Quincy who elected Mr. Adams on the name of his father. A vote was then taken on the merits of the Town Hall and the schools, it will be readily seen what a great benefit and convenience it would be to the hundreds whose business calls them to that vicinity, and who now either have to drive there in carriages or walk.

At Mattapan connection would be made with the Norfolk Suburban street railway for Hyde Park and also Dedham the county seat. Connection could also be made with street cars for Boston, and in summer what prettier trip could one desire than a ride in open cars through Milton to Quincy thence by steamer for Nantasket.

Street railways have often attempted to obtain locations in Milton but the determination of a few and the lack of interest of those who would be mostly benefited, has thus far prevented the extension of street railways. This, however, is a progressive age and the people as a whole are now thoroughly aroused, and determined when the hearing is held before ual, and not by the party. You can not no obstacle will be thrown in the way of the the Selectmen to be well represented, and present movement. ### APPROVED BY BANKERS

Carlisle's Action In Modifying Bond Terms Will Help Finances.

Eckels Asks Banks to Aid In Placing Bonds.

He Has No Doubt But That the Whole Issue Will Be Taken.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 .- Reports from New York say that bankers there unanimously approve the action of the secretary of the treasury in modifying the terms for the payment of the bonds which are to be issued for the new government loan of $100,000,000, bids for which are to be opened on Feb. 5.

There were some who said that they thought that the secretary of the treasury should go further in his efforts to do all that is possible to prevent a stringency of the money market following the financing of the new government loan, and they suggested that it would be a good plan to increase the number of reserve agencies and arrange to leave as much as possible of the internal revenue receipts to banks, so that the money might remain in circulation, instead of being locked up in the United States treasury, where it would really not be needed while the bonds were being paid for.

Allowing for the surplus reserve, it was said that practically the New York banks would have to liquidate about $80,000,000 in four months, in order that the bonds might be paid for, and that, it was said, would be a big strain on their resources and on their customers. All agreed, how-ever, that the modification in the terms for the payment of the bonds would greatly facilitate the financing of the loan. The question as to where the gold is to ome from for the bonds is still one of the most interesting and most-discussed of the questions in connection with the new loan. Gold and greenbacks are commanding a premium of 1/2 per cent from brokers who are contracting to deliver gold to bond purchasers on or after Feb. 5.

Eckels' Circular. The administration apparently is making use of every legitimate means to make the forthcoming popular loan a conspicuous success. With a view to stimulating general interest in the issue, Comptroller of Currency Eckels, with the approval of the president and Secretary Carlisle, has sent copies of circular letter to all national banks in the United States. In it Mr. Eckels says:

It is suggested that the national banks can materially aid the government in popularizing this loan by calling the attention of their patrons to the desirability of it as an investnent and as stimulating subscriptions thereto It is earnestly requested that you explain to your patrons in detail the manner of making bids and the terms thereof, thus giving them the fullest information on the subject. In this manner it is believed that many of our people who might otherwise feel indifferent to such investment would see the advantage attached to it and wish to participate therein.

Speaking about the bond issue, Mr. Eckels said: "It cannot be said that the public feeling over the general financial situation is hopeless, despite the failure of congress to enact the necessary remedial legislation. The opinion is generally entertained that the problem will eventually work itself out, and that in time our national finances will be put upon a solid,

THE AUDITORIUM, CHICAGO.

There was considerable difference of opinion as to the time for holding the convention, one proposition, advanced by Allen W. Thurman (O.), who had the proxy of the New Mexico member, being to hold it June 7, two weeks before the Republican convention, and the other by Hugh Wallace (Wash.) to hold it July 7. The committee decided upon the latter date by a vote of 32 to 18.

The main interest centered in the choice of the convention city. For this honor there were four applicants-Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati and New York. Thirty minutes were allowed each city in which to present its claims. The speeches, made by distinguished citizens in each instance, were of a high order of excellence and at times aroused the greatest enthusiasm.

The balloting began about 6 o'clock last evening, and from the first a long and bitter struggle was indicated. The first ballot resulted: Chicago, 6: Cincinnati 11; St. Louis, 19; New York, 14. There was practically no change, except a slight fluctuation of a vote or two, until the 10th ballot, when Chicago began gradually to increase her vote at the expense of New York. At the 20th ballot, New York's strength was rapidly disintegrating, her vote going almost bodily to Chicago. But St. Louis, which had tenaciously clung to her 19 votes, also captured several of Cir. cinnati's votes, and on the ballot before the last led Chicago by one vote.

On the last ballot, the 29th, which was taken shortly before 11 o'clock, the four remaining votes of New York were thrown to Chicago, and she obtained the necessary plurality. Senator Brice voted for Cincinnati to the last. An examination of the vote by states shows that St. Louis had practically the solid support of the free silver votes in the committee.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Topic For the Week Beginning Jan. 1 Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.-Secrets of strong lives.-Luke , 19-28. (A temperance meeting suggested.) The strong life or character that is se before us in our topical reference as on model for finding the secrets of stron lives is that of John the Baptist. Hard ly could a better have been chosen, par ticularly to apply the subject of tempe ance. We not only have the life of Joh as testimony of the nobility of his cha acter, but we have a remarkable declar tion of the Lord Himself in favor this opinion. This is a pleasant test mony, too, from the fact that it cam as a tribute to John just after he had intimated his doubt concerning Chris In the highest terms of unmeasured confidence Christ speaks of him, declaring that "among those that are born to women, there is not a greater prophe than John the Baptist." When Chris spoke of John in such glowing terms we need not hesitate to take his life a a model one to illustrate the secretad strong lives.

One secret-of a strong life, as illus trated in John, is the willingness to a cept privation. John lived for years the wilderness, with nothing to grath taste, with barely sufficient to sustain life and with only the roughest kind dress. This privation was necessary that he might perform the work which Go had for him to do. One secret of strength is willingness to endure hardships, to suffer privation. The opposite weakness in this particular makes many weak men, particularly as a result of intemperance. Men will not suffer privation they will not deprive themselves of that which satisfies their physical appetites, and the result is weakness, whereas they might have been strong, influential men if they had endured privation.

Another secret of strength illustrated in John is moral courage. John had the courage of his convictions. He even denounced the king and queen for their sins, as well as the common people Moral courage is an absolute necessity to guard against the evils of intemper ance. Scarcely a boy grows to manhood without being tempted again and again to indulge in strong drink, and he must have the moral courage to refuse and to stand by his refusal, or he will fall be neath the temptation.

Another secret is willing subjection to the will of God. John did to the very best of his ability the work which God had laid out for him to do. He was faithful, even to death, to the work committed to his charge. If we follow the path that God lays out for us in life, in His way, our lives will be strong in-

Real Endeavor at Geelong.

Aggressive Christian Endeavor work is not confined to the land of the society's birth. The Yarra Street Wesleyan society in Geelong, Australia, in its fifth annual report, makes a phenomenal showing. During the year 8,218 visits were made, an average of 158 weekly; sprays and baskets of flowers to the tributed and sent by post; various meetings, numbering 588, were held, and more than 25,000 persons attended these 200 persons were led to sign the temperance pledge. Although the membership of the society is only 211, more than $500 in cash was raised.

Christian Endeaver Prayer.

Trusting in the Lord Jesus Christ and realizing the untold blessing of ferrent united prayer, we, the individual links in the World's Christian Endeavor Proer Chain, covenant and agree to make it out practice to offer a petition, however brief, for one another and for the cause of Christian Endeavor every day. We also covenant to bear in mind at the usual time of our eyening devotions such causes as are brought to the attention of the Prayer Chain as objects for our united petition.—President Clark.

Money For Missionaries.

The Presbyterian Christian Endeavor society of Saltsburg, Pa., has discovered a novel way of raising missionary money. The church was in need of a sexton, so the Christian Endeavor society volunteered its services. The pastor reports that the church was never so well taken care of and the Endeavorers have applied the salary to their missionary contributions.

Williston Society Still Zealous.

The original Christian Endeavor society in Williston church, Portland, Me, sees no flagging in its zeal. In alternation with other Portland societies it has undertaken the holding of regular services at the Greeley hospital.

He was thus enabled to use notes to the amount of $75,000, as indicated above. They were widely distributed, so that none of the men or banks will suffer any large individual loss.

Mr. Morris was 51 years of age, and was Widely and Favorably Known in Boston. He was originally of the firm of Morris & Ireland, safe dealers. After this firm was dissolved he formed the E. C. Morris Safe company, but was forced to retire from the management about one year ago. He has always been a man of correct habits, pleasant and popular in a large circle of friends.

His downfall was due to a common cause-speculation. Before he left the E. C. Morse Safe company he began to speculate, and during the past year that dangerous business was his sole occupation. He probably lost most or all of the $75,.

Thus a man who had a large business a good income and considerable property has not only lost it through speculation, but his losses led to crime and the loss of a reputation which can never be regained.

Sentiment of Boston Reformers. Boston, Jan. 18.—The Massachusetts

Reform club met last night and heard several addresses on the Monroe doctrine Professor John Buck McMasters stated that the Monroe doctrine was the sign of "No trespassing" put up by President Monroe when asked by the "holy alli-ance" what the policy of the United States was to be among the nations of the world. John Bull has torn that sign down, and it remains for us either to put it up again, and put it up in such a way that it will be seen that we wish to keep it there, or let it lie where it has been thrown and be silent. Professor Albert Bushnell Hart spoke generally against the application of the Monroe doctrine in the present Venezuelan question.

An Old Love Letter.

The following love letter, written by a Kentuckian in his youth, and bearing date in 1823, may be of use to some of our more modern but less effusive and tropical lovers, as an example in erotic epistolary correspondence:

MY DEAR AND ADDRABLE POLLY-As the heavens yield gloomy aspects, making null and void my timidical feelings, I sit down to promulgate to you, most holy and immaculate virgin, that I hold a kind of biennial reverence sight of the delightful land and then tossed back again. Oh, if there is any tender pity lies within that snowy bosom, delay my raging passion, or I shall doubtless pass out of this world in a hurricane of sighs to that sweet elysian which gives dreams of consolation to heal lovesick hearts. Your fond adorer, etc.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 .- General Harrison last night authorized the announcement that he and Mrs. Dimmick are engaged to be married, and that the marriage will not take place until after Lent. During the life of Mrs. Harrison, who was her aunt, Mrs. Dimmick practically governed Mr. Harrison's household in Indianapolis, and directed the household affairs of the White House during the period that Mrs. Harrison was sick. At all state functions Mrs. Dimmick received with Mrs. Harrison, when alive, and acted in her place when she was sick. Mrs. Dimmick is 40 years of age, tall, and a strikingly handsome brunette.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 .- A member of the New York Yacht club, who is in a position to know, says that the report of the committee that have investigated Lord Dunraven's charges covers about 100 pages. While the decision is adverse to Lord Dunraven, it censures him only mildly for bringing the charges. This, it is said, is not satisfactory to most of the members of the club, who feel very bitter against the Valkyrie's owner.

ERZROOM, Nov. 9 .- It is almost impossible for me to describe what I have seen and heard. It may be that the continental papers have written about it; but I do not think that they have been able to give any adequate idea of the awful situation. In Gorum everything which diabolical ingenuity can devise has been done by the Turkish soldiers and bashi-bazouks. All the Armenian villages are in ashes, and the smoke which is arising from the ruined houses gives the appearance of a volcanic eruption.

Along the road between Trebizond and Erzroom at every step bodies are lying. We are unable to leave our homes to bury the dead; unable to sleep. The whole city has taken on the aspect of a wild desert strewn with corpses. Hundreds of thousands of families are compelled to wander in rags, begging for their living. The same fate has befallen a few Europeans.

These human devils have killed six naked women in the presence of the others, snatching their babies from their arms and bayoneting the mothers. Women and Children Horribly Treated. VAN, Nov. 11.-After the massacre in park. The police are at a loss to account | Paghesh, 500 or 600 Armenians were gathdiers were called to conduct them to their homes, but instead, they were taken to the courtyard of the government building and a few of them only were set at liberty after signing the statement "that the Turks are not guilty, as the Armenians made the first attack." The Turks gave similar reasons for massacring the Armenians in the surrounding country.

Near Harpoot 11 villagas were compelled to accept Mohammedanism, and also near Van the entire population of two villages were forced to change their religion. Eight villages near Van have been entirely depopulated, most of the inhabitants were killed, and those who survived escaped to the snow-covered mountains, where they now wander with their children, naked and starving. The men who were forced to accept Mohammedanism have been compelled to take their own sisters-in-law, whose husbands have been killed, to wife, a prac-hate polygamy. They are also compelled to plunder and kill their Armenian brethren to show that their conversion to Mohammedanism is genuine. The young maidens of these villages are carried into the pasha's harem. The Kurds have attacked the same villages over and over to make their work of destruction complete. The country has been reduced to such absolute poverty that there is now no money in the treas-

The Armenians are unable to pay taxes, as they have no stores nor harvest fields The Kurds also decline to give their taxes, as they are all enlisted in the hamidieh. The government is unable to pay for the transportation of the army, and the governor of Van has not received his monthly pay for six months. This is the prophecy upon it being raised, and as we cannot pay we will be considered as rebellious and a massacre will follow.

Christians' Appeal.

The representatives of the foreign missionary boards and societies in the United States and Canada, who had been in conference here yesterday, announced that a resolution regarding Armenian sufferers had been adopted. It says in part: Whereas, the suffering in Turkey, resulting from massacre and robbery, and Whereas, the Red Cross agency cannot enter at once upon its work while immediate relief can be applied through existing channels.

Resolved, That we authorize an appeal in 1 e name of foreign mission boards of the United States to the government at Washington to exert its influence in all legitimate ways to bring the massacres to a speedy end and to guard the missionary interests.

Rev. S. L. Baldwin, D.D., delivered an address on the relations of boards, missionaries and converts to governments, home and foreign. He read the following letter from an American in Turkey: "Are our people aware of the fact that some 50,000 in numbers, unarmed, inoffen sive Christian people, have been slaugh-tered in cold blood; that at least 200,000 women and children have been rendered absolutely destitute of everything except the scanty clothing in which they escaped the massacre, and many of them even stripped naked?

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW Brings But Little Comfort to Those Moving In the Business World.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 .- Dun's weekly review of trade says: No branch of man ufacture has made progress, for all are unavoidably waiting, both for settlement of financial doubts and for a demand which does not yet appear.

The situation could hardly be more perplexing for business men. Practical merchants, manufacturers or bankers can have little sympathy for those who minimize their difficulties.

There is little better inquiry for staples with indications that dealers' stocks are running low. The opening of fine and fancy woolens have brought no change in prices, and revisions caused by recent openings of worsteds have been generally toward lower prices. None doubts that the government will raise money to meet obligations, but how far the money market will be disturbed on the treasury reserve first diminished none can say. The business world cannot know as yet how far foreign questions may upset calculations, though there seems every reason to expect peaceful set tlement.

It cannot know what may be the duties on any important class of imports a month hence, whether imports are likely to exceed exports and draw away gold. whether the deficit of revenue will continue or what other taxation will be levied Failure of the senate thus far to take any action upon financial measures proposed by the president or those passed by the house affects unfavorably all branches of business. Under such adverse circum stances it is actually encouraging that shrinkage in transactions and resulting commercial disasters have not been greater

British Fleet Said to Be Carrying a

Monroe Doctrine Made Plain by Senate Committee.

Resolution of a Broad Character That Will Cover All Cases.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Representativa Livingston of the foreign affairs committee, who is keeping a close watch of all developments in the Venezuelan complication, says he has no doubt of the truthfulness of the report that the British flying squadron were hurrying toward Bermuda and would go from there to

"I knew these facts the other day," says Livingston, "when I offered my resolution directing the president to check Brit-Please call and examine the useful and their re-enforcements of the Venezuelan outposts. I tried to so inform the house but Boutelle objected. The squadron will convey an offer to Crespo of 3,000,000 at 4,000,000 in gold for the disputed territory, My information is trustworthy.

At the navy department no authentic confirmation or denial of this report of the flying squadron's movements can be obtained, but should the story prove true, it is not unlikely that the North Atlantic quadron would take a cruise in southern oreign relations yesterday, will prove to e a clear and strong enunciation of the Monroe doctrine when its text is made ublic. It is a more forceful declaration than any that has been introduced in congress on this subject, and its terms are so explicit that they cannot be misunder-

The maintenance of the Monroe doctrine, as set forth in the resolution, is held to be vital to the welfare of this country and the countries of the American conti nent. The doctrine, it is asserted, is now n force, and has been in force ever since was established by President Monroe The resolution declares it to mean that the acquisition by purchase, aggression or therwise of any territory on the Amerin continent is an unfriendly act, and uch acquisition will not be permitted by he United States.

The most important feature is that which touches upon a new phase of the Venezuelan question: The report that England and Venezuela may reach an greement, and that English money will ettle the boundary dispute. The resoluion declares that in case boundary disoutes on the American continent between oreign governments and American govrnments are decided by arbitration agreement, purchase, or in any manner whatever, the United States shall be the ole judge as to whether the Monroe doctrine has been violated in such arbitration

In fact, it means that arbitration or agreement between foreign governments and governments on the American continent as to boundary disputes cannot become binding or effective unless same tioned by the United States, and that this government is satisfied that no part of the American continent has been ceded to a oreign power by such arbitration or agreenent. This practically makes the United States the arbitrator between foreign governments and those of the American continent in all boundary disputes This portion of the resolution is con-sidered most important and far-reaching in its effects. It causes misapprehension among some members of the committee and it is claimed that it may lead to many entanglements. On the other hand, the supporters of the resolution say that is eaves everything in the hands of the United States where the final decision should be, and that the United States will nterfere only when the Monroe doctrine has been violated. Long Discussion Ended.

The house yesterday passed the pension appropriation bill, to the consideration of which it has devoted the entire week, and then adjourned until Monday. Mr. Bartlett (Dem., N. Y.) raised points of order against all new legislation proposed in the way of amendments, such as that looking to make a pension a "vested right," etc., and Mr. Dingley (Me.), who was in the chair, sustained them. In this way the clause in the bill changing existing law so as to allow widows to obtain pensions under the act of 1890, whose net incomes did not exceed $500 per annum, was stricken out. Mr. Bartlett, however, did not raise the point against the provisions making pensions under the act of 1800 rejected suspended or dismissed and afterward allowed to date from their first application. It was announced in the debate that

THE CHANGE IN CUBA

Not Viewed With Pleasure by the Inhabitants of Habana.

Campos Did Not Resign, but Was Removed.

HABANA, Jan. 20.—Spain's loyal subjects are less happy today than they were yesterday, not because of any especial move on the part of the patriots, but because of a fear that has grown wonderfully that Campos' removal will not aid the government's cause.

That Campos, Spain's greatest soldier, the man who put an end to the 10-year war and who settled her troubles in the East, should fail now, is taken as a bad

The Autonomists still believe in Camos, and unhesitatingly say so. Senor Galvez, the leader of the party, says publicly: "The Autonomist party of Cuba, however small a figure it may cut in peninsular politics, where it counts as a section of the Liberal party, has the proud honor today of repeating its oft expressed confidence in General Martinez Campos; it believes he is the only man who can sustain the honor of the Spanish flag in the island of Cuba; it believes he is the only man we can hope may bring about peace, sustaining at once the honor of Spain and averting the total destruction of property on the island.

"We sustain him unconditionally, because we believe he is the only man Spain can have at the head of Cuban affairs whose presence will inspire confidence abroad, and especially in the United States, recalling as we do a recent Madrid interview in which the minister of war said that Campos' recall from Cuba would be in the eyes of the world the first signal of Spanish defeat."

Cuban patriots express their sentiments by quoting the words uttered by General Campos a few months since, when the name of General Weyler was first mentioned as his probable successor in Cuba. He said then: "If Weyler comes to Cuba, the dead will rise to fight him."

General Campos will not accept the pre dency of a supreme court of war and marine, though he thanks the government for its attentions and for the courtesies be received while he was captain-general.

The New Governor.

It is announced that General Valeriano Weyler has accepted the appointment to the governorship of Cuba. He will sail from Spain on Friday next. General Wevler will abandon the lenient toward the insurgents and adopt a complete change of tactics.

General Marin, governor pro tempore of Cuba, says that the situation is not dangerous, since the insurgents are always defeated in every engagement in which they take part. He intends, he said, to organize a fresh plan of campaign. General Campos, after surrendering the supreme command in Cuba to General Marin, made the following statement: "I speak because I am now a private citizen and not the governor-general. Be it known that I have not resigned; the government has removed me, and has done well. I feel a great resentment, caused by the conduct of the parties in Cuba. Nations exercise their sovereignty in various ways, but the head should always rule. The principle of acthority should rise superior to all else.

"I have been opposed, because while I may break, I never bend. I have prevented a repetition of the sad scenes of the last war, and this has been distasteful to CINCINNATI, Jan. 20 .- Since this city did not get the Democratic national consentenced to five years in the penitentiary vention, there is now a movement to get the nomination. "If this beautiful city is to rank among the progressive, wide-awake places that draw business and business people; that talks about new-comers "moving in," and hopes for a constantly enlarging "directory," then good sidewalks are imperative. ### The ONLY DAILY in the ONLY CITY BOSTON Terminal of Big Railroad System at Squantum.

All the Railroads of New England authorized and required to take in fee or May be Consolidated.

Rumors That New Haven Will Soon Have the Boston & Albany.

The United States Investor for January 18, has a page upon the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, a part of which is of local interest and is given below:

For some time past it has been quietly reported in Boston financial circles that the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad was buying Boston & Albany stock. This week we have encountered the statement that the New York, New Haven & Hartford had offered President Bliss, of the Boston & Albany, $250 a share for his stock (and presumably enough more to carry the control of the road,) but the latter demanded $300. If matters have gone as far as this, it is safe to say that the union of the two roads is not far distant. In fact, that is the general opinion in the highest and best informed financial circles. President Bliss, of the Boston & Albany, is said to be the owner of a considerable block of New Haven stock, and it is a well-known fact that the Vanderbilts (who, with J. P. Morgan & Co., are supposed to control the New Haven) have a large voice in the management of the Albany. Some time last fall the New York, Nev Haven & Hartford Railroad Company purchased about eight hundred acres of land on Dorchester bay, in Quincy, and the only conceivable object which it had in in view was the construction of the most magnificent railroad terminals in the country. The property in question is known as the Squantum Farm Meadows. About five hundred acres of the purchase are meadow land and the balance flats. The importance of the new acquisition will perhaps be more quickly appreciated if we state that the tract is about 20 times the size of Boston common.

It goes without saying that the New York, New Haven & Hartford is not bent on acquiring the control of the entire railroad system of New England for the purpose of ruining that section. It is not buying up terminal locations on Boston harbor twenty times the size of Boston common, nor spending millions of dollars on the Boston end of its Providence and making the grass grow in the streets of the city of inferior grade, it will furnish the New Haven road less, rather than more, business than at present, and it is aburd to suppose that the New Haven people would view such an outcome with satis-

On the contrary, we incline to the opinion held by many leading financiers that the New Haven's real purpose is to advance Boston to the position of a railroad centre of the first class. Its terminals on Dorchester bay may easily be made, accessible to every railroad in New England.

Kentucky Politics.

FRANKFORT, Kv., Jan. 20.-The city is filling up with the friends of Blackburn and Hunter. Although the leaders of both had agreed that there should be no bal loting for senator until Feb. 4, or until after the successor of Wilson had qualified, yet the nominees of the caucuse seem to be so suspicious of each other than they are marshaling their forces here for balloting in both houses separately tomor row. The war between Hunter and Black burn, with their fighting friends on the ground, is expected to make trouble. Both sides are very determined.

Everett delighted good-sized congregations at the First church on Sunday, the former at the morning service and the latter at the vespers.

The real problem is the changing of a wrong sentiment, a popular fallacy, that Will tap and heel any pair of shoes in 15 there is a necessary enmity between the social and the spiritual, while the gospel teaches that in the Christ passed life they you cannot find what you war call on cannot be separated. Christianity is large nough to include every phase of life. The teaching and practice of the Master gives ample authority for the larger one of the social function of the church.

that promise to be of high scientific value. It is the purpose of Professor Moore to devise a system of kites which can be relied upon to carry a considerable weight two miles above the surface of the earth. The kite adopted for the purpose is of cellular construction, and is intended to carry up to this great altitude instruments which will automatically record the condition of the atmosphere above. Professor Moor feels that the weak spot that remains i the weather service is in the prediction rainfalls. According to his theory a va improvement in accuracy in this respe can be attained by a full knowledge what is going on in the air, far above th earth, and this he expects to ascertain by means of his kites.

The Defender Vindicated.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 .- The New Yo Herald prints this morning the comple story of the investigation by the specia committee appointed for that purpose the charges of fraud made by Lord Dun raven against the Defender in the match for the America's cup last fall. The mem bers of the committee were Messrs. Phelps Mahan, Morgan, Whitney and River Their fairness and the honesty of their investigation cannot be impeached. As every good American has not only hoped but believed, the investigation shows that Lord Dunraven's charges were absolutely without foundation-that they rested of nothing more material than what he and those with him thought they saw.

Brutality of a Father. NEW YORK, Jan. 20.-Luigi Lanniche was held for examination in court on a charge of abusing his 7-year-old child, Emma. He had kept her in a cellar for weeks almost naked, and she had been but poorly fed. Her body, arms and legs are covered with scars where she had been bitten by rats. The prisoner excused his action by saying the girl was wild and associated with bad company. The girl is now in the care of the Gerry society.

Will Not Be Used as a Menace.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 .- The British flying squadron will not be used as a menace to the United States, so Lord Salisbury has said in answer to a vigorous dispatch from Secretary Olney. After a conference with the president, Mr. Olney sent the dispatch to Ambassador Bayard Friday after- QUINCY-Ledger Office, 115 Hancock noon. It demanded an immediate reply as to the destination of the flying squadron. The answer came that England had not the remoiest idea of sending a fleet to any point that might be construed as a threat against the United States.

The young man was as attentive as he could be, and the young woman, who wore all the earmarks of a spoiled child, took all his little kindnesses as a matter of course. Between the first and second acts the courteous gallant whispered to his fair one for a moment, and she nodded her head affirmatively. The young man arose and went out of the theater through a door leading to an adjoining candy store. He returned a few minutes later accompanied by a colored boy in white coat and apron, who carried in water upon it and in the other a napkin. He stood in the aisle while the young man besought his lady to refresh herself with the glass of soda. The eyes of the entire audience were upon them. The young woman sniffed at the glass disdainfully and waved it aside. A facetious youngster in the front row of the gallery ruthlessly fractured the prevailing silence with the suggestion: "Slap 'er on de 'rist, de sassy t'ing. Get 'er some shampy. She don't want none o' yer temp'rance drinks." The young man blushed and sat down and looked miserable during the rest of the play .-

interpreting the Monroe doctrine has caused considerable comment among ses ators and other public men. It is know that it is the intention of the senate committee to make the resolution declare the utmost limits to which the Monroe do trine can be applied. In answer to the report that there is ome opposition to the declaration by the United States of what the Monroe does covered, it is said by the advocates of the Davis resolution that every time a question arises in which the Monroe doctrines involved some foreign government in ested makes the point that the Monro doctrine is nothing but an assertion, which never has been adopted by the America ongress or approved by the American pe

The reports concerning the British flying squadron stirred up the friends of the resolution and they decided that if the reports the it is bound for Bermuda were confirme that efforts should be made to call up to Davis resolution and pass it through the senate as soon as possible, even to the dis-placement of the silver bill. It is said by men prominent in foreign affairs in one gress that England could not make greater mistake than to

Send Her Fleet to Berminia

It is agreed by all senators that the most mportant part of the Davis resolution is that which asserts that the United States shall be the sole judge as to whether th Monroe doctrine has been violated in any arbitration or agreement, or in the se ign government and a government of the continent. It is pointed out by those who favor this part of the resolution that it meets the criticism made to the portione the president's message stating that any agreement between Great Britain an Venezuela could not be objected to by the

The Davis resolution will be presented to the senate at once. It may be that it will not be called up for several days There is no doubt that it will be debated at length whenever brought before the senate, as it is understood that consider ble opposition will be manifested to a and especially to that part which makes the United States the judge of the validity of any arbitration or agreement. It is asserted by the opponents of the resolution that such a declaration is bound to lead to entanglements.

The Davis resolution is framed to cover not only the case of Venezuela, but also that of Honduras, which, it is said, will soon engross the attention of the world. GROVER CLEVELAND.

Executive Mansion, Washington, Jan. 20. The first letter in the report is from Mr. Bayard to Secretary Olney, dated London, Dec. 12, in which he says he observes from the newspapers in England the action of the house of representatives looking to his impeachment, and encloses a printed copy of the Edinburgh address.

Mr. Bayard calls attention to the fac hat the address in question was delivered before an institution purely literary and scientific in its character, and wholly unconnected with political parties-which had honored two of his official predecessors with similar invitations, which in both cases had been accepted; subjects political in their nature ("Democracy and "The Law of the Land") having been

No political canvass was pending or approaching in this country when the address was made, and no interference or participation in local or party political concerns in this country was, therefore Personal Opinions Only.

The address, he says, consisted of his personal opinions upon governmental institutions in general-the moral forces and tendencies which underlie them-and the governmental policies which assist in the conservation of the freedom of the individual as an essential integer of human progress, and of the permanence of civilization. The judgments so delivered were formed after careful deliberation, and, in their presentation, sundry historical facts and arguments tending to sustain them were advanced.

"When the congress," he says, "shall have concluded its action on the subject, it is possible that I may desire to submit a landing on Hall's jaw, knocking him further statement; but meanwhile I con- down and out, after 11/4 minutes of fightsider it proper to place before you the ad- ing in the unlucky 13th. dress itself in full, and the facts connected with its delivery."

Mr. Bayard adds in a postscript: "I find, upon reading over this note, that Mr. Lowell's address on 'Democracy' was delivered before the Midland Institute at Birmingham-an association similar in its character and purposes to the Edinburgh Philosophical Institution."

Secretary Olney then cabled the ambassador. Jan. 3. that the house resolution asked not only whether the Edinburgh speech was made, but also whether in the Boston speech he used these words: "The president stood in the midst of a strong, self-reliant, and oftentimes violent, people-men who sought to have their own way. It took a real man to govern the people of the United States"

Mr. Olney's dispatch also asked Mr. Bayard to send any additional statement regarding the Edinburgh speech he desired to make, and said the resolution asked what, if any, action the president had taken on the speeches.

Mr. Bayard cabled he would comply and wrote confirming the cablegram. In this letter, dated Jan. 4, he says: My function was in gratification of head master and those interested in the welfare of the school, to deliver the prizes to the graduating students. The exercises were of a very simple and informal nature; and without a note or prepared words of any kind, I made a short prefatory speech and handed over the prizes to the successful competitors.

In the afternoon we adjourned to a public hall, where a dinner was served, and, as is customary here, there were toasts and responses, and I responded to the health of the President of the United States, and subsequently to a toast to myself. So far as I was concerned, every thing was impromptu, and a kindly, hu morous, post-prandial tone prevailed.

The 6.11 A. M. train inward from Quincy was derailed at Harrison Square this morning just after leaving the station. The tender left the track and the two following cars were thrown on to the Shawmut Branch tracks. The accident caused serious delay in all the inward trains for a couple of hours at least, as it happened at a time when many who are employed in Boston were on their way to work. Very fortunately nobody was injured in the least as the train was moving slowly. Discrimination Against Women. It is not difficult to find an excuse for the refusal of the men of Massachusetts to give the ballot to women. So long as the masses of female citizens of that or any other state are indifferent on the suffrage question their fathers, husbands and brothers will not insist on loading them with political burdens or duties. This may or may not be the best policy, but it harmonizes with human nature and is likely to stand. The advocates of equal suffrage should see, in recent events in New York and Massachusetts, that their work lies among the women; that a desire for the ballot on the part of a majority of the women is a condition precedent to their getting it. Appeals to legislatures, to constitutional conventions and to party conventions will have little effect while the women remain in a don't care state of mind. But the fact that the women of Mas-

World.

It is not only a fact that women Now come the questions, What should marry later in life than they used, but it is equally true that everywhere the be the limit of women's work? Where more mature woman is to the fore. The should they draw the line? This, at any rate, it is safe to answer, "At that point young and inexperienced bud has ceased where their work ceases to do good." As to be the reigning queen of the hour. She has been forced to yield her place to soon as a woman feels she is in a posithe maturer woman, the woman of cultion in which the best and noblest of tivated mind and manners, of broader men cease to look upon her with reverence, then she may be sure she has over-All this is only the natural result of stepped the limits of womanly dignity and reserve, and that there her influence evolution. With her deeper interests, wider outlook, enlarged sympathies, she will not be pure, elevating and noble. scarcely feels the relentless march of the

There is plenty of real work for all of us to do beyond the sphere of home, in the fields of art, science and literature, and also, like Florence Nightingale and many other brave women, as nurses and comforters of the sick, the wounded and the dying.

Women's influence is sometimes said to be greater now than in past times. It is more palpable certainly, but I doubt whether more potent, for, as we know well for centuries, the hand that rocked the cradle ruled the world. The difference is that nowadays women are not content to work quietly as mere wire pullers. Instead they like to see and be seen, and to have the credit of their

The old idea was that "men must work and women must weep," but the newer idea that women should work, too, according to their talents and opportunities, seems more rational and healthy and is calculated to make them weep less. Let them give over weeping by all means, but in all their work let them remember that "woman is not undeveloped man, but diverse," and therefore not to try to be like men, and also not to think that nothing is to high or too sacred for them to meddle with. - Home Notes.

Equality.

Mr. T. P. O'Connor, a member of the English house of commons, has views upon an ideal society. In his perfect nation men and women will enjoy social and political equality. "What I want to see," says this ardent champion, "is that women should be placed in such an economic position tha marriage will not be entered into by her as the last and the only means she has of getting a livelihood. Every woman should be taught to be self supporting if she belongs to those who have to live by help herself, for even settled facts may Justice demands that a woman be paid | disappear. In the wealthier classes wo band if she desire to have one-and herself if she choose to live alone." Bu the admirable common sense of these statements is somewhat counterbalanced by the fact that in Mr. O'Connor's ideal "every girl will be married at 17 and every man at 21."

The Daily Ledger. OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN.

Venezuelan Commission Has Settled Down to Work In Earnest.

Asks Great Britain and Venezuela For Evidence.

No Territorial Aggrandizement or Gain Accrue to United States.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21. - Yesterday's meeting of the Venezuelan commission took place for the first time in the new quarters of the commission in the Baltimore Sun building on F street.

Business was at once begun by the select tion of officers, and the first of these chosen was S. Malet-Prevost, who has earned a high reputation at the New York bar and also in Washington. Mr. Malet-Prevost was named as secretary to the and the attainment of a conclusion be corcommission and will be in daily attendance at the rooms. Mr. Whitmore of Ithaca, N. Y., was selected as one of the tenographers who will be employed, and Walter Moulthrop of the District of Columbia was appointed a messenger.

A few other appointments will be made hereafter, as a need for further help appears. It was ordered that the rooms of the commission be kept open every week BOSTON-Old Colony News Stand after day from 9 till 5 o'clock, and any person who has any suggestion to make to the work will be accorded an opportunity to be heard, for at least one of the commis sion will undertake to be present, besides the secretary. Every Friday there will be a meeting of the full commission, in order transact routine business requiring the ction of all the members.

The members will not be idle, for to each has been allotted a particular line of inquiry which he is expected to report upon to his fellow commissioners at intervals For instance, Mr. White has been charged with the preparation of what may be likened to an abstract of title; Mr. Gilman has undertaken the preparation of all the maps and charts required, and other members have been called upon to collect from the library of the department of state and the library of congress all of the cuments and historical maps and papers bearing upon the Venezuelan boundary

The effort will be to have those inquiries proceed simultaneously and apace and it is felt that by adopting this order much time will be saved-an important nsideration if the commission is not aided by Great Britain and Venezuela.

The Search For Facts. The commission has invited the governments of Great Britain and of Venezuela to submit to it all of the evidence in their possession to further the work of the con mission, to be represented before it by attorneys, and all of this with the reservation that such representation and appearance shall not be deemed an abandonment of any rights or position heretofore as-

It has done this in order that the proceedings of the commission may not be said to be ex parte, that the truth may ap pear and that time may be saved in the inquiry with which the commission are charged. The invitation goes in the shape of a letter to Secretary Olney, who has made response, saying that he has trans-mitted a copy of the commission's views to the two governments concerned.

These facts came out after the meeting of the commission vesterday, although the letter was drawn up and sent to th secretary of state at its last meeting, Jan 15 The full text of the letter is as for lows:

It must have suggested itself to you, as it no doubt has to the president, that this commission, thus authorized to ascertain and report MANCHESTER, N. H., Jan. 20.—George W. Dow of Goffstown and his brother tions, bears only a remote resemblance to those cerned to pronounce a final judgment.

The questions at issue were presented by the advocates of the various interests, upon whose diligence and skill the tribunal might safely rely for all the data and the arguments essential to the formation of an intelligent judg ment. Their functions were therefore con-fined to the exercise of judicial powers, and they might fairly expect to reach a result sat-isfactory to their own conscience, while it commanded the respect of those whose interests were directly involved.

The present commission, neither by the mode of its appointment nor by the nature of its duties, may be said to belong to tribunals of this character. Its duty will be discharged if it shall diligently and fairly seek to inform the executive of certain facts touching a large extent of territory in which the United States

It has seemed proper to the commission, under these circumstances, to suggest to you the expediency of calling the attention of the government of Great Britain to the appointment of the commission and explaining both its nature and object. It may be that they will see a way, entirely consistent with their own sense of international propriety, to give the commission the aid that it is no doubt in their power to furnish in the way of documentary proof, historical narrative, unpublished archives or the like. It is scarcely necessary to say that if either should deem it appropriate to designate an agent or attorney, whose duty it would be to see that no such proofs were omitted, or over-looked, the commission would be grateful for such evidence of good will, and for the valuable results which would be likely to follow therefrom.

I have the honor to remain, Your most obedient servant,
DAVID J. BREWER, President.

The secretary's reply was short and ormal, merely an acknowledgment of he receipt of the letter and a statement hat he had caused copies of it to be sent to the British and Venezuelan governments. It cannot be said that the commission are confident of a favorable reponse from both parties to the boundary controversy, although the courteous terms in which the suggestion is couched, and the wide latitude of reservation permitted each party that may respond in the open spirit which characterizes the initation, leads to the natural hope that it vill be accepted.

Meanwhile the commission will proceed pon the original line of inquiry, which omises to be a slow and difficult task, rusting to the abridgement of the proeedings later on by the production of evience by both parties and the appearance of attorneys, when the proceedings may at nce take on the form of a judicial trial,

Mrs. Smith Did This by Working Hard and Cultivating Her Talent.

Mrs. Dea Carr Smith, who has recent ly received an award for china decora, tion at the Atlanta exposition, and whose exquisite work in the Arkansa exhibit has attracted so much attention and universal admiration, has recently been brought to the attention of the public in a number of newspaper articles which have spoken of the originality and unique beauty shown in the design of the space devoted to the women of Arkansas.

-The Boston and Albany railroad has adopted a device that other railroads will Mrs. Smith was born in Rushvilla | not be slow to accept. Whenever a train | Ind., and now has charge of the art defor any reason is forced to stop at an unpartment of Galloway college, the lar.

All this has given her a broad foundation for her work in china, in which she has received instruction from those able caramic artists, Punch and Aulich of Cin-

To this wide cultivation and geat talent have been added ten years of experience, making Mrs. Smith a most successful teacher, whose work is much sought after. She had a studio in Seattle several years, and while there spent her summers in Alaska and California, making many beautiful sketches along the Pacific coast. Since she has been in Galloway college her success has been phenomenal. She insists that all work be thorough and takes nature as her medel. During her three years' residence in Arkansas she has done much to create and develop a genuine appreciation of art in its truest sense in the state. -Atlanta Constitution.

What Shopping In Paris Teaches.

A correspondent writes: "Shopping in Paris teaches us many things, and among others the new uses to which are put familiar substances. A fashionable trimming for ladies' black capes is now a gelatin lozenge. The 'sequin,' as it is called, is a thin, small pastel, dyed black and having the effect of jet. Each sequin is sewed on separately, and with each garment the purchaser does well to buy a box of the ornaments, as they are liable to drop off. Fortunately for the wearer of gelatin trimming, rain, at least in our hemisphere, does not descend warm; otherwise the decorative art of a mantle would dissolve in a shower. In cold water the new substitute for jet loses neither substance nor color. Cheapness and lightness are the advantages of this edible haberdashery.' -London News.

The Fashionable Magpie Contrast. The magpie contrast, which is the name given to the effect when black and white are brought together, is well displayed in a bonnet intended for evening wear at concert or opera during the season. The small, rather low crown is of white satin felt, the tiny strips being braided in basket fashion. The narrow brim is of softly twisted black velvet cut out at the back so that the hair shows below, while there are falling over it two of the long, hornlike shaped rosettes so much fancied, daintily made of fine duchess lace. A narrow twist of white satin is just above the velve at the edge of the crown, and on one side there stands up a 10 inch white pompon, while on the other is a star shaped buckle of rhinestones. Velvet ties come with this bonnet. - Ladies' Home Jour-

Not New at All.

It would appear from the recent writing of a well informed woman on women's clubs that the new woman is not new at all, but decidedly old, dating back to 400 years before the Christian era, when famous Grecian women held original opinions concerning the sun and moon and made studies on the whole solar system. From that time to this the writer mentions the numerous women who have forced the world to acknowledge their superiority, so it would seem that "new woman" is a misnomer.

The English Woman.

Charles Dudley Warner lectured before the students of Trinity college, Hartford, the other evening on "England as It Is." He spoke in terms of admiration of the present type of English woman, not the new woman, he said, but the English woman of society. She is robust and graceful. Her carriag is irreproachable. In former days she Subscriptions taken for all papers Now, however, it is not true. She had been accused of being poorly dressed dresses in perfect taste.

Makes a Beautiful House Plant,

People who enjoy a bit of green in the nouse when fields and flower gardens are wrapped in the desolation of winter will find that a sweet potato, planted in moist loose earth or a jar of water, with the seed end projecting upward, will make a beautiful growth of vine in a very short time. It resembles the Eng lish ivy and rivals the glossy leaves of the Wandering Jew for house decoration. - Northwest Magazine.

The entire fire department was called to the scene, and it was three hours before the fire was under control. Meanwhile, Hauser's body had been found on the first floor, having fallen through with the floors. As the firemen arrived upon the scene, the tremendous crowd which had gathered were scattered by another explosion, not so violent as the first. When, at 2:30, the building could be en-

A little later, however, the firemen made their way through a mass of debris and came upon two horribly burned bodies, which were identified as those of Bookkeeper Stevens and Thomas Toof.

The Herald reports Judge Grover as Judge Grover of Canton appeared in the interests of Norfolk county. The people of Norfolk county, he believed, would suffer severely from a metropolitan county. One hundred and twenty-one millions of taxable property would be taken away from Norfolk and the 60,-000,000 remaining would be compelled to bear the onerous burden of building new county buildings upon a new site. Furthermore the citizens would be inconvenienced because of the crowded condition of the courts in the new county. The judge informed the committee that t now took twice as long to settle a case n Suffolk as in Norfolk county. This disadvantage, he thought, would be increased under the new arrangement. Mr. W. W. Fifield, of Medford, in his arguments said:

HORACE P. KENT, Prop.

The Washington Post tells a story illustrating the politeness of Minister Ransom. One day, when he was in the senate, as he was going down the capitol steps, he saw approaching a very dull, long winded man. Ransom was alarmed. He was in no mental or physical shape to bear the brunt of a full fledged bore just at that moment. He must do something to save himself. As the dull one drew near, Ransom, in his desperation, greeted him with shortn pess and hurried by. The other had paused, but at this brief dismissal, as it were, turned away up the steps. Ransom was smitten of conscience at his own rudeness. It was foreign to his polite and flowery instincts. He must de something to take the soreness out of the man. Ransom turned pleasantly when some ten steps separated him from the bore and called out: "Goodby Simpkins! I've been thinking a mighty heap about you lately, Simpkins!" At this Simpkins began to betray symptoms of returning. "But don't come back, Simpkins," remonstrated Ransom, wildly motioning with both hands. "I've been thinking a mighty heap about you lately, Simpkins, but don't come back; don't come back!"

A Story of Ransom.

Senator Roscoe Conkling was once addressing the senate in an impassioned manner and seemed to direct his remarks to Senator Thurman. At length the latter got irritated.

"Does the senator from New York," he roared, "expect me to answer him every time he turns to me?" For a moment Mr. Conkling hesitated, and everybody expected a terrific explosion. Then with an air of exquisite courtesy he replied: "When I speak of the law, I turn to the senator from Ohio as the Mussulman do to the English common law as the world's most copious fountain of human jurisprudence." The usually decorous senate broke into a storm of applause, and the Thurman eye moistened a little. It is ever a complimented as a lawyer by Roscoe Conkling-that was praise indeed. The two statesmen were the best of friends and greatly enjoyed each other's society when "off duty."—Baltimore Ameri-

The "Bad Man's" Sense of Humor.

A young man from way down east had gone to Denver armed with an old fashioned Allen revolver-"pepper box' that weapon was called in those days. In a gambling house one night he became involved with a "bad man" in a RD CHASE INSURANCE quarrel and drew forth his "pepper box." The "bad man," who was really who had not the remotest idea of fear, and who was always armed with a pair of big navies, threw up his hand in well feigned dismay and said: "Heavens, man! You ain't a-goin to throw that at me, are you?" For the sake of his joke he snared the young man's life, and to that one of wealthiest and most respected citizens of Denver now owes the fact that he is doing business in the western metropolis. He is a monument of that border man's sense of humor. - Chicago Times-

Herald.

A Witty Judge. The late Lord Bowen, besides being a great judge, was also a great wit, and many interesting bonmots of his are being recalled just now. On the occasion of the queen's jubilee the judges were drawing up an address to the queen. 'Conscious as we are of our shortcomings," ran the address. "Conscious as we are of one another's shortcomings,' suggested Lord Bowen. Sometimes his wit was very incisive, as, for instance, when he remarked: "Truth will out-even in an affidavit." Not the least happy of his recorded witticisms was the remark he made when congratulated on his appointment to be a law lord. He would, he said, find the work easy, his duty being to give his opinion after so many others had given theirs. "In fact, I only have to agree, ROOMS, OFFICES AND WHARVES, and might well have been raised to the

He Won His Bet.

One must take the word of an archdeacon, or I should be inclined to request further particulars in the case of the patron whom Archdeacon Wilson mentioned at the conference at Carnforth the other day. A certain livingso said the archdeacon-had fallen vacant by death. The patron summoned to him his legal adviser, who explained that the presentation must be entirely gratuitous. The United States is the only nation se situated that it can with honor and safety move upon the pathway of peace for an international court of arbitration. North of So there is no danger from Canada. To the south of us is Mexico, with only 12,000, 000 of people, of whom 10,000,000 are Indians, uneducated and degraded. We need fear nothing from Mexico. Farther away are the republics of the isthmus of Darien and of South America. We have no fear of them. And now look at Europe It is 3000 miles across the ocean from the nearest seaport of any European power to any seaport of the United States. cording to the census of 1890 we have 9,200,000 fighting men. The experience of the Civil War has shown that from them could be drafted, mobilized and in structed in three months 3,000,000 of soldiers. All the transports and navies of the world could not land upon our shores an army which could march 100 miles from the sea coast.

Had there been an international court of arbitration in the Venezuelan matter, Lord Salisbury could not have pleaded successful candidates for the degree of every part of this country. No man could that there was a boundary line embracing territory so long and unquestionably held by the British that they could not in honor submit the question of their title to the court.

Glad to See Him.

New members of congress feel shy and lonesome. To be thrust suddenly in among almost 400 members, many of whom they have never seen, and only a few of whom they have ever heard of, is rather a trying experience. To make a speech under these conditions takes some courage. James Kerr, ex-member of congress from Pennsylvania, recently told of his experience in going into congress for the first time. He came down from Pennsylvania raw and green. He sat in his seat for several days, and in that time managed to pick up a formal speaking acquaintance with one or two of his neighbors. One day he was sitting in his seat, disconsolate, listening to the reading of some tiresome bill, when the member who sat next to him, who had served two terms, came in like a breeze and said cheerily: "Hello, Jim."

Mr. Kerr wheeled in his chair and said eagerly: "Say that again, will you, old man?

It sounds like home.' "Well, Jim, let's go down to Murrayville and talk about home.' The reference to Murrayville is unintelligible to the outsider, but Mr. Kerr had learned by that time that the name referred to the house restaurant, where oysters and the cup that cheers were to be had, and they wended their way down stairs.—New York Tribune.

Making the Sound of Hoof Beats,

In these days of war plays and stage realism the sound of hoof beats is worked into pretty nearly every meledrama. Very few people know how the effect is produced, and very few, too, could make the noise right even if they had the apparatus. It takes quite a lot of practice to be a good "horse," as it is called. The necessary outfit consists of a table with rubber graduated from an inch thick down to the thinness of a piece of paper. The operator has strapped to each hand half a cocoanut shell, on the edge of which is fastened a horseshoe. He starts in pounding them on the thick rubber to imitate hoof beats in the distance and gradually works along to the thin part as they are supposed to come nearer, and finally ends up with a clatter on the bare stones as the horse is pulled up just outside the scene. This is considered generally to be the most effective of all the hoof beat ma-

The fruit of the india rubber tree is somewhat similar to that of the Ricinus communis, the caster oil plant, though somewhat larger. The seeds have a not disagreeable taste and yield a purplish oil. It is a fairly good substitute for linseed oil, though it dries less rapidly.

Mixed with copal blue and turpentine, it makes a good varnish. The oil may be also used in the manufacture of soaps and lithographic inks. The seeds are somewhat like tiny chestnuts, although darker in color. The Indian girls are fond of wearing bracelets and necklets made of them.

The Egyptian reed which was used for making the pens found in Egyptian tombs is a hard variety, growing to about the diameter of an ordinary goose quill. Pens made from it are said to last for a day or two and do excellent work.

He and His Advisers Are Prisoners Until Terms Are Complied With.

[Copyrighted, 1896.] LONDON, Jan. 23 .- Highly interesting details have been received from Cape Coast Castle concerning the palavar between Commander Scott of the British force and King Prempeh, in which the latter acknowledged submission to Great square in Coomassie at 7 o'clock in the ed three days previously for this date. n a semicircle in the square shortly afterward, and an officer was sent to the palace mind of King Prempeh that if he did not appear before the British commander within five minutes after the summons hat he would be taken from the palace y force and brought to the spot occupied y Sir Francis Scott.

The king made a show of resistance, out seeing there was no trifling with the officer, who was accompanied by an escort of British soldiers, his majesty reby the escort, to the square. Arrived there, King Prempeh took his seat upon the stool of state. After a few formal words had passed between the king and Sir Francis, through the interpreters, the king descended from his stool and shook hands with the British commander. The latter was then introduced to the British governor, who recited at length the negotiations which had been conducted between the representatives of Great Britain and Ashantee, ending by in-forming the king that he must formally submit to Great Britain and give up immediately 50,000 ounces of gold as an indemnity for the expenses incurred by the British government in sending an expediking was also informed that he must keep the streets clean, maintain order among the populace, and that he would be held esponsible for any disturbances among the natives.

King Was Scared.

King Prempeh was greatly impressed by the show of force in the square, the maxim guns being conveniently posted and every yard being utilized by the British and their native allies. Finally, the king, through an interpreter, replied that he was ready to submit to the British. took off his crown and sandals and advanced to the seats formed by biscuit boxes, upon which Sir Francis Scott and the governor were seated, surrounded by their staffs. His majesty then placed his head between the feet of Sir Francis Scott and those of the British governor, clasping them with his hands and actually grovelling in the dust as a mark of his omplete submission to the power of the Queen of England.

This display of helplessness upon the part of King Prempeh greatly impressed the Ashantees present. They were greatly agitated and talked excitedly together, but they made no attempt at resistance, a step which would have been useless in the face of the almost entire British expedition and the deadly rapid-fire guns already referred to.

The governor finally made the king arise, and recalled to his majesty's mind that he had been requested to immediately pay 50,000 ounces of gold to the representatives of Great Britain. In reply, his the sugar bounty claims, yesterday intromajesty, who was greatly agitated, said duced in the house a bill designed to he only possessed 380 ounces of gold and that he had no means of collecting the 50,000 demanded by the British. To this executive officer of the government to re-the governor replied that such a statement was merely child's play, and that effect any law of the United States on the the demands of the British must be complied with, as the king's ability to pay the amount was too well known to admit of of money made by the congress by act or

King Prempeh then asked for time, but the governor answered that upon a previous occasion the Ashantees had failed to keep their promises made to the British, and that the latter had no intention of giving them the opportunity of doing the same thing again. The governor then abruptly announced that King Prempeh, the queen's mother, the king's father and other chiefs of importance present would be taken prisoners, under escort, to Cape Coast Castle.

Feared a Volley.

The governor's words fell like a thunder bolt upon the assemblage of Ashantee but the troops, which had been at ground arms, were promptly ordered to "carry arms," and the machine-like precision with which the Martini-Henry carbines were lifted from the ground to the carry struck dismay into the Ashantees, and probably averted serious trouble, for they fell back as if fearing a volley from the

One of the chiefs, however, rose from his seat near King Prempeh and uttered some shrill words in a loud tone of voice. These were interpreted as saying that the Ashantees complained that the replies which their ambassadors had brought back from Great Britain had misled them, and that the Ashantees, therefore, were not to blame. The governor, in reply, said that their

also claimed that these ambassadors were not really the chiefs they represented themselves to be, but men of a much

A strong guard of British troops then moved forward and surrounded the king, the queen's mother, the king's father, the prominent chiefs and the ambassadors without any trouble, so suddenly was the For Latest Local and Vicinity movement made and so effectively was it carried out. The prisoners were quickly removed to a large house, which was surcounded by the guard, and then the Ashantees were quietly dispersed by the

> The whole affair was splendidly arranged and admirably executed. In fact, from first to last, from the moment the expedition was first organized until it reached Coomassie, there has not been a single hitch in the arrangements, and it has not been necessary to fire a shot. Every provision which it was possible to make for the health, provisioning and accommodation of the troops was made with the most perfect system. BOWLER'S CASE Receiving Attention From Senators and Representatives at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 .- The president yesterday sent to the senate letters of Secretary Carlisle transmitting such information as the secretary possessed relative to department to pay the sugar boanty appropriated for during the last congress. He says that these letters contain all that he knows about the matter. Mr. Carlisle's letter to the president recites the now well-known facts of the reference of

Y.), a member of the judiciary committee, which has been considering the questions raised by the refusal of Comptroller Bowler to pay cover similar cases that may hereafter arise. In Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.-The entire session of the house yesterday was devoted to the consideration of minor matters and legislation by unanimous consent. The major portion of the day was consumed in the discussion of the senate resolution appropriating $25,000 for architectural aid in the preparation of plans for the Chicago public building. It was finally passed. concern would probably be today, if it were not for able speeches and notable debates. Late in tremely heavy expenses. the afternoon a controversy occurred be tween Messrs. Sherman, Teller, Gorman natives, and there was an impetuous and others which led to a spirited financial debate. Mr. Sherman spoke at length and with great earnestness, deprecating the thrusting of an "old, worn-out issue"-the silver question-into the senate at a time when practical legislation was imper-ative. Messrs. Teller and Gorman answered Mr. Sherman from their respective standpoints, while Messrs. Aldrich, Lindsay, Gray and others took part in the exciting debate. Speaker Reed came over from the house and was an attentive lis-

Winding Up of the Organization Looked For.

President Lyford Resigns and Ex-President Stewart Takes His Place.

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 23 .- The bank commissioners yesterday directed the Granite State Provident association of Manchester to discontinue taking new business. This action appears to have been based on the resignation of James O. surprise, as it was thought that the recent reorganization had put the company upon a business basis. When Mr. Lyford and the other new directors qualified, it was the understanding that they were to have full charge of the management of the association. When they found they could not bring about desirable changes, there was a break up, Mr. Lyford and General Streeter retiring, and G. Percival Stewart, the former president, coming back into

From those shareholders who have already paid in sums of money with the definite idea of getting a certain amount within a few years, the treasurer will, in the future as in the past, look each month for the customary payments, but the names of no new subscribers will be accepted. This action is announced as the result of a decision of the board of direct tors, and is undoubtedly true.

The decision was arrived at in Manches ter yesterday afternoon, but it came only after the directors had been given to understand, clearly and thoroughly, that if they did not suspend business themselves the bank commissioners would do it for them, and, of course, it was better for the directors to do this. The situation really amounts to this: The death-knell of the much advertised association has been sounded. A fatal blow has not yet been delivered, but the state of New Hampshire has at last adopted measures that will prevent the organization from conducting any extensive business in the future. It has arrived at the same conclusions that Massachusetts did in 1891, and that Maine did last

While the savings bank commissioners have had nothing to say up to the present, and while it cannot publicly be stated that they have gone further than to examine the association very closely for the past six months, the whole situation of affairs shows that it has been decided to have the refusal of an executive officer of the the Granite State Provident association stop its present method of doing business. That will settle the organization, in all probability. Its directors declared that they could not do business as Massachusetts officials wanted it to, and by refusing to conduct the sugar bounty claims to the court of affairs in the state of Maine by a notice claims, at the instance of Comptroller | sent only last week it virtually reiterated

The state of New Hampshire desires nothing more than did Massachusetts and Rhode Island, and, therefore, no one expects that the life of the concern will be continued much longer.

Business Widely Spread.

The Granite State Provident association has not confined its business to New England by any means. It has one of the largest lists of investors in the state of New York of any building and loan association, and has also been very prominent in Ohio.

Within the past four years it has also paid great attention to western states, and, as a result, thus built up a business extending practically over the country. It paid to its agents very large commissions, arger, it is said, than any other similar sociation, and not unnaturally this was conducive to large sales of stock.

The hope of the association in doing pusiness has been in getting large percentages from borrowers who were necessarily ontributors. Large premiums were paid, and heavy rates of interest were de-Probably borrowers from the funds of the organization averaged nearly 9 per cent per annum. Such rates, of course, were profitable but to get them the association has frequently been obliged to assume risks on property that savings banks would de-cline, and a settlement before proper returns were made on such risks would certainly result in great loss.

The greatest source of trouble, however, has been in the fact that there have been, for many months, more investors than borrowers, and the organization has, therefore, been unable to get the big rates of interest desired. There have been more persons who have used the coffers of the organization as a savings bank than those who have wished to possess their own homes on easy payments.

That put the organization to the necessity of taking greater risks on investments than even those on small real estate loans would be, or compelled it to draw small rates on legitimate and solid investments Still, even under these conditions, the concern would probably be a paying one today, if it were not for the fact of ex-

High School Reunion, Quincy Daily Ledger

FRIDAY EVENING, JAN. 24, 1836. Reception. Addresses and Music Refreshments, Dancing.

All graduates of the Quincy High School are invited to attend the annual reunion to be held at the new High School Building on Hancock street, Friday evening, Jan. 24, 1896 at 7.30 o'clock. The Board of Government urges each and ever graduate to give this reunion the sup-port of his or her presence and hearty inter-est. To once a year renew old school ties and revive old memories would seem to be a pleasant thing, and the future of the Association depends largely upon the success of this meeting. Graduates at a distance can materially aid by becoming members of the Association; the annual dues of 50 cents may be forwarded to Mr. C. Eaton Pierce, treas-

Tickets are limited to the graduates, but each can purchase two, so that they may have an escort. They may be procured of any of the board, at seventy-five cents each, or at John O. Holden's store, 154 Hancock street, Quincy. Please inform the Treasurer at your earliest convenience, whether you desire one or two tickets, that arrangements may be made. Hon. C. F. Adams, 2d, Mayor-elect of the city of Quincy, has accepted an invitation of the Association to be its guest, and many of the past and present teachers of the school and school superintendents are expected.

The reunion will consist of a reception speeches, music, and a two to three hours dance. Light refreshments will be served at 9 o'clock. A good orchestra will be in attendance throughout the evening.

The colonial work will in time undoubtedly take the same course, and then some other style will supersede it. Until then, however, we will rest contented and make the most of what is good.

The design here given is for a colonial cottage, 25 feet front and 32 feet deep, a cozy, antique little home. The style of this house may be called a Dutch colonial.

It is simple in detail, relying more upon its quaint outline for external effect than for its classic details. The plan is admirable, being very simple, the three rooms on first floor grouped around a central chimney stack, and on second floor four good rooms, bathroom and good closets. There is a cellar under whole house 6 feet And there is a good attic, which will give storage, and one nice room; a furnace in cellar to heat the whole: a nice open fire place, with mantel, in parlor; a Century range, brick set, in kitchen; stationary stone tubs, sink and boiler; open plumbing in bathroom; neat finish of cypress on first floor, two rooms and hall; pine else where, all filled and varnished.

The exterior is all covered with cypress or cedar shingles, which weather out silver gray and are left to be painted by na-

Material For Floors.

Encaustic tile floors for halls and vestibules, etc., have been almost entirely superseded by the Roman mosaic, and the most beautiful effects and designs are tosurprising. The best work today is known as Alcan mosaic, is of a flint tile made in France in every conceivable color and shade and can be laid in the most exquisite patterns for 40 cents to $1 per square foot. This material at one-quarter inch in thickness in wearing qualifications equals 12 inches of solid marble and will last practically forever, keeping its first true and level surface if rightly put down in the beginning, and is fast revolutionizing the use of tile, marble, scagliola and the best materials for floors heretofore known.

A Call For Cash.

Boston, Jan. 23.—The committee having in charge arrangements for the golden jubilee of the American Missionary association, to be held in this city next Ocmending that the sum of $500,000 be raised for this jubilee year. The association asks for the doubling of contributions, and a liberal offering from churches, societies and individuals that made no contribution last year.

With $2,500,000 Capital.

BOSTON, Jan. 23.-A company organized with $2,500,000 capital stock under New Jersey laws, with Benjamin Hollings-worth at its head, will establish shipyards in South Boston. Hollingsworth will take $1,000,000 worth of stock, and the Cramps are heavily interested. E. B. Price, a Pennsylvania iron merchant, is named as treasurer, and the Cramps' company is credited with two contracts for steel ships of 8000 tons each, to cost $1,400,-000 each.

Was a Murder.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Jan. 23.—Coroner Doten yesterday rendered a decision in the case of John McCarthy, a gateman of Danbury, who was found bruised and bleeding beside his house on the night before Christmas. She knew how he looked well enough, and needed not that any man should tell her. Her children also knew by sad experience, but the man himself had a very imperfect idea of the state of his case. So once, when he came home and fell into a maudlin slumber, she sent for a photographer to come forthwith, and on his arrival she set before him his work. She ordered the photographer to photogragh her husband as he sat in the chair. The photographer did his work and did it well; and when the photograph was finished and laid beside the husband's place at breakfast it was a revelation, and the sobered gentleman experienced a Joseph T. SPREAD OF ROAD REFORM.

Movement For Better Highways Gaining Strength and Influence. The road congress at the Atlanta exposition declared Massachusetts to be at the head of the list in the new movement for good roads that is begun among the different states, the standing being determined by the amount of money appropriated for road construction combined with the systematization of its use, says the Boston Courier. The conditions giving to Massachusetts the lead in the matter were, the state highway commission, the system under which road building is progressing and the liberality of the financial provision for the work. On all three points this state was readily admitted to take the lead. The fact that this most interesting and important subject has seriously engaged the attention of a body like the organized exposition of industry and improvement held at Atlanta contains the sure promise of the rapid spread of its influence among all the states of the Union, and incites the sanguine hope that the day is not far off when roadbuilding will become a subject of engrossing interest in all parts of our common country. The local productions of a country may be abundant, but unless the means of transporting them at the right time to the waiting markets are prepared they might as well be nonexistent. We may, it is true, have an oversupply of railroads, but they are fed and sustained by the ordinary roads that are virtually a part of the foundation of civilized communities. Good roads are a matter of public policy. Therefore their construction and maintenance belong to the state as sovereign over all common interests within its borders. This much being conceded, the problem afterward becomes one mainly of detail, in which a system of construction and of expenditure shall be the purpose of the whole people. No country can justly claim to be advanced in civilization whose means of intercommunication are not at least parallel with its increasing material prosperity.

GOOD ROADS NECESSARY.

Agricultural Interests Require a System of Smooth, Hard Highways, It is scarcely necessary to argue for the construction of good roads, says the New York Press, but at this time and of great force presents itself to make diency, but urgency. In a period of agricultural depression, due largely to the competition of the agricultural produc tion of other western states, it is of the soundest policy to adopt such public Finder will please notify MISS JOHNSON. measures as will diminish the cost of Weymouth. You can save money by so do- try. Compared with English roads their assertion is in a great measure true. Every street there, county or city, long or short, which comes under the control of the authorities is either paved, asphalted or macadamized. Smoothness, hardness, neatness and durability are its characteristics. While driving along through an English country an American is surprised to see gangs of men at work repairing what in America would be looked upon as an elegant piece of road. The least hollow is quickly filled,

No Argument Necessary.

For farmers who would be brought close to market, increase the value of their farms, add to the pleasure of living, save money on wear and tear vehicles, be merciful to their beasts and keep the boys on the farm and not isolate them from the world and society by barriers of impassable highways no good roads argument is necessary.

Newspapers and Good Roads.

The newspapers published in the country towns are now doing the greatest amount of good in the matter of securing highway improvement. They are the preachers who reach the people, and they are reaching them in the right way.-L. A. W. Bulletin.

Points to Consider. Sods are good for a lawn, but the ideal road should be made of something

Senator Wolcott Talks on the Venezuelan Dispute.

England Said to Be Engaged In Fortifying the Disputed Territory.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.-Senor Salvador Depew's speech before the New York Bar ciation, writes as follows:

MINISTER MENDONCA.

"Mr. Depew's fears that Venezuela of Brazil would be willing to sell a portion of their territory seems to carry him to the conclusion that a protectorate of the United States of America over its Latin neighbors would become indispensable In regard to this point, Mr. Depew is as well informed as in regard to the disposition of property in the South American countries at the whim of the dictators of the hour, and from his ignorance of the actual condition of the Latin-American nations he extorts the argument that the only device to keep such nations in good behavior toward the European powers is to keep them outside of the protectorate of the powerful republic of the north.

"If Mr. Chauncey M. Depew were as well acquainted with the Latin-American countries as he is with the financial relations between this country and Europe he would know that at present there are no dictators in South America, but presidents, elected in accordance with the constitutional laws of the countries, and that there is as much security for life and property, either of citizens or foreigners, in Brazil, Chili or Argentine as there is in the United States or England, and that no self-respecting Latin-American nation would countenance the idea of a protec torate, even if offered to them by their best and most powerful friend."

Just what the commission was to do, or how it was to do it, Mr. Wolcott added, nobody knew, but it had been created and it now stood more a menace He then proceeded to condemn the whole controversy, so far as it was based on the Monroe doctrine. "It is," he said, "and has ever been, without recognition by other countries, and has always been refused the approval of congress." Mr. Wolcott entered into an exhaustive review of the origin and meaning of the Monroe doctrine, and of its application by tained from the gentleman the desired the United States. He added: "Not only goods. CARACAS, Jan. 23 .- Michael McTurk, the head magistrate of British Guiana, who has been identified for years with the usurpation of Venezuelan territory, has been relieved of his duties in order that he may command an expedition charged with fortifying the entire length of the Cuvuni river, lying in the disputed territory. ling the new heavy guns.

In the name of the people of Venezuela, this government is asked to fortify Amacuro, Cangrejos and Cutuni, on the frontier, in order to be ready for war if arbi-tration fails. The moral object of increasing the military strength would be to unite the country, it is argued, and command the respect of President Crespo's bitterest enemies.

The English plan is believed to be to fortify the disputed territory while the American commission is investigating, and if its report is adverse to Great Britain, to be prepared to hold it forcibly.

the Ashantees, is dead. Henry Maurice, Prince of Battenberg, | smurderer, as had been thought. was the son of Prince Alexander of Battenberg (Hesse) and the Countess von Lauck, daughter of a former Polish minster of war, who was raised to the rank of princess on her morganatic marriage with the ruler of Hesse, was born Oct. 5, 1858. On July 23, 1885, he married Princess Beatrice Mary Victoria Feodora, the ninth and youngest child of Queen Victoria, born April 14, 1857. The prince leaves two sons and one daughter, Prince Henry was a man of very fine presence, but as he was not of undiluted royal blood, the English people looked upon his union with a daughter of the queen as a social descent. The queen's injudicial kindness in lavishing on him offices, mostly sinecures, provoked the discontent of the army and aristocracy.

Prince Henry had seen little real service and had he been thrown on his own re sources he might have made his mark as a soldier. His life must have been in some respects sad, for he was not only unpopular, but was disliked by most of the royal family. The Emperor of Germany was especially bitter in his comments on the Battenbergs, and regarded their relationship as almost degrading.

One Way to Tell Time. "What time is it?" I asked the janftor of a down town office building. The old fellow reached into his vest pocket, pulled out a battered silver watch, looked at it intently, and then taking a pencil from another pocket jotted something down on a bit of paper. Next he reached into another pocket and pulled out a second watch, the companon of the first, looked at it and again jotted something down on a bit of paper. Then he began a little computation on his slip of paper, after which he announced:

"At the time you asked, suh, it was just 27 minutes past 3. That's exact." "Much obliged," I said. "But will you kindly explain to me why you had to look at two watches and go through Grove, nor that of any organization to do all that figuring before you could tell

"Why, you see, suh," he replied, "this here watch that I carries in my vest is a mighty good watch, but it loses just ten minutes every day. This other watch that I carries in my pants is just as good, but it gains ten minutes every day. So first I looks at one, and then I looks at the other, and then I takes my pencil and figures out the average between the two. That way I gets the time exact, suh."—Buffalo Express.

Kissing. An English journal prints the following: "A very disagreeable habit of the king of Portugal is that he kisses his male friends. The princes of our reigning house all do this, and of course it is common enough abroad; but, thank heaven, so far this nasty looking (no matter how really innocent) habit has never become fashionable in this country. It is of course all a mere question of etiquette, but let us fervently pray that Englishmen when they meet with or part from their friends will never get to think it the correct thing to kiss one another. Etiquette in parting varies all over the world. In America the men shake hands and the women kiss one another and sometimes cry, for the American ladies are champion weepists. In France and in Italy even more the women weep, while the men kiss and hug one another almost as vigorously as if they were in a wrestling match. An English woman shakes hands with a man of her acquaintance, while in Spain she always gives her hand to be kissed. It makes the same sensation in Madrid for a man to take a woman's hand and shake it as it would in London for a foreigner to seize a lady's hand and kiss it.'

in Union square. The weary gentleman addressed made an evasive reply intended to create the impression of a negative without being one in terms.

"Yes, y'are," continued the far an aggravatingly persistent voice. The Shop Has Brains. The tendency of successful business is to enlargement, and with enlargement come a new multitude of agents, a new variety of markets, a new kind of competitive danger, to avert which absolutely requires mind. The very number of his employees compels the great tradesman of our day to become a judge of character; the very expansion of his market drives him to study many countries, many tariffs, many laws, and his extreme danger from competition makes of him an artist, a chemist and a critic. The process is slow, because he is always governed by the idea of selling, and he often learns rather to know publie taste than to know what taste is and to seek in his purchases the popular rather than the good, but still the process must develop his mind. - London

The root of the celery plant is not as widely appreciated as it should be. An authority cited by the Boston Journal says of it:

"The root of celery has been sadly despised, outrageously misunderstood. It, too, is at the service of man during greenless months, when, so feeble is his imagination, he seldom soars above sprouts. It may be boiled, and then white sauce well becomes it; it may be fried in close embracing bread crumbs; it may be fashioned into a puree; it may be stewed. Why let it linger longer, the wallflower of the green grocer's stall? Celery, in root and bunch, soothes-a rival to opium. Eat it for which of its many excellences you will, only see that you eat it."

It Wasn't a General's Egg. An amusing anecdote is given in the Madras Mail about Calcutta life of a bygone generation. It relates to Lord Wellesley (Duke of Wellington) and is as follows: The great man had been given a bad egg for breakfast, and sniffing at it he called to his valet: "Lamell, a bad egg! What an atrocious thing to have given me!" The valet hurried up with a serious face, examined the egg closely and then exclaimed: "I entreat your forgiveness, my lord. It was voted to lease the meeting house and property to a party of 16 for a term of three years at $1 a year, providing they agree to carry on Congregational worship and not disturb the pew-holders. This action was taken to keep Mr. Kenngott out of the pulpit. The legality of the action is questioned, and the courts will probably be called upon to decide in the matter.

High School Reunion, Quincy Daily FRIDAY EVENING, JAN. 24, 1836.

Reception, Addresses and Music Refreshments, Dancing.

All graduates of the Quincy High School hardinates of the Quincy High School are invited to attend the annual reunion to be held at the new High School Building on Hancock street, Friday evening, Jan. 24, 1896, at 7,30 o'clock.

The Board of Government urges each and every graduate to give this reunion the sup-port of his or her presence and hearty inter-est. To once a year renew old school ties and revive old memories would seem to be and revive old memories would seem to be a pleasant thing, and the future of the Asso-ciation depends largely upon the success of this meeting. Graduates at a distance can materially aid by becoming members of the Association; the annual dues of 50 cents may be forwarded to Mr. C. Eaton Pierce, treas-urer.

Tickets are limited to the graduates, but each can purchase two, so that they may have an escort. They may be procured of any of the board, at seventy-five cents each, or at John O. Holden's store, 154 Hancock street, Quincy. Please inform the Treasurer at your earliest convenience, whether you desire one or two tickets, that arrangement may be made.

Hon. C. F. MRS. DIMMICK'S WOMANLY WISDOM. When to Talk and When to Keep Still.

Mrs. Mary Lord Dimmick, the woman whom ex-President Harrison is soon to marry, is a niece of his first wife, who died in October, 1892, during the last year of Mr. Harrison's administration. Mrs. Dimmick's first husband was Walter Dimmick, son of Samuel E. Dimmick, a well known lawyer of Honesdale, Pa., who at one time was attorney general of the state. She was quite young then and Mr. Dimmick died soon after the marriage. Some years after this her mother died, and the sad circumstance enlisted the sympathy of her aunt, Mrs. Harrison, who invited her to make her home at the White House. Mrs. Dimmick gladly accepted and proved to be invaluable as a companion and assistant. While the wife of the president was much engaged with the social duties which her position demanded, Mrs. Dimmick took charge of the household and looked after the personal comfort of the president and his wife. Fire Commissioner Russell, of Boston, The Daily Zedger. makes a request of the citizens of Boston which might be followed to advantage in Quincy. He says that, inasmuch as the efficiency of the fire department depends in a great measure on a prompt reception of the first alarm, it would be a wise plan for QUINCY-Ledger Office, 115 Hancock people to get acquainted with the location and working of the fire-alarm box nearest their property.

-There are eleven hundred and fiftyfour women in New York who claim they do not know how old they are. One is sure, at any rate, that they are not particularly young. The census enumerator seemed to find the same kind of cases in Quincy when he went his rounds last year.

An Interesting Document.

The president yesterday sent to congress an answer to a resolution asking information concerning the treatment by Turkey of naturalized American citizens of Armenian birth. The answer is in the form of a letter from the secretary of state to the president, and is as follows:

To the President: The undersigned, secre tary of state, to whom was addressed a resolution passed in the senate of the United States on the 16th inst., directing the secretary of state "to inform the senate, if consistent with the public interests, first, whether naturalized zens of the United States of Armenian birth are allowed to visit Turkey on business or to visit their families, and whether United States sports held by them are recognized by the

The law of Turkey, like that of Russia and some other countries, does not recognize un-permitted change of allegiance by a Turkish subject; but, although no treaty of naturaliza-tion exists between the United States and Tur-key in the regulation of this point, no instance key in the regulation of this point, no instance has yet been pressed by the Turkish government in assertion of a right to treat the individual as a Turkish subject or to punish him for the alleged offense of becoming a citizen of a foreign state without permission.

The second branch of the senate inquiry

covers two distinct matters. It is asked, in the first place, whether the families of such naturalized citizens, residing in Turkey, are permitted to leave that country and come to the United States. By the families of such naturalized citizens the resolution is presumed to mean the wives and minor children, who alone might, when the jurisdiction of the United States, be held to acquire citizenship through the naturalization of the husband or father. The naturalization laws of the United States being obviously framed to permit the bestowal of the franchise of citizenship upon certain persons of alien birth who are within its jurisdiction—and the application of these statutes being entrusted to the judicial branch -it is clear that they cannot operate to naturalize by indirection or by executive interpretation a person who is an alien by birth and origin who has never been within the jurisdiction of the United States and who at the time may be dwelling within a foreign jurisdiction.
The Turkish government has on several occasions permitted the emigration of the wives and children of Turkish subjects who had come to the United States and here acquired citizenship, leaving their families behind them. It has even permitted the emigration of other kinsmen to a degree not within the purview of the naturalization laws of the United States. It has also, asserting a discretionary power in the premises, refused to permit the emigration of the families of naturalized Armenians, even within the marital or question of free delivery and one post filial degree.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Topic For the Week Beginning Jan. 26, Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle, Topic.—How and why we should testify for Christ.—I John iv_2-15. (A meeting for special hought of the associate members Testifying for Christ is one of the important duties of those who believe in Christ. It is one of the efficient ways by which the gospel was and still is spread among men. Christ told His disciples that they were to testify of Him. They had seen Him and His works, and their very important work was to go about telling what they knew and had seen that they might influence others to become His disciples. This testifying for Christ was the great business of their lives. They lived for this. They suffered for this, and they were even prepared to die for it. To assert it over and over again they gave up all that earth holds dear and time and again encountered the strongest opposition. Their lives should be a constant inspiration for us If, under such circumstances, they so gladly testified for Christ, how much more readily we should testify for Christ

There are many ways of testifying for Christ. We may tell of our religious erperiences, of what we have seen and to know. This the apostles did. They wrote and spoke of what they knew 'We have seen and do testify,' says John, "that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world." Sincere, truthful, judicious testimony of our religious experiences is often very infinential in leading others to Christ. Then, too, we testify for Christ when we publicly profess His name before the world We are constantly testifying for or against Christ in this way. This is the thought that should impress itself particularly upon the associate members If we believe in Christ to the extent of associate membership, why not accept Him fully and profess Him before the world as our Saviour?

There are different reasons for testify. ing for Christ. His command is one reason. He told His disciples that they should testify of Him. As His disciples today the same obligation is upon us. We should testify also to show our gratitude to Christ for what He has done for us. If an earthly friend would do us a great kindness, we would most likely tell of it to others to his praise and commendation. Should we neglect to do the same when the kindness has been done by our heavenly Friend and Brother? We should testify also for the benefit of others. Our testimony may lead another to testify for Christ, or it may lead some to see the beauty there is in Christ, so that they will desire Him as their Saviour. Let us always and everywhere be willing to testify for Christ.

"Sixth.-Christian Endeavor stands always and everywhere for Christian citizenship. It is forever opposed to the aloon, the gambling den, the brothel and every like iniquity. It stands for temperance, for law, for order, for Satbath keeping, for a pure political atmosphere; in a word, for righteousness. And this it does, not by allying itself with a political party, but by attempting, through the quick conscience of its individual members, to permeate and influence all parties and all communi-

The principles of Christian Endeavor go deeper down than race distinctions and national peculiarities. Some of the results of Christian Endeavor in China are increased activity and loyalty of the church members and quickened zeal on the part of the pastors; the promotion of a social, fraternal spirit, a more courageous and intelligent participation in meetings, and the development of a true missionary spirit. Not the least important of all the lesson is taught of the oneness in Christ of Christians of all denominations. - Chinese Recorder.

Significant Words From India.

The Dnyanodaya, a Bombay paper of which we can read only the few English columns, prints an enthusiastic article about the Boston convention, in which occur these significant words that we pray may be gloriously true: "That great meeting in Boston was a notice served upon India and Africa and China, and upon every other non-Christian country, that Christ's army expects sooner or later to conquer every one of them. "-Exchange.

Endeavorers Protect the Birds.

Some Endeavorers of Anita, Ia., becoming concerned at the wholesale and wanton destruction of birds for ornamental purpose circulated a pledge among Anita young women Endeavorers, wherein they promised not to wear birds' plumage as ornaments. The young men took a pledge not to do and more pot hunting. This movement has spread and the county Christian Endeavor convention has indersed it.

All the property was taken to police headquarters. All that is not identified and restored to its owners will be turned over to the lawyers to be disposed of by them for Mrs. Barrett's benefit.

The lawyers think, however, that they can establish title to almost all the goods. There will be no contest in the courts, they say, but to make assurance doubly sure, they got Mrs. Chaffey's consent in writing to release all her right, title and interest in the articles taken. At the same time Mrs. Barrett also agreed to lay no claim to the articles.

During the search of her house, Mrs. Chaffey not only offered no resistance, but went from room to room with the searching party, opening boxes and drawers, and giving all the help she could. The warrant entitled the searchers to look for about $150,000 worth of bonds which Chaffey is supposed to have had in his possession at one time. They didn't find the bonds. Mrs. Chaffey said she burned them shortly after

THE WEEK PAST.

The surprise of the week was the collapse of the Metropolitan county scheme Few expected that it would be successful, yet they expected it would required a determined resistance and perhaps a long the other side a large painting representing county would be known as "greater Boston" was enough to salisfy the people that overhead an arch-way was made of flags being of white and blue silk with gold it was a greater Boston idea. Quincy had no over which hung a banner bearing these tassels, those of the aids with a pale blue idea of giving up the distinction of being words : the only city in Norfolk county that Boston might say it was a city of a million of inhabitant. It was a matter of sentiment quite as much with Quincy as with Boston, and our people saw disadvantages rather than benefits in the change.

But we have a Metropolitan park district to which the good old Commonwealth has lent its credit. It promises to make the park system in and about its metropolis among the finest in the country. To connect Boston and the Blue Hills reservation by a seashore drive seems very desirable, and as this roadway will be through our city, our people should be ready to present a strong case before the Legislative committee next week.

Our new City Council held a very short session Monday evening but did it not rush one matter too hastily? Our citizens have responded generously in the past in discoursed sweet music, and the storm aid of the Quincy City Hospital, and it is on the outside was soon forgotten. THE PRESIDENT'S GREETING.

Ladies and Gentlemen, Fellow Alumni and Classmates,-It is with the greatest pleasure that I greet you this evening on the occasion of our second annual reunion. Many of you, I feel that I may truly say, I know; others of you, I know only by name, but I hope to know you better, for this is one of the fundamental principles of our association, to bring the graduates together that they may become acquainted with and interested in one another, and then working as one person, with unlimited ability, capacity and resource, accomplish the aim of the association in advancing the interests of our dear Alma Mater, the Quincy High school.

I wonder how many, or rather, I would say how few, of us on looking back cannot recall the feelings we experienced when we realized that we were no longer members of the school, that after the long vacation to which we had been accustomed for so many years, and which many of us were to enjoy for the last time, we would not return to the old places so dear, but that we were to make another start on new and unschool was to us no longer a vivid reality, but only a memory. Then and then only, I feel safe in saying, did we realize how dear it had become to us.

continued uninterupted but for a brief To many of you the Quincy High school is represented by this noble building, but there are many others of us who know At the conclusion of the ball special cars nothing of this structure, but whose were found in waiting to take the tired yet memory brings to view the old white buildhappy dancers to their homes in Braintree, ing, on a little knoll at the end of a lane, Holbrook, Quincy, Weymouth and other whose every nook and corner recalls some little episode which warms the heart or brings a smile to the face. Yet it is not and he was ably assisted by Joseph Q. the building or the place which holds our O'Brien as floor director and John McClusaffection, it is the associations connected key assistant and the following corps of with those good old days, -the classmates, aids: Messrs. E. W. Swears, G. Water- the teachers, and all that goes to make up house, C. Wilde, E. Myett, J. Maynard, a happy and pleasant little world. For at that time the school room was our world Dignon, R. Stoddard, F. Gould, W. Gould, for at least part of the year. Each one busy with his tasks, engaged in a friendly rivalry as to who should lead; the teachers always ready to help over a difficult spot be given the following committee of the associations formed to last not only through school days, but all the after years of life; and last, and surely not the least of all, the habits and characters being unconsciously formed to last till life should be no more. With such recollections, it seems but natural that such an association as this should be formed, and it is a wonder to me that our membership instead of being as limited as it now is, does not include fully 50 per cent. of the entire alumni, and 90 per cent. of the recent graduates. Last year when this association was formed, it was thought that the alumni would rally to its support but such, as we all know, was not the case. This year we find that though the increase is not so great as might be desired, we are growing. It assuredly is better to build slowly and surely, rather than to start with a large membership only to find the same dwindling away each year. I am gratified to see so many of those who joined at the outset with us tonight, and to see so many new faces. I feel tonight that the association is an assured fact, and already a success; and I hope that at our first quarterly meeting (to occur before long) that I shall again be able to greet you. The idea of this meeting may set some of you to wondering as to what it is and its intention. The committee who so ably last year drew up the constitution, decided that not only should we hold an annual reunion for social purposes, but that we should also have quarterly meetings of a literary cast, to not only advance our own ideas, but to keep the association in mind, and its purpose to advance the interests of the school. It is the intention of the present board of officers attempt to make them so interesting that each one will look forward to the next gathering with pleasureable anticipation. Let each one of us then, take a deep and loyal interest in this association, for by so doing we shall be promoting its aims and ciation will be a true and grand success.

Miss Lucy Hayes was first introduced received that she sang three selections: 'My Hearts in the Highlands," Schumann; "The Danza," Chadwick; and 'The Blue Bell," MacDowell.

Mr. Tupper responded with a poem, en titled "Harping on an old string," which was well received, and will appear in full in Monday's LEDGER.

After a selection by the orchestra Mayor Adams was introduced as a member of a family which had been prominent in educational affairs. He spoke at length saying ing in part: The objects of the association were to promote the interests of the High school, but this would promote the interests of the city. Quincy had a staoility, solidity and character, and it was her schools, particularly the High which developed character.

MAYOR ADAMS.

A musical number by Mr. Walter E. Loud followed, and then ex-Mayor Porter was introduced. With a brief preliminary he unfolded a movement for beautifying the interior of the High school building with works of art, which will be made the subject of a special article in the LEDGER

Hendrie furnished light refreshments of ream, sherbets, cake and coffee. Then for two hours dancing was enjoyed to excellent music by Loud's orchestra, the ushers having charge of the floor. Among those present:

Pledged_to the President In Any Action Taken Against Turkey.

Indiscreet Speeches. Certain Circumstances Induced Committee to Be Easy With Him.

agreed to the concurrent resolution urging decisive action by the European powers against Turkey, and pledging to the president the support of congress in the most vigorous action he may take for the protection of Americans in Turkey and the redress for injuries to American persons or property.

Mr. Cullom (Ills.), who reported the resolution, urged its adoption in a speech which set forth the startling extent of the massacres, the greatest in the history of the world. Mr. Blanchard (Ia.) spoke in the same line.

The climax of the debate was reached when Mr. Frye (Me.) supported the resolution in a speech which aroused great enthusiasm from the galleries for its expressions of sympathy with the Arme nians and for its bitter arraignment of Gazette prints today the last of its series Great Britain's course toward America. The following is the essential feature of the resolution:

That it is an imperative duty in the interest of humanity to express the earnest hope that the European concert brought about by the sive measures as shall stay the hand of fanatithe explicit provisions of the treaty above re-

Resolved, That the president be required to communicate these resolutions to the governments of Great Britain, Germany, Austria, France, Italy and Russia.

Resolved, further, That the senate of the United States, the house of representatives concurring, will support the president in the most vigorous action he may take for the protection and security of American citizens in Turkey, and to obtain redress for injuries committed upon the persons of such citizens.

Bayard's Case.

Little doubt is felt by the action by a special committee of foreign affairs, which | manent secretary of the committee. met yesterday, that a resolution will be brought before the house next week expressing disapproval of Ambassador Bayard's two speeches which were called to the attention of the house by Messrs. Mc-Call and Barrett (Mass.).

The members of the sub-committee-Messrs. Draper (Mass.), Pearson (N. C.) and Dinsmore (Ark.)—discussed the mat-ter for two hours, and decided to recom-mend to the full committee, at their meeting next Thursday, that they report to the house, in the form of a resolution, an expression of disapproval of the ambassa dor's remarks at Edinburgh upon the effect of the protective system on political morality in the United States, and his assertion at Boston, Eng., that the Americans were often a violent people, who needed a strong man to govern them.

These three gentlemen were unable to agree upon the wording of the resolution, lemand. We carry most everything. When and the task of framing it in appropriate language will be left for the committee next Thursday. The purport of the reso ution will be a mild censure of Ambassa dor Bayard for the two utterances mentioned, and an expression of the opinion of the house that representatives of the United States abroad should be very discreet in their public reference to home power. politics.

It is understood that the sub-committee feel that the present tension between the British and American governments over reception. Venezuela constrains them to recommend a milder form of censure than they think the ambassador's remarks would call for under ordinary circumstances. One of to be about $100,000. them said that while they did not wish to take any action that would detract from Mr. Bayard's standing with the power to which he is accredited, they did not feel justified in ignoring his speeches.

In the discussion of the question already had by the whole committee, it was agreed that Ambassador Bayard's remarks were indiscreet, and an attempt will be made to agree upon a form of resolution which will be a compromise of the extreme views, and which both Democrats and Republicans can approve, so as to divest the proceedings of any partisan character.

Willful Murder Charge.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 25 .- The grand jury yesterday presented Mattie V. Angelier and her husband, Frank Angelier, on the charge of shooting and killing Charles F. Parker of Athol, Mass., in their store, on North Charles street, on Jan. 11. The presentment was made after an investigation extending over three days. The jury had the power to present for manslaughter or to dismiss the case, but it was decided to report the charge of willful murder. The Angeliers will remain in jail until their trial is begun.

Needless Worry.

LONDON, Jan. 25 .- The Chronicle this morning has a mysterious editorial assuming that the Venezuela difficulty will be surmounted, but it expresses the belief that grave dangers still surround the future relations of England and the United States. The Chronicle is apparently influenced by a fear that the settlement of the dispute will nullify the effect of its special agitation in favor of a permanent court of arbitration.

A LACK OF PROVISIONS

A Source of Much Worriment to Spanish Authorities In Cuba.

Mounted Insurgents Harassing the Troops.

General Maximo Gomez Has but Very Few Weeks More to Live.

HABANA, Jan. 25.—The Spanish authorties now have to face a very difficult probiem here. The prices of all kinds of provisions, especially groceries, flour and salt, to say nothing of the luxuries of life and March, 1895, had been 22.9 per cent. In farm produce, are going up rapidly every day, and there is a scarcity of almost everything.

In spite of this, people are flocking into Habana from the country districts and other provinces, and in many cases the refugees are people who have lost almost and shoe industry, for though hides are everything they possessed, and a very great number of them here and elsewhere are depending upon charity. The cost of the sheriff's jury to which the case had the war has been enormous, and the drain been sent for the assessment of damages. upon provisions for the army has been very great.

Gomez's Fate Sealed. For some time past alarming reports have been in circulation concerning the health of General Maximo Gomez, commander-in-chief of the insurgent forces. On one hand it has been asserted that he was suffering from wounds. Another circuit court against the Illinois Steel version had it that he was seriously sick company on the ground that in consolidawith fever.

It appears, from information derived in trustworthy circles, that neither of these reports are corrrect; but it is positively asserted that the insurgent chief is a very siek man.

It is stated upon the authority referred to, that the doctors in attendance upon General Gomez recently held a consultation and diagnosed his case as being an advanced state of consumption, compli-cated with fever. It is further stated that the physicians have come to the conclusion that Gomez can only live about two months longer.

Gomez on Thursday for a time ap peared half inclined to risk a decisive engagement with the Spanish troops. He was bivouacked at the village of Placoo not far from Quivican, south of this city Colonel Galvis, in command of the Span ish troops at Quivican, heard of his pres ence and immediately summoned all the government troops available and advance

Guerilla Warfare. The rebels, contrary to custom, awaited the approach of the Spaniards, and when the latter were within range opened fire upon them from various sheltered posi tions. Colonel Galvis waited until the full strength of the column was available. and then moved upon the enemy in semi-circular formation. But after half an hour's firing upon both sides, during which a number were killed and wounded Gomez suddenly divided his forces into two columns, and began to retreat. One of the insurgent columns retreated south ward to a plantation in the Lagia district, and the the other towards Batabano. Naws received from the front yesterday showed that Gomez apparently reunited his forces and camped at Flor de Maya for a short time. But he broke camp at 4 o'clock yesterday morning when informed of the approach of the Spanish troops, who had pressed onward, with but little rest, throughout the night.

The forced march, however, had told

Reports continue to be received of small engagements with the insurgents in all directions, indicating that they are no longer united in a main body, but are broken up into small parties, confident of their ability to evade any Spanish force that they are not strong enough to oppose.

The important town of Sabanilla, the railroad south of the city of Matanzas, has been attacked by insurgents. No details are given of the damage done to property, nor are claims stated as to the success of the resistance, but it is said that three of the volunteer soldiers were killed and 10 of the civil guard were wounded. The insurgents are said to have lost 17 killed.

At the first hearing that was held witnesses produced the treasurer's books, and the testimony offered by expert accountant Paul, was based on items taken from these books. Upon cross examination it was brought out that the books produced in court were not the original books as it was the custom of the treasurer's to make a note of cash received at the lodge and Wesleyan colleges. meetings and at recess upon a small memorandum book, while the regular books were kept at the home of the treasurer, and whenever time offered it was the custom of the treasurer to copy the items on the memorandum book into the regular books of the order. It was also shown that these memorandum books were still in existence, and when Mr. McAnarney ascertained this he objected to allowing the treasurer's book admitted as evidence as they were but copies and the a business training and executive capacity. originals were in existence. The court sustained the objections and ordered the originals produced at the next hearing, but in order to allow the case to go on it was agreed for the time being to permit the witnesses to testify from the books then in court. In Saturday's hearing Mr. Paul the expert was again placed upon the stand and testified to what he had found upon a reexamination of the treasurer's book, which as in the first instance were compiled not from the original memorandum book but from the copies. When Mr.

Liquor Raid.

The Quincy police made another liquor raid Sunday afternoon, and were successtwo quarts of whiskey, some empty jugs that had contained cherry rum, and some bottles that had contained lager beer. It was in the vicinity of 3 o'clock when Inspector McKay, Officers Ferguson, Canavan and George McKay entered the house of John W. Wentworth on Willard street, near the Braintree line. They found three men all the worse for liquor and a woman who said Mr. and Mrs. Wentworth had gone to a christening. This made no Executive Committee,-Edward Lawton, difference to the officers, who read the Michael Burns, Michael Daley. Patrick warrant and then searched the house with the result noted above.

The lifeboats, after a few trial trips from the shore to the St. Paul, made arrangements to transfer the mails and passengers to some of the steam tugs which lay around, and the mails were the first to be tackled.

It was the general impression that the steerage passengers would not be taken off, as the wrecking companies intended hastened to take off the steerage people. To their credit be it said that they offered less resistance to their deliverers than did poorer passengers were by far the plucklest, as they all came down the gangway and jumped into the boats with astonishing bravery. All the passengers were taken off the steamer before 4:30. Captain Wardell of the West End Lifesaving station said that he was pretty sure that the steamer would remain in her present position for many days to come. "As long as the wind is off shore," said he, "she is all right, but if a gale strikes her in the opposite direction I have grave fears that she will succumb to its influence, like of it yesterday, and the side plates of the steamer were touched and scrutinized by hundreds of people who probably would not know whether a plate was sprung or not. They examined every foot of her sides, however, and after gazing at the powerful hawsers which were stretched from her bow to the working tugs, they came back to the shore self-satisfied that they had seen something which they might never have a chance of witnessing again in a lifetime.

The fact that the ship Fola of London, bound from New York to Calcutta, had sunk late Saturday night, and one of her lifeboats coming ashore off West End yesterday morning, added considerably to the interest manifested by the visitors as to the safety of the St. Paul. The press representatives were not allowed on board the St. Paul, but one of their number managed to elude the watchful officers at the gangway, and suc-ceeded in making his way to the captain's cabin yesterday afternoon. Captain Jamieson, he said, looked rather blue when he spoke to him. In response to the representative's inquiries, he said: "It is not the truth that any of the plates are sprung, and the vessel is all right. There is no sign of leaking. The Chapman and Merritt people who are in charge of the bringing off of the ship are sanguine of success, and I feel confident she will move off very soon, perhaps after a couple of tides."

There is no mistaking the place which Mr. Keith has made for his vauderville entertainment in the amusement world; it is a sort of midway between drama and concert or opera, a strictly pure and clean form of amusement to which no one can object. Two of the funniest comedians on the variety stage, J. W. Kelly and Press are always to be depended on to recite laughable stories and sing interesting topical songs. Corty Brothers who have never been in Boston before, and are said by the metropolitan newspapers to be the greatest knockabout comedians who have ever come to America, will will make their quired properties of ether, chloroform, debut in their comic horizontal bar act; nitrous oxide gas, it lacks the disagreeable ever come to America, will will make their Fanny Leslie, a graceful contortionist, dertainly a boon to suffering humanity to be Harry Lemore, comedy slack wire per-relieved of the nausea too often following former; the three Wright Sisters, singers and dancers; Flo. ## GOVERNOR OUT OF IT.

Won't Mix Up In Granite State Provident Association Case.

Their Report Will Have Something to Say About the Agency Company.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 27.-William Mo-Comb of the Central City Building Loan association of Syracuse, with Counsel Charles L. Griffin of the firm of Morse & Griffin, Wall street, New York, have been in conference with Percival L. Stewart, vice president of the Granite State Provi dent association at Manchester, in regard to taking the management of the latter

They called on Governor Busiel for the purpose of obtaining his views in regard to such an arrangement. They were informed that the governor could be of no service to them and that the company must assume all responsibility in the event of a change. The matter is in the hands of the bank commissioners, who have full power to act, they having been instructed to make an examination of the association and to investigate what right they have under the charter and the different contracts which are used by shareholders in becoming members of the institution also to investigate the agency company in the Granite State Provident association. The attorney general will render then any aid necessary in all matters that he may be questioned during the investigation. Any matters he may not be able to give an opinion on he will be asked to Take Them to the Supreme Court for interpretation. After examination a full report will be made to the governor by the bank commissioners. The report will contain the findings of the condition of the association, and the names of the agency company who guar ranteed for a fixed sum, set aside from the money paid shareholders, or the names of persons who hold the stock representing the agency company in the Granite State association at the present time.

It is believed that the agency company does not exist, but has sold its interest to the Granite association for $100,000, for which special stock has been issued and received by members of the agency company, the income being set aside from shareholders that the agency company received before the sale to the Granite asso

Whatever profits were made by the agency company while it existed are now being drawn as dividends on the special stock, which is practically the same thing in another form. After the report of the bank commissioners is received and examined by the governor, if any action is necessary, its course will be determined upon. Colonel S. S. Jewett of Laconia has been employed by the Granite State association.

At a Ripe Old Age.

NORTHFIELD, Mass., Jan. 27. - Mrs. Betsy Holton Moody, mother of Dwight Lyman Moody, the famous Evangelist, died yesterday morning at her home, aged 90. About a week ago she contracted a slight cold, but was about the house until Saturday morning, when she was compelled to remain in bed. She failed rapidly from then until her death. Mrs. Moody was a strong woman of Puritanical ancestry. When her son Dwight was 4 years old, she was left a widow, with a Just Look at the Bargains. family of nine small children. For many years she had a hard struggle with poverty to give her children an education. Of late years, however, her life had been one of peace and plenty. Mrs. Moody is survived by four sons and two daughters.

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 27. - Lawrence C. Keegan, who was last week sentenced for the murder of Mrs. Emily Chambers, and had previously stated he had never known Mrs. Chambers nor Mrs. Laird, whom, it is claimed, he attempted to murder a few days before the disappearance of Mrs. Chambers, now states that he knew Mrs. Chambers and was with her the day be-fore she disappeared. He also acknowl-edged that he went on the Fall River boat with Mrs. Laird, as she testified, but claims he was hired by her husband, the plan being to "ship her out of the country" on a sailing vessel from Fall River. This testimony, damaging to the appeal for a new trial, has been submitted to the attorney general.

Who Will Profit?

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 27.—Proceedings will be begun early this week in the legislatures of Rhode Island and Massachusetts for the annexation of a part of Massachusetts to Rhode Island. The petition and plans are completed, and ask for the annexation to Rhode Island of land from where Mendon road crosses the state line, along Mendon road to Polly Pop, in the town of Cumberland. This territory includes three villages, and is to be included in the town of Cumberland. The object of the proposed annexation is to secure the advantages of the schools, police, light and highway service of the nearer Rhode Island city. Massachusetts may be compensated by the annexation of a portion of Five Italians.

Boston, Jan. 28 .- An unprovoked assault, which will probably result fatally, occurred at the North End last night. The victim, Michael De Costa, is a Frenchman, is 32 years of age and belongs in Braintree. With a fellow countryman, bers or weakened by starvation. He also William Levange, De Costa left Braintree yesterday afternoon to visit friends in East Boston. When coming back across the North ferry last evening the two delayed for consideration. Frenchmen were enjoying themselves, Italians came upon them.

De Costa and Levange had a rew words with them as the party left the boat. On nearing the corner of Atlantic avenue and Battery street one of the Italians profanely asked De Costa what the matter was with him, and the latter quietly said

He thought that De Costa's chances for recovery were pretty slim. Powerful restoratives were applied and stimulants were given to the wounded man, for the purpose of bracing him up for the ride to the Massachusetts general hospital, whither he was removed. In the meantime Lieu tenant Ritter had been examining Levange and obtained from him an account of the trouble as stated above and a description of the Italian who committed the assault.

This description was telephoned to every officer on duty on the division, as well as to the other stations. Half a dozen suspects were brought in, one at a time, and were held for examination. Up to the time of writing, however, the man who did the cutting had not been found.

TIME AND again in recent years Quincy has been reminded that it needed a Board of Trade. The want is about to be fulfilled, as this evening prominent citizens of adopted officers will be chosen, and the Quincy Board of Trade will be ready for business. Our new Mayor is prominently identified with the movement, and the list of incorporators includes many of our prominent and successful business men and progressive citizens. The objects will be to promote the public welfare of the city and develope enterprises. As the parkway petition is before the legislature, a regular or special committee should be urged to cooperate with others in securing its passage. Monthly meetings of the board of directors will probably be held, and we predict that the doings will be watched with interest by the citizens generally. The hour of meeting will be

Ladies Prominent in Society Present from Boston and Elswhere.

Monday afternoon about seventy-five ladies of Quincy, in response to invitations sent out by Miss Annie L. Prescott, to meet the Regents of the Daughters of the Revolution of the State, met at her home 13 Spear street, from three to five.

In the receiving party were Mrs. Nelson V. Titus, Mrs. George F. Daniels, State secretary and also acting Regent; Mrs. John W. Perkins, regent of North Bridge the city will meet in the Durgin and Merrill block for the purpose of completing

How the Spaniards Propose to End the Cuban Revolution.

Pinar Del Rio Completely Covered by Insurgents.

Different Bands Form a Junction Without Interference by Troops.

HABANA, Jan. 28.-General Canella has arrived here for a conference, and Generals Marin and Canella will shortly begin operations against the insurgents. The Spaniards are about to inaugurate guerilla warfare against the patriots, and officers are now said to be in San Domingo forming a band of bandits and murderers. The bandits are officred $1 a day and what they can obtain by theft and

The general impression here is that General Wevler will be the last Spanish governor of Cuba. A revolution is looked for here daily.

Communication with Pinar del Rio is still very much interrupted, but reports received by courier show that the insurgents there, under Antonio Maceo, are displaying great activity, and much damage, despite the reports disseminated here that he was being closely instead here that he was being closely troops, and was pressed by the Spanish troops, and was anxious to escape into Habana as best he Maceo and his men in the extreme western portion of Pin del Rio, according to the latest accounts. The volunteer troops at Paso Real and Guanes report that large numbers of insurgents have been passing those points in the direction of the city of Pinar del Rio, and that they have formed a junction with Maceo, whose following was about 4000.

Ammunition Seized. At Mantua the insurgents learned from confidential sources of the whereabouts of large stores of ammunition, which were all captured. At Santa Isabel, on the western coast of Cuba, the stores were plundered, and at Santa Marta the same was done. Those who are fleeing before the advance of the insurgents can go no further west on land, and at Arroyos de Mantua they have boarded the pilot boats Guanera, Lince, Nueva Holanda and Khivas for Maceo has now scoured the province of Pinar del Rio as far west as the seacoast, and it remains to be seen whether the claim of the authorities can be made goodthat he will not be allowed to return to the eastward or to rejoin his forces with those of Gomez.

General Canella has arrived here for a conference, and Generals Marin and Canalla will shortly begin operations against the insurgents.

The insurgents have made an attack on the station at Guira Macurijes, in Matanzas province, but it is reported that they were repulsed.

It is learned that the coffee crop is being gathered in the province of Santiago de Cuba. The sugar crop up to this time at Guantanamo, in the province of Santiago de Cuba, is stated to be 3700 tons. The French government has made a aim upon the Cuban authorities that the insurgent leader Laine, who is now being tried by a military court, is entitled to a trial in a civil court, and France cites the treaty in support of this representa-

Caine's Serious View.

LONDON, Jan. 28.-H. Rider Haggard presided last evening at the meeting of the Society of Authors, to which Hall Caine read his report upon his mission to Can-ada. Mr. Caine took the ground that the Canadian copyright question was more iable to breed a serious international and colonial dispute than anything in the Venezuelan or Transvaal question. Mr. Haggard, speaking on the report, said that it was ridiculous to suppose that any Destination Kept Secret.

NORFOLK, Jan. 28 .- The cruiser Montgomery, of Admiral Bunce's fleet, lying in Hampton roads, passed out of the capes, BREWER'S CORNER,-Mr. Prout's closely followed by the Raleigh. The destination of the warships is unknown, but it is surmised that the purpose of the navy department is to use the Mont-gomery and the Raleigh to lie in waiting off the Virginia capes to pick up the Hawkins, with the party of alleged filibusters under Garcia, and place the ship under detention and the party under arrest for violation of the neutrality laws.

Bella's Accuser Weakens. BROOKLYN, Jan. 28.-The case of Bella Clinton of Athol, Mass., charged by Professor Durege, the music teacher, with forgery, was called for final disposition vesterday before Justice Walsh. Durege begged District Attorney Backus to allow him to withdraw the charge, but the district attorney refused to do so. Later in the day Durege was arrested and held for trial, charged with aiding, advising and abetting a criminal surgical operation.

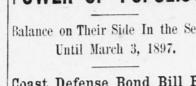

Five Days For Throwing Eggs. NEW YORK, Jan. 28.-Louis Silverman, who threw rotten eggs at Herr Ahlwardt on the occasion of the latter's reception in Cooper Union on Dec. 12 last, was yesterday fined $25 or five days in the city prison. Justice Jerome, in imposing sentence, said that the court was not in sympathy with Ahlwardt's views, and only for the character of the complainant he would have sent Silverman to prison.

Balance on Their Side In the Senate

Armenian Resolution Adopted by the House Without Amendment.

ook the oath of office in the senate yester- | miles deep. day, the former drawing the term ending March 3, 1899, and the latter the term end-

With the exception of the contested Delaware case, this establishes the politi-cal division of the upper branch of congress until March 4, 1897, as follows: Republicans, 44; Democrats, 39; Populists, 6. Total, 89. Necessary for majority, 45. Should Mr. Dupont be seated from Delaware, the Republican vote would be increased to 45, but at the same time the number necessary for a majority would be increased to 46. Aside from this event, the session was given to further speeches on the silver bond bill. Mr. Lodge offered an amendnent to the silver bond bill providing for bond issue of $100,000,000, the proceeds o be used for coast defenses. It reads as

The secretary of the treasury is hereby authorized and directed to issue bonds to a total amount $100,000,000 at such times and in such amounts as may be required to carry out the purpose of this section as hereinafter de-scribed. Said bonds shall be payable in coin years from the date of their issue. They hall be offered at par to the people of the United States in denominations ranging from 50 to $1000, and shall bear interest at the rate of 3 per cent per annum.

The subscriptions to the loan, or such portion of it as may then be required, shall be opened July 1, 1896, and at such subsequent dates as the secretary of the treasury may determine, at all sub-treasuries of the United States and all national banks, and the sub-scribers shall have the right to pay for the bonds in lawful money of the United States. The sum of $3,000,000 shall be annually set aside from the revenue of the government as a sinking fund to pay the bonds under this act at maturity, and the $3,000,000 thus annually appropriated shall take precedence of all other appropriations, except those for the sinking fund, now established by law, and for the payment of the principal and interest of the pub

The bonds authorized by this act shall con stitute a loan to be known as the "coast de-fense loan," and the proceeds of said bonds shall be kept in the treasury as a fund apart, and shall be used only for providing for the efence of the seacoasts and lakes of the United States and for the manufacture of guns, the purchase of sites and the erection of forts and batteries for that purpose in accordance with plans prepared by the war department as authorized by law now or hereafter passed by congress to provide for coast de-

Reform Demanded.

The house, after an interesting fournour debate, adopted the resolutions passed by the senate last week, calling on the powers, signatory to the treaty of Berin, to enforce the reforms in Turkey guaranteed to the Christian Armenians, and pledging the support of congress to the president in the most vigorous action he might take for the protection and security of American citizens in Turkey. The house committee had prepared some resolutions on the same subject, but it was deemed advisable, after the senate resolutions reached the house, to substitute them for those prepared by the committee. Mr. Quigg (N. Y.), who had charge of the bill, made an able presentation of the case, but there was a disposition on the part of some members to go farther than the resolutions did, and Mr. Hepbarn (Ia.) proposed to give the Turkish minister his passports and sever all diplomatic relations with Turkey. His remarks denouncing the Turkish outrages, and charging that the powers, signatory to the treaty of Berlin, were actuated from political and other considerations in maintaining the "balance ceived with great enthusiasm, and at one time it looked as if the house might be carried to his way of thinking. -But the counsel of Mr. Hitt, not to take rash action, in the course of which he pointed out the dire consequences that might result from severance of diplomatic relations with a friendly power that had fulfilled her treaty obligations to us, prevailed, and the Hepburn proposition was overwhelmingly defeated. Mr. Bailey opposed the resolutions on the ground that it would be improper for us to "insult" the parties to the treaty of Berlin by intimating that they had not carried out their obligations. Mr. Turner (Ga.) took a similar view, and Mr. Grosvenor (O.) characterized the resolutions as incomplete and unworthy, and requested the committee to withdraw them. They were finally passed by a vote of 143 to 26, after a motion of Mr. Bailey to send them to the committee had been defeated 55 to Platt Claims to Be Loyal. NEW YORK, Jan. 28 .- A long statement from Thomas C. Platt was made public yesterday, in which he expressed his keen sorrow over the existence of the factional fight in the ranks of the Republicans of this city. He disavowed responsibility for the recent fraudulent enrolment, which, he said, was due to the anti-Ptatt faction. Incidentally, Platt tried to make it clear that he is supporting Governor Morton for Republican nominee for president with singleness of purpose. He was grieved over the suggestion of treachery in his support of the governor, and said he did not want to take the delegation to St. Louis in his pocket.

Death of Recent Resident.

The sad intelligence was received in Quincy Tuesday evening of the death in New Orleans, Jan. 18, of Mr. W. Sinclair Kirk after a brief illness. Mr. Kirk was well known in Quincy where he resided for two years previous to last October. Mr. Kirk came to America in 1883, and settled in Indianapolis, where he remained McInytre, under the firm name McIntyre & the workmanship perfect. Kirk, boat builders.

During Mr. Kirk's stay in Quincy he esided at The Greenleaf, and after the lissolution of the firm, he continued to reside here until last October when he went to New Orleans, where he was engaged at Port Chalmette ship channel. On Jan. 11, he unfortunately took cold, which arned into pleurisy, and he was removed the hospital, where his disease developed nto pneumonia, from which he died as noted above, on Jan. 18, at the age of 33

During Mr. Kirk's stay in Quincy, he ecame very popular in social circles and e was a member of the Wollaston golf

He was buried at New Orleans.

Mr. Dozier Transferred.

It is always pleasant to see faithful service rewarded, and while the Quincy telephone exchange has lost an obliging and faithful manager in Mr. J. E. Dozier, of Essex that allowance may be made for certain expenses in his office; also a bill providing that payment for assistant registers whose salaries are not fixed by law, and for clerical **ssistance* in Registrars of Deeds, Dozier has been in Quincy a little over a year, and by his able management coupled with the valuable assistance he has had from the inspector and the two obliging young ladies in the operating department, the Quincy exchange has been brought up to a high standard of excellence. At Lynn, Mr. Dozier has a large exchange having under his charge nine operators, three inspectors and about 700 subscribers.

Reports of Awful Doings in Armenia Verified by Sassoun Commission.

British Delegate Thinks Matters Painted Blacker Than Need Be.

LONDON, Jan. 29 .- The editorials in the morning papers upon the Armenian Blue Book mostly comment on the fact that they only picture the overture to a long tale of massacre, and that the careful re port of the delegates has justified every denunciation yet published of the sultan The Blue Book contains all the official dispatches relative to Armenian troubles between July 24, 1894, and Oct. 16, 1895, and the reports of the consular delegate

Orders may be left at Loring's Apothecary attached to the Sassoun commission. The report gives the history of the Ar menian agitation for several years and records the obstacles thrown in the way of the commission by the Turkish dele gates. It also acquits the Armenians of he charge brought against them of burning their own property to incite an out break among their people, adding that the facts elicited failed to prove that the Armenians were in revolt, but show tha the agitator Murad instigated several Ar menian outrages on Kurds. The latter then retaliated.

The delegates are compelled to believe the report says, that all the Armenian who fell into the hands of the soldiers, the Kurds or the Zaptieh's, were either killed or wounded, and that with the exception of the 11 villagers of Talori not a single prisoner was taken. The report shows that the number of killed has been grossly exaggerated, bu admits that owing to the absence of regis tration it is impossible even approximately o fix the number of victims. There is ap ended, however, to the report a tabulate ist of all the evidence tendered to the

The six villages mentioned show a total of 265 victims, distributed as follows Shenik, 114; Semal, 65; Ghelleguzan, the scene of the story of the great pit, which was filled to overflowing with massacre victims, 40; Agpi, 22; Spagank, 10; Talori 14. These villages were all burned, and The Inhabitants Were Scattered.

The British delegate, Shipley, in a nemorandum attached to the joint report, from the evidence gathered by Con sul Hampson during his tour, estimate the total number of victims in the Sas soun district, including deaths from starvation, at about 900. One of the worst cases of cold-blooded cruelty, Delegate Shipley says, was the murder of prisoners in the camp at Ghelleguzan, under a promise of a safe conduct. But the number of those so murdered was only 40 or 50, and not hundreds, as has been

Delegate Shipley, while he admits tha there was violation of women, asserts that the alleged wholesale butchery of women was not confirmed. He points out that while an agitation subversive of Ottoman authority had existed among the Armenians in Turkey and abroad, and had ex asperated the Turkish government, must be admitted that the governmen had failed in its duty of affording protec tion to all classes of its subjects. He complains of the concoction and suppres sion of evidence before the commission b Turkish officials as not calculated to advance the interests of the truth. Armenians were hunted like wild beasts, 23 Adams Building, Quincy. and if the slaughter was not greater it was solely owing to the vastness of the mountain ranges, which facilitated the escape of the Armenians. He was con vinced that the Turks aimed at the complete extermination of the Armenians in the Ghelleguzan and Talori districts.

The report of the consular delegate records that the protests made by the dele gates against the intimidation of wit nseses and the suborning of evidence by government agents, and their attempts to remedy this state of things were always fruitless, so that the elucidation of the truth was very difficult. Especially on the question of the viola-tion of women did the commission display the greatest repugnance at discovering the truth. Only four female witnesses were heard, the commission refusing to hear others. For a similar reason the details of the Ghelleguzan massacre are still Wrapped In Obscurity. The memorandum of the British delegate, Shipley, which has been quoted above, is a most interesting document and is couched in less severe official form than the delegates' report. Consul Hampson, who made a tour of the villages, puts the number of victims at 20 to 60 to a village. Mr. Shipley therefore thinks it fair to estimate 40 dead for each of the 23 vil lages destroyed.

He was unable to gather any evidence as to the truth of the alleged massacre at the convent of Surpmerapa, but he thinks that all such stories were enormously exaggerated, if not absolutely invented. He says that the story of the torture of the priest Ohannes at Ghelleguzan seems to have some foundation, but the alleged flaying of the Armenian Shero by Colonel Tewfik is extremely doubtful.

Without desiring to appear partial to the Armenians, Shipley emphasizes the fact that they were exposed to the rapacity of government officials and to the exactions of the Kurds, who would have burned their houses and stolen their cattle unless they had paid their demands. It is easy to understand, Shipley continues that the Armenians could not pay taxes and satisfy the Kurds, and as the government did nothing to keep the Kurds in order, one cannot be surprised that the Armenians were discontented.

Consul Hampson also attached a report of the inadequacy of and the obstacles to the distribution of relief. Among the official dispatches is one from C. M. H. Ward, the British vice consul at Van, written in November, 1894, which describes a horrible butchery by the Kurds of Sassoun, when men were burned alive, a Ghelleguzan priest was tossed on bayonets and 60 girls were driven to a church, and the soldiers then ordered to dispose of them as they liked and then massacre them. Shipley doubts this story. Permanent Tribunal Impossible.

LONDON, Jan. 29.-Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, speaking at Leeds last night, said there was good reason to expect a friendly arrangement of the Venezuelan affair, but he considered a permanent arbitration to arbitration.

IN A JEALOUS RAGE.

John Poulin Fired Four Shots at His Wife, All Taking Effect,

Their Two Little Children Witnessed the Deed.

Husband Killed Himself, While the Woman's Life Hangs by a Thread.

Boston, Jan. 29.-John Poulin, aged 42, attempted to murder his wife last night Fargo company several months ago. His be increased every pound the cables can at their home in Edgerly place, and then shot himself, dying almost instantly. Poulin was jealous of his wife He fired four shots at her, taking effect in the neck, the left arm and in each side, then turned and shot himself in the mouth. His wife was taken to the city hospital and will probably live.

Poulin left the house to get a can of beer, and after some time returned. The appearance of the bedroom made him suspicious, and he at once accused his wife of being untrue. Then, without giving her time to reply, he drew his revolver and fired four shots at her, the whole four taking effect. The first shot entered her left side immediately below the breast, another in her arm, another in her back and the last in Important Question Easily Answered. the back of the head.

As soon as he thought that he had killed her he placed the revolver in his mouth and fired, nearly blowing the top of his head off.

The Poulins lived on the second floor of the tenement, and the shooting took place in the kitchen. Their little children Pierre and Marie, were overwhelmed with sorrow and fear. Pierre is 11 and Marie 13. They say that their mother went to the door to greet the husband and father, and he roughly brushed her aside. Almost immediately he fired the shots. Extremely Jealous.

The other dwellers in the flat say that Poulin had probably been told some story by someone on the street, or else had been taunted with his wife's unfaithfulness by someone whom he had met. One man said last night that Poulin often told him to watch his wife, and said that he had re ceived an anonymous letter which told him some things that had made him sus-

The little children managed to tell last night that their father and mother only a few months ago came to this city from Montreal. He was employed as a janitor in some large building in the city. Both he and his wife were French Canadians. Dr. Williams, who was called in to at tend the woman, said last night that there was no possibility of the woman's re covery. She is now in the Boston city Will tap and heel any pair of shoes in 15 hospital. Poulin was 42 years of age, and his wife was one year older. The neigbors say that he was of a jealous, passionate nature and the scenes between the two when he would be drinking, as was the case last night, would be terrible. He often was heard to threaten to take her life, and always carried a revolver.

He often told the other inmates of the house that sometime his wife would regret her unfaithfulness to him. He was suspicious of any attentions paid to his wife, and when Piene LeBlane called upon his wife he became almost insane LeBlane was the man whom he suspected of being in the rooms during his absence last night.

Must Pay the Penalty.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Jan. 29.—In the superior court yesterday F. A. Hobbs retracted his former plea of not guilty to the indictment for embezzlement from the Stockbridge Savings bank, and entered plea of "guilty." Judge Fessenden sentenced him to serve a minimum sentence of six years or a maximum of 10 years. The embezzlement occurred several years ago. PROVIDENCE, Jan. 29.-The legislature passed a resolution yesterday calling upon the Rhode Island congressmen to petition for an appropriation of $100,000 to build a deep channel into Great Pond harbor, at Block island. Nearly $150,000 has already been expended in dredging the harbor and the resolution holds that the comple tion of the work will prove an important factor in the defense of the southern New England coast.

Shots Fired In Darkness. Boston, Jan. 29. - Excitement was caused in the Nickelodeon last night by the report of five pistol shots while the house was in darkness. The audience were thrown into disorder, and from the cries of murder that were heard came the cry of a wounded man, who proved to be John T. Allison, wounded in the leg. Robert Ford, a negro, 20 years old, was arrested, charged with firing the shots.

Cambridge Firebugs Busy. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 29.—This city had another scare last night following the general alarm for a fire in the burned district. Although burning two hours, it was controlled without the anticipated heavy loss. Sheds of William H. Wood & Co. were burned. Three firemen were injured, but none fatally. The fire was probably incendiary, and the loss of $17, 000 is covered by insurance.

Wason Ousted.

NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 29.-The city government last night held a sensational meeting, during which City Solicitor Wason was removed from office, although his party, Republican, has an overwhelmingly majority. The opposition to Wason was the claim that he held too many offices. His resignation as a member of the board of education was ignored, the office being declared vacant.

In a Bad Box.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Jan. 29.-John C. Cartlidge was placed under arrest last night on charges of making and passing a worthless note for $70, and 20 or 30 breaks at Cottage City last fall. On searching his house, much silver, bric-a-brac, table linen, etc., were found, which is believed 25 School St. to have been stolen.

Time For a Change,

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.-Major General Miles appeared before the committee on coast defenses yesterday, and made a statement of the coast defenses. He stated that the guns now mounted at most ports are smooth bores of obsoletpatterns and useless, and are mounted on rotten carriages. The only places where provision has been made for any considerable defense are New York, San Francisco and Boston, and defenses at thes ficient. He estimated the entire cost of defenses for adequate protection of the country at about $80,000,000 for fortifications and guns. This would not include the cost of ammunition and projectiles.

Fatal Stabbing Affray.

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 29.—George Hull and Thomas Moore, both colored, had a disagreement several months ago. Hull had made repeated threats to take Moore's life. ### Funeral of Miss Webster.

The funeral of the late Miss Mary A. Webster, who died on Monday last at her home in Atlantic, was held from the Methodist church, Atlantic, on Wednesday afternoon at 2 30 o'clock. The church was filled to over-flowing and flowers were in great abundance. Rev. Geo. B. Shanor, the pastor, conducted the services, speaking from the text, Rev. 21:25, "There shall be no night there." The quartette of the church sung, and Mr. Justin Hill presided at the organ. The Sunday school attended in a body. The pall bearers were by request of Miss Webster's mother selected from the Epworth League, and were Messrs. John Ramsdell, Herbert Cassidy, Nathaniel Pember, Emelio Paul, Henry Included in this sale. No duplicates. First Mitchell and Winifred Fearebay. Herbert Moxon and Warren Nelson acted as ushers.

The flowers were most beautiful and were contributed by many friends, Miss Burr sent a floral harp with "May" on the base, which was very handsome, also the Maltese Cross from the Epworth league, and a wreath on a standard from the Sunday School, and a piece made up of sixty carnations from the school in Natick where Miss Webster taught up to the time of her sickness, were very beautiful. There were many others. The interment was at Mount Wollaston Cemetery.

Helen Pratt Thompson.

The sudden death of Nellie Thompson, as she was familiarly known, on Tuesday, was a sad blow to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Thompson, and to her grandparents, neighbors and little friends. Her case was malignant from the start and her parents feel that everything possible was done for her. Dr. F. S. Davis was very devoted, and also called in Dr. R. S Thurston and Dr. S. A. Kimball, two of Boston's eminent physicians. Little Nellie was in her eleventh year, a pupil of the Coddington school and of the Sunday School of the First church. A private funeral was held on Wednesday, the services being conducted by Rev. E. C. Butler. The interment was at Mount Wollaston.

Gomez's Death Rumored.

HABANA, Jan. 30 .- There is a rumor here that Maximo Gomez has died as a result of his sickness. The friends of the inand there is no confirmation of the report It probably owes its origin to the fact that the insurgents tried to buy a coffin at San Antonio de los Banos, and the conclusion that it was intended for the burial of the leader of the Cuban insurgents was jumped at. An engagement of some importance has undoubtedly taken place between Gomez's forces and the pursuing columns of the Spaniards at the plantation of San Lucia. The official report makes no statement of the result of the fight beyond asserting that the insurgents lost 21 killed and 90 wounded. The Span-

BURNS ANNIVERSARY.

Clan McGregor Celebrate with Entertainment and Dance.

In accordance with the time honored served the 137th anniversary of Robert Burns by a gathering at Doble's hall Wednesday evening which was one of the largest gatherings of this kind ever held and, withal, it was one of the most enjoyable gatherings, as every minute of the time between early evening and early morning was brimful of pleasure.

The first part of the evening was devoted to an interesting entertainment, which was presided over by Thomas Johnson. The first number on the programme was an address by Peter Kerr, Royal Secretary of the Scottish Clans. Mr. Kerr spoke at length on the life and character of Burns, and upon the aims and objects of the Order of Scottish Clans. Mr. Kerr is a powerful speaker and his remarks were received with much applause.

When love knocks at a wo-man's heart he usually comes in disguise. Doesn't want it known what he's up to.

If she knew all about the little rascal, would she let him in? That's a question.

Women are apt to look upon love and marriage as purely a matter of sentiment and affection. That is pretty nearly right; yet there is a practical side to it too; and the best way to preserve the ideal aspect of marriage and maternity is not to forget the practical part of it. A woman cannot be a thoroughly happy wife and mother unless the distinctive physical organism of her sex is in a healthy and vigorous condi-tion. The best friend that wo-tion. The best friend that woman ever had is the "Favorite Prescription," of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Chief Consulting Physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. The "Prescription," is a perfect and infallible remedy for every form of "female weakness." It cures by restoring health and strength to the internal organism, which cannot be reached by "local applications;" thus the cure is radical, complete and constitutional.

Dr. Pierce's eminent reputation as a physician of wide learning; and his special cal, complete and constitutional.

Dr. Pierce's eminent reputation as a physician of wide learning; and his special knowledge of the delicate and intricate organism of women, accounts for the unparalleled confidence, which women place in his "Favorite Prescription," over every other remedy. Its use obviates the necessity of dreaded "examinations" and the stereotyped "local treatments."

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Dear Sir :—I suffered fourteen years with female weakness, nervousness, and general debility, trying everything I could find to help me—all to no avail. I then heard of Dr. Pierce's medicines and although I was thoroughly discouraged, I thought I would try once more to find relief. I took your "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription," and too great praise cannot be given for the rapid relief they gave me. I am now free from the former troubles.

Cubans Should Be Recognized as Belligerents, Says Cameron.

Tillman Gives His First Show In the Senate.

Abuses the Administration Generally, With an Extra Dose For the President.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 80 .- Referring to the nsurrection in Cuba soon after the close of our civil war, Senator Cameron says: "It is said that early in the year 1869 a proclamation was actually signed by President Grant, recognizing the Cubans as belligerents, although the fact was known to very few persons. This proclamation was not promulgated, owing to the opposition of Secretary Fish."

The senator also quoted at some length from the message of President Grant in 1869, in which the president predicted that in due time Spain must find it to her interest to establish the independence of her dependent. He referred to the diplomatic efforts made at that time by this government to secure Cuban independence, which was to be on the following basis:

1-Independence of Cuba to be acknowledged by Spain.
2—Cuba to pay Spain for the relinquish ment of her rights.

3-The abolition of slavery. Our government was to guarantee the payment of the indemnity. Mr. Cameron attributes the fact that our government failed at that time to recognize the belligerency of the Cubans to the promises (Mrs.) Mary. f. Stewart.

Box 46, Saratoga, Santa Clara Co., Cal was irritated by the operations of the Cuban junta in this country, which at times infringed out neutrality laws.

We also at that time had troubles of our own in the south. The action of our government was, he says, in striking contrast to that of Spain in recognizing the Confederates as belligerents. Mr. Cameron also refers to other revolutions during which our government was on the point of intervening.

"The nicest sense of international requirements," he says, "cannot fail to perceive that provocation from Spain was overlooked by our government for a longer period and with greater patience than any other government of equal power would have tolerated."

After quoting at length the report made by General Campos in 1879, Mr. Cameron says: "The highest Spanish authorities have been obliged to confess that the grievances of the Cubans are just and their aspirations for liberty legitimate.' He says the Spanish government in Cuba is an armed monarchy. "The danger and the scandal of the Cuban situation," he 6.00 the scandal of the Cuban situation," he says, "have been such as can be compared situation, but the condition of Assistance of the says, the scandilion of Assistance of the says of with nothing but the condition of Armenia.' He asserts that a state of war exists and that with that alone we have to deal. "The precedents for recognition are," he says, "clear, and if our action were to be decided by precedent alone we should not be able to hesitate." He asserts that the insurgents have made a record which entitles them to recognition, and adds: 5.50 "If the government of the United States still refrains from recognizing the belligerency of the insurgents after this conclusive proof of the fact, the reason, doubtless, was that, in the absence of legal complications, the question becomes wholly political, and that its true solution must lie not in recognition of bellig-erency, but in a recognition of independ-

on Cuba and a highly dramatic and sen-sational speech from Mr. Tillman, the new senator from South Carolina, furnished two stirring events in the senate. The majority resolution on Cuba asks the president to urge. Spain to grant belligerent rights to the insurgents, while the minority report directs the president to take steps toward securing from Spain the complete independence of Cuba. Both | Hat and Gen's' Furnishing Departments, resolutions went to the senate calendar. Such a torrent of invective has seldom been heard in the senate as that in the speech of Mr. Tillman. Veteran memas one of the most remarkable in the history of the upper branch of congress. It character, arraigning President Cleve-land, Secretary Carlisle and other men in bers of the body characterized the speech abounded in statements of sensational high places. There was a directness of statement and a dramatic manner of delivery which awed floor and galleries.

Senator Tillman began his first speech at 2 p. m., and from the start made it evident that he is the star comedian of the southern combination. His first act was to move all his notes and papers down from his seat at the rear of the chamber to a desk in the front near the center, so that the reporters could hear better. He then took seven minutes by the clock to explain how he came to violate an unwritten law of the senate, and take an active part in debate in the first session of his senatorial services.

He closed this introduction by commenting on the presence of the curious and amused group of his fellow-senators who were gathered around him. "Thank you, gentlemen," said he, "for coming here to listen to me," and then he paused a moment while they smiled broadly and the galleries giggled. At 2:20 he begun his formal speech.

The gestures of the senator were used frequently in acting his words. At one point he made a profound salute at tipped his hat to Sherman as the financial victor of a quarter of a century. Te galleries were moved alternately to applause and laughter. Pausing for a sip of water, amid rounds of laughter, he remarked: "I seldom wet my whistle while I speak; still you can't run a windmill on water." The next moment there was a hush through the chamber as the senato applied such names as "Judas" to a member of the cabinet, or characterized the president in bitter terms.

At times the senator's voice sank to a whisper, as, for instance, when he gave warning of the approach of a popular revolution and communism and the marching on Washington of a host with rifles in their hands. Again his voice resounded through the chamber and the outer corridors as he called senators and members

"Cowards" for not respecting to impeach-

During Mr. Tillman's severe criticism of the president, he put senstors and gal-leries in roars of laughter by telling how, as governor of South Carolina, he had come here to inaugurate the president; had stood four hours out in the snow and sleet until he was nearly frozen to death, to do honor to the president. "And," concluded the senator, "I ask God to forgive me for doing it."

At one point, after bitterly arraigning the president, the senator addressed himself to the Republican side of the senate, and exclaimed: "Thy have you not impeached him? You have the majority to Mr. Hawley interrupted with the query

"Why didn't the last congress do this?" "He is not impeached," continued the senator, "because he is carrying out your Republican policy. The last congress was no better than this." Mr. Tillman closed with a vivid and threatening picture of the advance of a popular revolution if the evils he had depicted were not remedied.

Mr. Jones (Dem., Ark.) gave further notice of a test of endurance, if necessary, to secure a vote on the bond bill. General Popular Opinion at Salem Appears to Be Against Him.

Boston, Jan. 31.—Under the new parole law the prison commissioners voted yesterday to release on parole George B. Ives of Salem, ex-assistant district attorney of Essex county. He was sentenced May 12, 1890, to 81/2 years in state prison for forgery and embezzlement.

even though it is not a full pardon. Several intimate friends of Ives were seen, but they did not know what he proposed to do, and did not think he had any plans whatever.

It was generally understood that he came to Salem some time yesterday afternoon and was housed with his family and a few friends, but he had not arrived there at 9 p. m. Mrs. Ives and the children have been living in Federal court lately, and it is understood that Mr. Ives will remain there for the present.

Something of the popular sentiment may be gathered from the following from The Evening News of Wednesday of this Apropos of the report that attempts are again making to secure the release of George B. Ives from the state prison, the papers which comment upon the pardon seeking movement are not a whit more in favor of the plan than they were on the occasion of the former attempt.

Stolen Watch Recovered.

Wednesday evening a few of the winter esidents of Hough's Neck gathered at one cess in ever way, and one that will go down f the houses for a social chat. Among the party were Barton B. Derry and Peleg | piece to any of its previous gatherings of a O'Leoned. In Derry's vest pocket there reposed a $65 gold timepiece, and in O'Leoned's mind there reposed an idea to posses that timepiece.

During the evening Mr. Derry was reclining on a sofa and while there he dozed and from this time on, there was an almost off into a peaceful sleep, from which he awoke with a start to find that all of the party had departed and the outer door was ajar. Wondering what time of night and ferns, gave those present an idea of it was his hand sought his watch pocket, only to find his watch gone. He reported his case to the police and suspicion was fastened on O'Leoned, and placed him under arrest.

On the way to the police station the prisoner desired to visit an outbuilding and which was very pleasing, more especially while there he rid himself of the watch, so when any of the popular airs of the day so that when the police station was reached and he was searched nothing was found. It was not long, afterward, however, before Officer Ferguson walked into the station and turned the missing watch over to

Chiffonieres.

Convenience plays the leading role in the Chiffonieres as built today. Solid Oak with paneled ends, full size deep drawers, oxidized trimmings, bonnet box and other desirable features make them a necessity in every well regulated house.

It's only the using that proves their worth. Beautiful Chiffonieres that are easily worth $10.00, we are selling as low as $7.50.

Here you'll find the newest notions and ideas in chiffoniere comfort at prices to win your favor.

The Greenleaf Provides one of Its Best Menus for the Occasion.

How the Members Were Seated at Tables-The Speeches, Etc.

The members of the Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, were out in full force Thursday night, and seldom if ever has The Greenleaf held a party more unanimous in their praise of an bonored member and an honored order.

Mr. John W. McAnarney was until the election in December, the grand knight of Quincy council, and it was his intention that he would not sever his active official connection with the society without a gathering that would be pleasurable to himself and the order he represented, and he decided upon the banquet held.

Objects Behind Black Paper and a Board Plainly Photographed.

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 31.—Most remarkable results have been achieved by Professor periments in photographing objects behind opaque bodies by the agency of cathode rays, in which Professor W. C. Roent-F., from Operto, reports sighting a large gen of Wurzburg, Germany, has been suc-

three-masted steamer, supposed to be a cessful. Professor Wright used in his experiments a tube in which the exhaustion is carried to so high a point that the tension pressure—the so-called Crookes' tube—and onnected the poles of an induction coil A. S. Pennoyer, aged 70, brother-in-law in action. The discharge from the negative electrode of such a tube gives the cathode rays, which, it must be empha-Mr. Pennoyer was one of the oldest and sized, are almost non-luminous.

Professor Wright's experiments were made with a great variety of substances, and it was found that strong impressions were obtained upon a photographic plate, even when it was enclosed in an opaque wrapping of black paper and covered with a pine board half an inch thick. It was evident at the outset that the order of transparency of different subjects for the light rays was very different from that which is found with the cathode rays.

Thus pieces of glass were more opaque guished, and in one of the experiments of Professor Wright an aluminium medal left its impress on the plate so clearly as to show both the design and lettering. In this latter case the layer between the medal and the sensitive plate was absolutely opaque ebonite, which is the substance used by photographers to darken completely the plate-holder.

In other experiments which were made by Professor Wright, with pine board inerposed, a closed paper box, containing aluminium grain weights, left a trace upon the plate which appeared as though the box was almost transparent, and the weights themselves somewhat translucent. An ordinary lead pencil, lying near the box upon the interposed board, showed its graphite core by a darker trace in the middle of the fainter impress of the wood Another paper box contained, imbedded in cotton, three small spheres, one of platinum, one of brass and one of aluminium. In this case, also, the box and cotton appeared so nearly transparent as to leave but a slight impression on the plate. The brass and the platinum spheres intercepted a large portion of the cathode rays, the aluminium sphere a much smaller proportion. A number of American coins -silver, copper and nickel-produced strong impressions, showing almost complete interception of the rays; but there were differences, the copper coins transmitting more than the nickel, and the Nickel More Than the Silver. In an earlier experiment a somewhat thinner board or white wood was used, the plate being wrapped in black paper as before. On this board was laid a pocketbook of dark Russian leather, with several flaps of leather within, and containing seven cards, two of them thick. A number of small coins were slipped into the inside compartment of the book, which was then closed and laid on the board under the tube. On the plate, when developed, only a faint shading was left by Wrangling Over Nationality.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 31.—Both of the branches of the Kentucky legislature yesterday considered a resolution offered asking Congressman Hunter, candidate for the United States senate, to prove his eligibility to that body. Dr. Hunter was born in Ireland, and came to this country when a boy. Senator Bennett said that he had the naturalization papers of Dr. Hunter in his pocket, and knew that they were all right. He characterized restrictions so far as they may apply re-ferred to in the deeds of Abner L. Baker to the introduction of the resolution of the introduction of the resolution in the senate as an insult to Dr. Hunter.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Feb. 2. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.—Laborers together with God.—I. Cor. iii, 6-23. (Christian Endeavor day.)

This topic is a very appropriate one for the fifteenth anniversary of the origin of the Christian Endeavor movement. Fifteen years ago there were two societies and 64 members. Today there are 41,000 societies, with a membership of 2,000,000. Such a marvelous growth can only be accounted for by acknowledging the hand of God to have been in the origin and propagation of this great movement. Yet God used the hands of men to carry forward His work. It has been a divine human movement. The hand of God and the hand of man were both in it. In this great movement, as in all similar ones, God and man worked together as colaborers. Men must always be "laborers together with God" if their work is successful. This is the fact that Paul emphasizes in the topical reference. It is a fact that the most successful Christian workers have always admitted and emphasized. Nothing testifies more strongly to the eminent Christian character of Rev. Francis E. Clark, D. D., the special colaborer used by God in this great movement, than the fact that he has always recognized the hand of God in the movement and has emphasized that fact. In this respect we should all emulate the example of the great apostle and the leader of this wonderful young people's movement. If we are successful in our labors, we should attribute it to God, for it is not by might nor by power that the Lord's work is done, but by His Spirit. Paul may plant, Apollos may water, but God alone can give the increase. "Not unto us, not unto us, but unto Thee, O Lord, be honor and glory," should be our motto in all the successes of life.

Although God is the principal and necessary worker, still man's work is also necessary and important. The planting and the watering must be done in order that by the blessing of God the increase may come. We should not think because God is the important one in spiritual work that we can be careless and indifferent.

The fact that we are "laborers together with God" should increase our zeal and earnestness. What an honor to be a colaborer with God! It means success, for God never fails. It means fellowship and partnership with the King of Kings and Lord of Lords. It means encouragement, reward, happiness and usefulness. Let us strive then, stimulated by the successes of the past, to go forward in the future, still trusting in God, in such a way that though colaborers with God we shall be workmen who need not be ashamed.

Bible Readings .- Gen. v, 29; Il Chron. xxxi, 20, 21; Neh. vi, 15, 16; Ps. xc, 16, 17; Prov. xvi, 3; Isa. xxvi, 12; Zech. iv, 6; Math. xxviii, 18-20; Acts xiv, 2-4; I Cor. xv, 10, 58; II Cor. iii, 5, 6; vi, 1; Gal. vi, 9, 10; Phil. ii, 12-16; iv, 13.

Another Indorsement.

The latest denomination to make Christian Endeavor its official young people's society is the African M. E. Zion church. The board of bishops at its conference in St. Louis unanimously passed a resolution indorsing the Y. P. S. C. E. and making Christian Endeavor the denominational young people's society. The board also recommended that Christian Endeavor societies be organized in every church throughout the A. M. E. Zion connection.

The Lighthouse of Life.

He competent druggist. has recently heard from his Japanese friend in a letter, where he says of the Bible, "It is the lighthouse of my life."

Removing the Briers.

We, who are so careful to remove the briers from our pathway for fear they should inflict a wound, yet, strange as it may seem, give no thought to the many wounds we inflict in other hearts by collecting and piercing them with the thorns that meet us in our daily intercourse with each other.-Catholic Universe.

Greater Than Faith. Love is greater than faith because the end is greater than the means. What is the use of having faith? It is to connect the soul with God. And what is the use of being connected with God? It is to become like God, for "God is love."-Henry Drummond.

Christian Endeavor Notes. Wallflowers are an arctic growth. They cannot flourish in Christian Endeavor atmosphere.

Something for every one to do, and not too much for any one to do, is a good social committee maxim. All the young peoples' societies

Richmond have united for the purpose of distributing good literature to the city institutions, hospitals, barber shops, railway stations, etc. The young people of the Lutheran church in Illinois are sending out their own missionary to Africa, Mr. Will M. Beck of Lancaster, O. The first Floating society of Christian Endeavor in Oregon has been organized in Portland and is now prospering. Many of the seamen have returned wearing Christian Endeavor pins. Sectional unions of Christian Endeavor are being agitated for India. Owing to the diversity of languages, a national union is not advisable just now. One St. Louis society is furnishing scrapbooks to hospitals and jails through its good literature committee. These are prepared at the homes of the member: and consist of helpful clippings from religious papers.
